Commonwealth underlines joint action

LIMASSOL (AP) - Partiamentarians from Commonwealth member LIMASSOL (AP) — Partiamentarians from Commonweath memori states: Tuesday urged joint action to confront major international problems, like human rights violations, environmental hazards and poverty. The call was made by several speakers at the inaugural session of the annual conference of the Commonwealth Parliamentary Association, grouping Britain and its former colonies and dependencies. "I propose that we make to absolute our own Commonwealth systainable grouping striain and its former colonies and dependencies. "I propose that we work together to develop our own Commonwealth sustainable development agenda," Cyprus President Glafses Clerides told participants from 50 Commonwealth nations. "We could develop this agenda in the best tradition of commonwealth solidarity, cooperating in good faith, and considering that peace, respect for human rights, development and environmental protection are interdependent and indivisible," Mr. Clerides said. Several speakers from developing African and Asian states said the association should strive to eliminate what they called "double-standards" frequently adopted by the United Nations in dealing with standards" frequently adopted by the United Nations in dealing with international problems and the implementation of Security Council

An independent Arab political daily published by Impordan Press Foundation جوردان تايمز يومية سياسية تصدر بالإنجليزية عن للؤسسة المسطية الاربنية والرايء U.S. team on Iraq sanctions due today

AMMAN (R) — A 12-member American team will arrive in Jordan Wednesday to study the effect on the Kingdom of U.N. trade sanctions against Iraq. Officials said Jordan will ask the team, headed by senior State Department inspector David Newton, to presuade the U.N. to cancel or ease a naval inspection at Aquba and make it easier for traders to send goods to Iraq. Shippers say extensive searches of cargo vessels have raised transport fees and insurance costs and diverted millions of dollars in business to Iran, Turkey and Syria. Mohammad Jamal, head of the Figure Ministry's customs department, said local traders had to well dollars in business to Iran. Turkey and Syria. Mohammad Jamal, head of the Finance Ministry's customs department, said local traders had to wait for six to eight weeks for U.N. sanctions committee approval to send goods to Iraq while businessmen in other countries received authoritisations in a week. The U.N. committee is in charge of approving exports to Iraq under the sweeping ban imposed after Baghdad's 1990 invasion of Kuwait. All but humanitarian goods are banned for export to what was Jordan's biggest market before the Gulf war.

Volume 17 Number 5404

AMMAN WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1993, RABIE' AL AWAL 21, 1414

Price: 150 Fils

Hariri in S. Arabia to secure aid

JEDDAH (AP) — Lebanese Prime Minister Rafik Hariri ar-rived Tuesday in Sandi Arabia, the most important stop on a Gulf tour aimed at securing donations for rebuilding southern Lebanon after an Israeli offensive in July.

Mr. Hariri, accompanied by Arab League Secretary-General Esmat.

Abdul Meguid, flew in from Kuwait, which had pledged to contribute to a $500 million fund for Lebanon established after the week-long Israeli naval, aerial and ground attacks (see page 2). Saudi Arabia said it would donate $200 million. In Kuwait, Finance Minister Nasser Al Rowdhan said m reply to a question from the Associated Press that his country has decided to pay $75 million to Lebanon for the purpose.

Russia pledges to heip Azerbaljan

MOSCOW (AFP) — Russia pledged Tuesday to help war-torn Azerbaijan stabilise its economy and political situation, as the country's acting leader Geidar Aliyev announced the republic was set to join the Common-wealth of Independent States (CIS). Russian Prime Minister Viktor Chernomyrdin said Azer-: baijan was to announce its decision to join the CIS officially on Sept. 24, in an about-turn on the policies of the country's ousted President Abulfaz Elchibey. Mr. Chernomyrdin told after a meeting with Mr. Aliyev that it was "urgent" to end the five-year conflict in Azerbaijan (see page 8) which "seems to be spread the agency Itar-Tass said.

Sudan denies. flogging bishop...

KHARTOUM (R) — Sudan denied Tuesday that an Anglican bishop had been flogged in Kharguilty of adultery. Bishop Gabriel Roric, minister of state at the Foreign Ministry, told journalists the reports that Bishop Peter Birish of Khartoum had been caned were untrue. Mr. Roric called the report a lie aimed at spoiling Sudan's good name. British newspapers and media reported that Bishop Birish was given 80 lashes some weeks ago after a senior conrt convicted him in July under Islamie law, overturning an earlier acquittal. Archbishop of Canterbury George Carcy, leader of the world's Anglicans, condemned the reported flogging on Sunday, saying that if Bishop Birish was impocent, "this is particularly barbaric and inhuman treatment."

Canada to have October elections

OTTAWA (R) — Canadian Prime Minister Kim Campbell will call a national election for Oct. 25, the Canadian Press agency reported ou Tuesday. Citing unnamed sources, Canadian Press said Ms. Campbell would call the election on Wednesday. Ms. Campbell, a 46-year-old lawyer from Vancouver, took over the leadership of the ruling Conservative Party two months ago in a bid to revive its electoral chances after nine years in office under Brian Mulroney.

Amnesty urges Iraq to free detainees

LONDON (AFP) - Amnesty International Wednesday called on Iraq to release Kuwaiti and Third World nationals still unaccounted for since the end of the Gulf war and believed secretly detained in Iraq. The London-based human rights group asked Raghdad for "clarification" of the fate of the detainees, saying they had been denied all contact with the outside world" and that some of them may have been tortured or executed.

Sudan rebels claim downing helicopter

NAIROBI (AP) - Sudanese rebels Tuesday claimed they shot down a military helicopter the government carlier said had erashed, killing eight members of a high-level delegation. The claim was made in a statement distribinted to news agencies in Nairobi by the faction of the rebel Sudan Propie's Liberation Army (SPLA) loyal to John Garang. On Monday, the Sudan News Agency said a technical failure, caused the crush.

Bilaterals resume, but delegates await Israel-PLO accord

Combined agency dispatches

WASHINGTON - Arab and Israeli peace negotiators here were antiously waiting Tuesday for the Israeli-Palestinian accord to be signed at the White House next week in the hopes it will help spur their own agenda ahead.
"The Jordanian, Lebanese and Syrian delegations are waiting for the Israeli-Palestinian accord to be clinched to advance their talks here said. White House spokeswoman Dee Dee Myers said the signing of the pact "is not a done deal" but that the U.S. administration hopes that if some of the details can be worked out soon it will be signed on Monday.

with Israel," a Jordanian official

An Israeli minister said the pact with the Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO) could be signed on Sept. 13 before the Jewish new year. The 11th round of bilateral peace talks in Washington ends the following

But a State Department official, speaking on the condition of anonymity, said "no firm date has been offered" for the signing of

The agreement provides for limited Palestinian self-rule in the Gaza Strip and the West Bank But Israel and Syria got down town of Jericho and calls for to talking about swapping land

Combined agency dispatches

TUNIS - The Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO) executive committee is set to bold a crucial meeting in the Tunisian capital to decide whether to endorse the Palestinian autonomy accord thrashed out in secret with

The meeting of the decision-making body Wednesday or Thursday is likely to coincide with a landmark deal on mutual recognition between Israel and the PLO.

give PLO Chairman Yasser Arafat a boost in the debate.

Recognition by Israel would

Egyptian President Hoani

Mubarak said Tuesday after talks with Mr. Arafat that recognition could come by Thursday, and an Arab diplomat in Tunis said it could be clinched ahead of the Israeli Foreign Minister Shi-

mon Percs, meanwhile, said the "gap is no longer very wide" between the PLO and Israel.

"We are trying to iron out the last differences" before mutual recog-

The deal for autonomy starting in the Gaza Strip and the West Bank town of Jericho was struck by PLO and Israeli officials in Oslo.

Mr. Arafat's task in clinching the 18-member committee's approval has already been made easier by the resignation of two

Combined agency dispatches

SARAJEVO - Thousands of civilians are fleeing their homes throughout central Bosnia, on the run from battles between Croat forces and Bosnian government troops, U.N. officials said Tues-

while the battlefield situation was relatively calm, the effects of the recent fighting were evident: Up to 10,000 Muslim refugees crowded the town of Jabianica, while up to 2,800 Croats fled to Word of the latest refugee ex-odus came a day after U.N. officials reported claims of torture and brutality made by Muslim detainees freed last month from two Bosnian Croat detention

A U.N. High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR) field worker saw about 100 of the estimated 400 released immates.

She reported chilling tales of terror and torture, beatings and Livno.

PLO meeting.

nition, he said.

mutual PLO-Israeli recognition after decades of bitter enmity. The signing must be preceded by mutual recognition which is expected "within 24 hours," according to an Arah diplomatic source in Tunis PLO Chairman Yasser Arafat, who won the support or the neutrality of Arab parties in the peace talks on the pact secretly negoti-ated with Israel, said talks are continuing to dissolve remaining barriers to mutual recognition. A source close to the Israeli delegation in Washington said that "one must strike while the iron is hot" to ensure that there is no time for it to be undermined by the vociferous opposition to it.

Ms. Myers said President Bill

Clinton had offered to host a Sept. 13 signing ceremony at the "If they get the details worked

Israeli and Palestinian delegates said they, too, were hopeful of a signing next week. Pending the outcome of the Israel-PLO talks in the Mideast, the nego-tiators Tuesday discussed the Palestinian self-government agreement in general terms and said they did not talk about how

PLO executives to decide on self-rule members opposed to the deal.

Another two members, from the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine and the Democratic Front for the Liberation of Palestine, said they would boycott the meeting. With a fifth member, Elias Khouri, seriously ill in Amman, the meeting could be reduced to an attendance of 13. But Palestinian officials said Bishop Khouri

Most of those likely to take part in the meeting are considered close to Mr. Arafat.

A heated debate is forecast, particularly if committee mem-bers accuse Mr. Arafat of striking a deal with Israel to renounce violence in exchange for recogni-

Such a deal would spell the end of the six-year-old Palestinian np-rising in the occupied territories. Mr. Arafat has already won support for the autonomy accord from his Fatch faction, the largest group in the PLO, after stormy talks which ended Saturday. But he failed to muster unanimous

Farouk Kaddoumi, a top Fateh official and Executive Committee member, said three out of 12

Fatch leaders rejected the accord. The others backed it on condition the deal be submitted to the 100-member Palestine random shootings, bestial living conditions and inmates drinking

UNHCR spokesman Ray Wilkinson, who relayed the reports on Monday, said the agency's field representative had urged that "the strongest pressure be placed on Bosman Croat authorities' regarding the breaches of

Croatian President Franco

Tudjman sent a letter Monday to

Mate Boban, the Bosnian Croat leader he has supported, urging him to "respect human dignity in all your actions, to respect basic human rights and values, and to most strictly apply international war and humanitarian law."

former detainees that up to 2,500 men, including teenagers, remained in one Croat camp at Dretelj, south of Mostar. The .

prisoners are kept in five hangars and two ammunition storage tunnels in barbaric conditions, the freed Muslims said.

UNHCR officials were told by international law.

their own urine to survive.

The Exeuctive Committee last analysts said.

backing.

Central Council

could yield to pressure to attend.

Israeli and Syrian negotiators are trying to reach a joint state-ment of principles setting ont the goal of their talks, and were taking another stah Tuesday at a paragraph that calls for Israel to cede land in return for a Syrian commitment to make peace. Syria wants Israel to return the strategically located Golan Heights.

Chief Syrian negotiator Mnwaffaq Al Allaf shied away from predicting progress "unless we see a sudden change in the position of Israel." He said he would welcome U.S. assistance in resolving the impasse.

Asked about reports that Israel will begin to pull out of the Druze area of Majdal Shams on the Golan, Mr. Allaf replied, "this is a joke, It's not very funny."

Secretary of State Warren
Christopher has been trying to ont, we've offered that date," she advance the Israel-Syrian track, and a diplomatic source said he might make another trip to the region next month.
The United States, which did not play an active role in the secret accord reached last month between Israel and the PLO, has been much more involved in Israel's talks with Syria, Jordan and Lebanon.

met between Aug. 26 and 28,

when after a stormy debate it gave Palestinian delegates to the Middle East peace talks in Washington the green light to negotiate the "Gaza-Jericho

That was before Israel and PLO leaders revealed they had already agreed on the outline

It has since won approval from Jordan and the Gulf Arabs, as well as Egypt. Syria has said it would not oppose the deal, while Lebanon criticised the Palestinians for not consulting their Arab partners in Middle East main players behind the autonomy deal, was in Tunis Tuesday.

The other Executive Committee members were expected to arrive at the PLO headquarters ou

Wednesday or Thursday. In Cairo on Tuesday, Mr. Arafat also was evasive on when the self-rule acord could be signed.

set," he said at a press conference. "There are only suggestions." He was responding to a question on whether a signing ceremony was set for next Mon-

But David Sultan, Israel's

amhassador to Egypt, said the accord would be signed on Monday regardless of whether the recognition exchange had occur-

"UNHCR recommends that the strongest pressure be exerted on the Bosnian Croat authorities at the highest level regarding these reported grave breaches of international humanitarian law conducted at Drecelj and Gabe-

The besieged capital of Sarajevo may run out of fuel at the weekend because fighting between Croats and Muslims has forced a five-truck fuel convoy headed for the Bosnian capital to turn back," Mr. Wilkinson said.

days near the town of Gornji

Vakuf in central Bosnia, was forced to retreat all the way to the Bosnia-Croatia border town of clarified and improved we will not move it," Mr. Wilkinson said.

week between 1,800 and 2,800. Croats had fied fighting around the Croat-held town of Vares, north of Sarajevo, and crossed

Mr. Wilkinson said in the past

"Until the security situation is Metkovic.

The convoy, held up for several la." Mr. Wilkinson said.

Thousands flee Bosnia battles; atrocities reported day, as has been reported.

"No final official date has been

Mahmoud Abbas, one of the first" option.

peace talks.

(Continued on page 10)

King, Major review Mideast peace process

AMMAN (J.T.) — His Majesty King Hussein and British Prime Minister Jnhn Major Tuesday held talks on the latest developments in the Middle East peace process, the Jordan News Agency, Petra, reported from London.

Petra said that during the meeting, held at 10 Downing Street, King Hussein reaffirmed his support for the "independent Palestinian decision taken recently by the Palestinian leadership and voiced hope that the decision would contribute to meeting the aspirations of the Palestinian people and enabling them to restore their legitimate rights ou their national soil."

The King was referring to the recent agreement between Israel and the Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO) on a plan for Palestinian autonomy in the occupied territories pending negotiations on the final status of the territories.

"The King also expressed hope that (the agreement) will help achieve a just and comprehensive peace in the Middle East," Petra

The King, who is on a private visit to London, held talks with British Foreign Secretary Douglas Hurd on Monday, shortly before Mr. Hurd left ou a visit to the United Arab Emirates and Sandi

Hurd urges Gulf states to mend PLO fences

ABU DHABI (Agencies) — politically, morally and financial-British Forcign Secretary Douglas Hurd urged the Gulf Arah states on Tuesday to end their rift with the Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO) as Palestinian leader Yasser Arafat arrived in Oman for his first trip to the region since the Gulf war.

Mr. Hurd, who had talks on the Middle East with United Arab Emirates (UAE) leaders, said he expected the wealthy Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) nations to join a proposed interna-tional aid package for Palesti-

"The Israel-PLO antonomy agreement needs financial aid to work. We are already giving but we should give more now," be told reporters.

"We in the European Community (EC) expect from GCC countries to contribute to the aid programme to the Palestinians despite their differences. But I think it is time for them to reconcile because the situation has changed." Mr. Arafat, the PLO chairman, arrived in Oman Tuesday on his first Gulf visit since he angered regional states by supporting Iraq during the occupa-

A Gulf-based PLO envoy said Mr. Arafat would not visit other GCC members but would brief Snltan Qaboos on the Gaza-Jericho first deal with Israel and would ask him to mediate an end to the current rift. "We need Gulf states at this delicate stage. We need them

Bosnian Serb lines to safety.

They were taken by bus and truck to Livno in Croat-held western

Bosnia, and two elderly women died during the gruelling, 48-bour

In addition, Mr. Wilkinson said his agency was receiving reports from central Bosnia of "hundreds, possibly thousands" of Croats and Muslims moving across the patchwork of frontlines around the central town of Foini-

ca. heading to areas held by their va last week when Serbs and Croats refuged to give Muslims more land in the proposed division of Bosnia into three ethnie states. Under the plan, Muslims, who comprised 43 per cent of the pre-war population, would get 31 per cent of the land, Serbs 52 per

In Stockholm, Sweden, U.N.

mediator Thorvald Stoltenberg said Tuesday he believed the peace talks must resume, and cent and Croats 17 per cent.

Peace talks collapsed in Gene-journey, he said.

ethnic brethern.

"We do not only want them to join the international aid programme for Gaza but we want to sit together and discuss our needs and their needs," he said. "It is time that we have a direct channel to outline the future relationship as we press ahead with the peace moves with the Israelis."

Mr. Hurd, who was flying to Saudi Arabia late Tuesday, said he had discussed Arab reconciliation with UAE President Sheikh Zayed Ben Sultan Al Nahayan. He also discussed aid for the Palestinians but "without any specifics."

"I have not seen any specific figures on such aid," he said. "It is too early to be specific. But the EC has long realised the needs of Palestinians and we are going to widen the aid programme now."
The official UAE news agency

WAM said earlier Foreign Minister Rashid Abdullah and Mr. Hurd discussed the Middle East and the Gulf. "The two sides welcomed the Palestinian-Israeli accord on Gaza and Jericho as a first step within the framework of a comprehensive settlement of the Palestinian problem," the agency

"They expressed support for the peace process and hoped it imprehensive settlement of the Arab-Israeli conflict

soon, in order to prevent "incredible suffering."

Bosnia's President Alija Izetbegovic, a Slavic Muslim, prepared to address the U.N. Security Council in New York on Tuesday to discuss the stalled peace

In an interview for Bosnian radio on Monday night, Mr. Izetbegovic promised a critical analysis of the U.N. role in the 17-

"They claim that they do not want to interfere in the conflict. I will tell them that they have interfered in the conflict in a negative way," Mr. Izetbegovic

"They interfered because ..

they tied the hands of the person under attack, and then walked away," he said, referring to the arms embargo on ex-Yngoslavia. That move froze a military imbalance that favoured Bosnian Serbs, who had the hardware of the Yugoslav army.

month war.

(Continued on page 3)

Arafat in Oman seeking to end rift

MUSCAT — Palestinian leader Yasser Arafat arrived Tuesday in Oman on his first visit to the Gulf since the 1991 war for talks on the Palestinian antonomy deal and healing his rift with the region's

Mr. Arafat was to brief Oman's ruler Sultan Qaboos Ben Sai'd in Salaich, 1,000 kilometres south of Muscat, on the Israel-PLO deal for autonomy starting in the Gaza Strip and West Bank town of Jericho, officials said.

It was his first visit to the Gulf since be was ostracised by the region's oil-rich Arab monarchies for supporting Iraq after the inva-sion of Knwait.

Sultan Qaboos was expected to inform Mr. Arafat of his support for the accord, which he hoped would lead to a lasting and global peace in the Middle East, the officials said. The veteran PLO leader met Egyptian President Hosni Mubarak earlier in Cairo in a bid to clinch mutual recognition by Israel and the PLO.

President Mubarak predicted that the PLO and Israel would recognise each other within two

The six-member Gulf Cooperation Council, led by Saudi Ara-bia, has given the proposed antonomy accord its blessing but stressed it must be "a first step towards reaching a just, lasting and comprehensive settlement." But relations between the Gulf Arab countries and the PLO have been frosty ever since Mr. Arafat supported Iraq after its Ang. 2, 1990 invasion of Knwait.

Sultan Qaboos sometimes has played the role of intermediary between feuding Arab parties, and might help ease Mr. Arafat's return to favour in the Gulf

But so far, there has been no sign that the Palestinian leader will visit any other Gulf nations. Although far from the Arab-Israeli front line, the Gulf states have financed the economies of Israel's immediate foes and were once major contributors to the PLO. They cut off support during the Gulf crisis, plunging the orga-nisation into crisis.

Oman, the only Gulf country to support the late Egyptian Pres-ident Anwar Sadat when be launched his peace initiative with Israel in 1977, has praised the Palestinian-Israeli deal effusively.

Oman supports and welcomes the Palestinian-Israeli agreement, which will lead to an Israeli withdrawal from Gaza and Jericho as a first step towards setting up a Palestinian authority in the land of Palestine," said Foreign Minister Yousef Ben Alawi. Mr. Ben Alawi praised the "courage" of the PLO leadership, particularly Mr. Arafat for taking responsibility for the

Mr. Mubarak told reporters after his 90-minute meeting with the PLO chairman that consultations still are under way among Israel, the PLO and the United States to resolve obstacles in the way of a mutual recognition between the organisation and

We hope it could be achieved within 48 hours," Mr. Mubarak Mutual recognition between Israel and the PLO was expected as early as last week, but has been

(Continued on page 10)

Israeli rightists stage anti-accord protest

Combined agency dispatches

TEL AVIV — Thousands of right-wing Israelis converged on the prime minister's office late Tuesday to protest the autonomy accord drawn np between Israel and the Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO), police said. A number of demonstrators which they intended to set alight, were arrested at the start of the demonstration, police said.

monstrators, who planned an allmight vigil, to march around the offices of Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin, chanting "Rabin, go home" and slogans against auton-omy for the Palestinians in the West Bank and Gaza Strip. Israel and the PLO announced

West Bank.

The Israeli right-wing has mobilised against the deal, and with torch-lit processions.

Around 2,500 officers armed monstrators to go ahead but will use all means to prevent disorder or efforts to block access to the offices of the prime minister," Mr. Shahal said.

charged the autonomy deal would lead to a Palestinian state and organised by Mr. Rabin's Labour Party, the left-wing Meretz, its ruling coalition ally, and the Peace Now movement.

and for schools to stay closed on Tuesday, but the education ministry warned that teachers who stayed away from work

Palestinian shot dead

Israeli soldiers shot dead a 22-year-old Palestinian activist in the carrying firecrackers and tyres, Police have anthorised the delast week they had drawn np an autonomy deal for the Gaza Strip and the town of Jericho, on the

Tuesday's demonstration was organised by the right-wing opposition Likud Party and organisations of Jeiwsh settlers in the occupied territories, who claimed 200,000 demonstrators would come to "lay siege" to the office with water cannons were posted around the premier's office and a helicopters also deployed. "The police will allow the de-

The opposition Likud Party has 'threaten' the existence of On Saturday, tens of thousands of supporters of the deal demonstrated in Tel Aviv. The rally was

Settlers' leaders called a strike would be punished.

occupied Gaza Strip on Tuesday after he hurled a grenade as them and opened fire, Palestinians

The dead man, Adel Monsa, was a member of the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine (PFLP), which opposes the proposed accord between Israel and the PLO.

The army also arrested an activist in PLO Chairman Yasser Arafat's mainstream Fateh faction who had been shot by other PFLP opponents to the agreement, Palestinians said. The army was checking both reports. There were no reports of any Israeli injuries. The death raised the number killed in the nearly six-year-old Palestinian nprising to 1,122

Palestinians and 143 Israelis. The PFLP and other groups have pledged to undermine the 'Play by own rules'

Palestinian police will play by their own rules when they take over security in the turbulent Gaza Strip, Mr. Rabin said. "I prefer the Palestinians to be in charge of keeping the peace in Gaza," a stronghold of Islamic fundamentalists opposed to the autonomy deal with Israel, he told a meeting of his Labour Party. "Maybe they'll do it better than us." The prime minister made the comments at a meeting in Rishon Le Zion, a suburb of Tel Aviv. on Monday night, according to Tues-day's Yediot Aharonot newspap-"Don't worry, there will be no appeals to the supreme court, and the human rights association won't go there to investigate;" he said. The Palestinians "have their He also donounced right-wing accusations that the Israel-PLO autonomy accord turn the clock back to the era of the Nazi holocaust. "I'm ashamed when I hear leaders of the Likud and far-right comparing our current situation to the holocaust era," be said. "How can you tell Jews, with an army like ours, that the Palestinians threaten our exist-

Islamists seem to opt for rhetorics against autonomy

By Neil MacFarquhar The Associated Press

JABALIYA CAMP, Occupied Gaza Strip — Wall slo-gans signed hy Islamic activists scream for Jewish hlood, and prayer leaders expose the gun as the only way to achieve a Palestinian state.

But Islamic activists in groups like Hamas and Islamic Jihad appear divided about whether bullets for just violeot words will defeat the plan to start Palestinian antonomy in the Gaza Strip and the West Bank city of Jericho.

A minority argues that a guerrilla campaign against Israel and the Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO).

The others, while oot ruling out guns entirely, think the limited scope of the plan comhined with the corruption that has long plagued the PLO will sink PLO Chairman Yasser Arafat's plans for Gaza.

They could then use their already formidable strength in the fetid alleyways of the refugee camps to win at the

"Seven years ago the Islamic groops had few supporters in Gaza. Now they have at least 50 per cent," said Dr. Saud Shawa, a 37-year-old veterinarian and Hamas supporter. "In the end the ooly realistic alteroative is an Islamie

A few scuffles and scattered gunshots are the only violence to date. But threats hover

Banners say things like "to the sellers of Palestine: The bullet that shot at the heart of Sadat will be shot at your hearts." It refers to the 1981 assassination of Egyptian Pres-ident Anwar Sadat after he signed a peace treaty with Wall slogans, the Gaza equivalent of a town crier, scream: "We doo't recognise Gaza and Jericho and we will cootinue slaughtering the Jews until the last drop of our hlood.'

It's in sermons, too. "The solotion will come through the gun," Dr. Jasim Muttawa, a pediatrician, told followers at Izzedine Al Qassem mosque:

Io an interview, Dr. Muttawa said he would rally opponeots by stressing the plan's flaws, not violence.

"We will resist fragmenting the Palestinian people," he While Israel and the PLO have agreed on the plan's details, expected recognition be-tween Israel and the PLO is delaying its signing. Autorities are hracing for violence both from Islamic activists and from militant Jewish nationalists who think the plan betrays the Bihlical vision of "greater Israel."

Arab rejectionists attack the delay in discussing the status of Sheikh Muttawa said about 10 per cent of the Islamic leaders preach violence, with an unwritten consensus among 90 per ceot that mosque rallies were enough to educate people against the plan.

"We are not talking about demonstrations," Sheikh Mot-tawa said. "Demonstrate against who?"

Instead, they make fun of the PLO.
"Now everything has changed, even the name of the PLO. Now it's the Gaza liberatioo organisation," said Mr.

Islamic activists know they are battliog three factors. First, Mr. Arafat retains hero status - a new brand of shampoo released this week in Gaza was even oamed after his wife,

Second, Israel's sealing the territories last March means the unemployment rate among the 800,000 Gazans hovers around 70 per cent. There are high hopes that peace will bring development jobs. Third, no ooe wants Israel soldiers around. But more than an Israeli withdrawal, the agreement speils out that the Palestinians will stop attacks on Israel. That in anticipation of his return home. The Internation al Red Cross informed the 396 exiles in southern Lebanon 189 of them would be able to return starting Thursday (AFP photo)

goes against the basic strategy of Islamic groups.

"The Islamic opposeots established a clear red line. They said, 'Go ahead and sign the agreement. We are not going to cut off your hands'," said Adnan Salim, a former activist. "But in return you are not going to stop us from continuing our armed struggle."

The return of the 400 Palestinians exiled to the border with Lebanon since last December, expected to start this week, will boost Islamic activists' cause.

Islamic said they will get support from other movements in Algeria, Egypt and Iran.

"Everyone thinks Arafat is not eotitled to negotiate over Palestine because this piece of land does not belong to him only, but to all Muslims," said Mr. Salim.

Fighters say they will shoot anyone who blocks them, iocluding a Palestinian police force - Palestioians have already killed more than 750 fellow Arabs suspected of collaboration during the six-year oprisiog against Israel's Mainstream PLO supporters say that won't happeo.

"The Palestioians are very violent, but against occupation, not against a legal authority," said Tawfiq Manoo PLO backer io Jabaliya. said Tawfig Mahbou, a So far, derision is the main tool of Islamic parties.

In a recent prayer speech detailing 10 reasons why good Muslims should reject the plan, Sheikh Muttawa thundered, "God promised para-dise for Mohammad and his followers. He did not promise them Gaza and Jericho."

Shukaki: Arafat could start civil war

DAMASCUS (R) — Palestinian Islamic hardliners plan to keep fighting Israel regardless of a proposed peace deal, and if they clash with other Palestinians the blame will he with Yasser Arafat. one of their exiled leaders says.

"We will avoid any clash with any Palestinian. We will direct our attention just at the Israeli occupatioo." Fathi Shukaki, who was expelled by Israel in 1988 for told Reoters Television.

"We will continue our struggle through intifada, through armed struggle and through any other means,' said Mr. Shukaki, secretary-general of the Islamic Jihad movement io Palestine.

But he added: "They (the Israelis) are counting on Arafat to put an eod to the intifada. This is the first test he must perform to show them he is the man for the

Mr. Arafat's "Gaza-Jericho first" peace deal would include creation of. a Palestinian police force in areas allowed interim self-rule. "We are against civil war, but we fear the other side. Arafat and his group might start some kind of civil war," Mr. Shukaki said. Mr. Arafat has sold his soul for the sake of his body. He has sold his soul io return for the deal." The Islamic Jihad Movement in Palestine, created in 1981 operates mainly in the Israelioccupied territories hut is smaller than the Palestinian Liberatioo Organisation's (PLO) main fundamentalist rival, Hamas.

It opposes all peace talks and seek the whole of pre-1948 Palestine as the territory of an independent Arah staté.

Mr. Shukaki called the proposed PLO-Israel deal "a crime."
"It is against the Koran, against Islamie law, and mutual recognition between Israel and the PLO will lead to the Israeli domination of the whole regioo,

But he distanced his group from assassination threats against things worse," he said.

Israel ponders a great taboo — a Palestinian state the taboo on Israel recognising the Palestine Liheratioo Organisation (PLO) has been lifted, the idea of an iodependeot eratioo.

Palestinian state is taking increas- Only ing shape here, Officially the government is maintaining Israel's traditional resistance to such a state, and Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin voices opposition daily.

But he has agreed to hear Palestinian demands during negotiations on a permanent settlement to the Palestinian question. Those negotiations are set to start with the third year of Palestinian autonomy and some people have decided the time has would sooo travel to Libya to meet with two Libyan nationals suspected of carrying out the 1988

Lockerbie bombing. Mr. Duff, 39, told the British Press Association he had been

Libya with Lord Macaulay of Bragar, also a Scottish lawyer,

Mr. Legwell and Mr. Duff had

Mr. Duff also confirmed a report by the daily paper the Scots-man that he and Lord Macaulay had met with Libyan representatives in Brussles in mid-August.

The British government

guaranteed Libya Sunday that the two suspects would receive a fair

The United States, Britain and

Aug. 13 to extradite the two men by Oct. 1.

American Boeing 747 above the Scottish village of Lockerbie left 270 people dead on Dec. 21,

Mr. Duff told Scottish Television he had agreed to represent

The explosion oo board a Pan trial if extradited to Britain.

within two or three weeks."

met in Scotland on Aug. 4.

Scottich lawyer to meet

Libya Lockerbie suspects

LONDON (Agencies) — Scottish the men after meeting Mr. Leg-lawyer Alistair Duff has said he well in Edioburgh's Balmoral contacted by Libyan lawyer Ibra-him Legwell and would go to meet Abdul Baset Ali Moham-already come to thrash out the

TEL AVIV (AFP) - Now that agreement with the PLOs which Israel hopes will be signed next week, "leads to the establishment of an Israeli-Palestinian confed-

> "Such a confederation will enable both peoples to live in peace, side by side," Mr. Zvilli told

Only separate stat join a con-

Avraham Burg, the Labour Party chairman of the parliamentary education committee, back-'the Palestinians' right to selfdetermination (which leads) to the creation of independent states neighbouring Israel."

"I support such a state, provided it does not affect Israel's Labour Party General Secret- Sunday of Labour Party "doves." ary Nissim Zvilli declared Mon- 'Mr. Rabin's ruling Labour Parday that the historic autonomy ty recognised the "national hotel three weeks ago. Mr. Legwell's visit was the result of inquiries by a London law firm advising the Libyans, mad Al Mewgrahi and Al Amin Khalifa Fhimah as soon as possible, probably within the next 14

would not confirm a Sunday newspaper report that a secret deal had been signed with Libya to bring the two accused men for

The British Foreign Office

Mr. Duff said he planned to go

Mr. Duff added.

trial in Scotland.

rights" of the Palestinians for the first time in its 1991 manifesto, seven months before last year's elections were held.

Even Israel's ambassador in Washington, Itamar Rabinovich, admitted Sunday that the autonomy accord could lead to a Palestinian state, but that the question remained in suspense for the five years of autonomy until a permanent settlement is sorted out.

"We know full well that the Palestinians want a state," he With the PLO and Israel expected shortly to sign a declaration of mutual recognition to end three decades of enmity, another taboo, the future of Jerusalera, is now also being increasingly aired in public.

Deputy Foreign Minister Yossi Belin rode into the breech on Sunday declaration that Arah East Jerusalem should be made an "autonomous quarter" as part of a permanent settlement.

"The town could thus remain untied on the urban and administrative level with the Jewish population tied politically to Israel and the Arab population to the Palestinian entity which will be created," he said.

But no one has yet dared to raise the final toboo: The right of return for Palestinian refugees from the war of 1948 when the United Nations says 726,000 left thier homes.

There is a general consensus among Israelis that the return of so many refugees -- some two the United Nations - would threaten the existence of the Jewish state.

Hariri close to securing reconstruction funds is close to securing the $500 mil-lioo promised by Arab states to rebuild the country after ferocious Israeli bombardmeots in the last week of July, Lebanese officials said.

The United Arah Emirates (UAE) has promised to give $75 million towards the $500 in aid promised by the Arah League to help rehuild Lehanon, a Lebanese official said here.

Lebanese Prime Minister Rafik Al Hariri said he had held "fruitful" talks with UAE President Sheikh Zayed Ben Sultan Al

The aid, promised at an Arab League meeting at the end of July, is also aimed at rebuilding

A Foreign Office spokesman the Lebanese army.

Mr. Hariri has so far secured said: "We have given the Libyans a series of detailed assurances around $150 million from several about a fair trial in Scotland and Arab countries and was expected to obtain nearly $300 million when the treatment of the two men France had warned Libya on after they have been surrenhe visits Kuwait and Saudi Arabia Tuesday and Wednesday. The remaining $50 million will

He was responding to the Sunday Post which reported: "Every last detail of the plan to hring the men here has now been signed by the two governments."

with Egypt and Syria donating $10 million each. Britain and the United States bi late Sunday, Sheikh Zayed pledged to pay $75 million while Bahrain, Oman and Qatar have say the two were responsible for planting the Pan Am bomh.

ABU DHABI (AFP) - Lehanon already promised around $54 mildelegation said Mr. Hariri was expected to get around $200 million from Saudi Arabia.

The prime minister has visited several Arab League states with the league's secretary general, Esmat Abdul Meguid, to secure the promised funds. He flew to Kuwait late Monday before visiting Saudi Arabia. Addressing the Lebanese com-munity in Abu Dhabi Monday, Mr. Hariri appeared to be less critical of the Israeli-Palestinian agreement to grant Palestinians limited aotonomy in the Gaza Strip and Jericho. "Arabs are divided between supporters and opponents of the agreement but there is no absolute opposition. We should not take any hasty opinion against any agreement and we hope that accord will positively affect Lebanoo.'

But he maintained the Palestine Liheration Organisation (PLO) had oot consulted with Lehanon and other Arab states bordering Israel.

Mr. Hariri said Lebanon would only negotiate with Israel through the peace talks io Washington.

China keeps up war of words in ship affair

HONG KONG (AFP) — China is keeping up its war of words on the Yinhe incident, Monday with the official Xinhua news agency sending two dispatches in short order condemning the United

In the first story, monitored here, it quoted a stinging attack by China's leading newspaper on Washington, which said the United States must be held responsihle for "all the consequences" of charging that a Chinese ship was carrying hanned chemicals to

The second story covered verbatim a statement by the Foreign Affairs Committee of the National People's Congress which ac-cused the United States of 'grooodless accusatioos," sending vessels and aircraft "to harass the ship ...and wilfully spread slanderous rumours."

The United States had "grossly infringed upon China's sovereignty and violated the right to freedom of navigation on the high seas and brutally trampled on international law and the corms guiding international relations," Xinhua quoted the statement as

But "the U.S. scheme has ended in failure before the ironclad facts," it added.

The statement also reiterated Peking's demand for a poblic apology and restitution for alleged economic losses.

Earlier Xinhua had quoted the newspaper as saying "the wrong-doing of the United States in the Yinhe incident has cast a dark shadow over sino-U.S. rela-

The article, estitled "U.S. conduct on the Yinhe incident," was carried by the People's Daily in its Tuesday edition.

The People's Daily article, accused the United States of violating international law and said without elahoration that Washingtoo must "be held fully responsible for all the consequ-

It also repeated Foreign Minis-try calls Sunday for a formal

NEWS IN BRIEF

Arafat to have homes in Gaza and Jericho

CAIRO (AFP) - Yasser Arafat plans to have homes in Jericho and the Gaza Strip after the autonomy deal is signed with Israel, the Egyptian news agency reported Tuesday. Mr. Arafat told Egyptian newspaper editors Monday night that he would have a permanent residence in Jericho on the West Bank and a temporate one in Gaza City, the Middle East News Agency said. The Palestine Liberation Organisation chairman said he had chosen Jericho because even though it was a small town, he would be "closer to all the Palestinians still living under Israeli occupation."

UNHCR prepares for return of 3.8m Afghans

GENEVA (AFP) — The United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR) embarks next week on a trip to prepare for the return of some 3.8 million Afghan refugees, a UNHCR spokesman said Tuesday. Sadako Ogata is scheduled to leave Monday on a nine-day voyage to Iran. Afghanistan — including the Afghan capital Kabul — and Pakistan, spokesman Santiago Romero-Perez said. The refugees who fled the protracted conflict between a Soviet backed government and guerrillas constitute the largest single group of exiles currently benefiting from UNHCR assistance, the Spokesman said. Some have been refugees as long as 14 years. Afghan rebels toppled the Kabul government in April 1992 after 14 years of civil war. There are an estimated 2.3 million Afghan refugees in Iran and another 1.5 million io Pakistan. Whigh in Iran, Ms. Ogata is also to discuss the problem of refugees from neighbouring Iraq and the former Soviet republic of Azerbaijan, Mr. Romero-Perez said.

Eight killed in Algeria police raid

ALGIERS (AFP) - Eight Muslim fundameotalists were killed as they tried to escape a raid by security forces, a security service official said Monday. The group had tried to flee the raid Saturday night in Ziama Mansourah, some 300 kilometres east of Algiers, which was carried out "following information received from citizens," the official said. A machinegun, automatic pistol and home made home transfer along with two stolers tabled. citizens," the official said. A machinegim, automate pistor and home-made bomh were found along with two stolen vehicles during the operation, the official added. Among those killed were "suspected terrorists" Abdul Kader Khaled, 23. Boualem Semmoud, 43, Ayache Fennouah, 30 and a man identified only as Abdul Hafid, 28. The other four were not identified. Algerian Prime Minister Redha Malek has pledged to crackdown on extremist violence in which 200 people have died since January

France pledges help to Palestinians

PARIS (R) — Foreign Minister Alain Juppe, stressing Paris fervent support of the current Middle East peace process, said Monday that France would play a leading part in European Community economic aid to Palestinians. "We are going to play a role in leading our EC partners to increase economic and financial aid (to the West Bank and Gaza Strip) because much is at stake there." Mr. Juppe told reporters. "If the Palestinians who have there," Mr. Juppe told reporters. "If the Palestinians who have lived precariously for years see material changes to their daily lives, I believe we can be optimistic about the success of peace process," he said after talks with Palestine Liberation Organisation envoy to France Leila Chahid. Mr. Juppe said France backed "enthusiasti-cally" the process towards a proposed peace agreement between Israel and the PLO which offers Palestinians early autonomy in the occupied Gaza Strip and the West Bank town of Jericho. France itself will do all it can to help, starting with its own bilateral cooperation with the occupied areas and madame Chahid has told me how especially important were our programmes to train (Palestinian) administrators and civil servants," the minister told

Italy frees Kurdish spokesman from prison:

ROME (R) — Italy Monday released a Kurdish guerrilla representative held in a Rome prison since last Thursday. Ali Sapan, 29, a spokesman in Europe for the separatist Kurdish Labour Party (PKK), was released from Rome's Rehibbia prison after judge; decided the alleged offences for which Mr. Sapan was being held had lapsed under Italian law. Justice Minister Giovanni Conso had asked Rome's appeal court on Sunday to revoke Mr. Sapan's detention after receiving fresh documentation from the Turkish anthorities which described the allegations in depth. The Turkish authorities have said they wanted Mr. Sapan extradited on charges of subversion. Italian officials did not say whether Mr. Sapao would be extradited. Mr. Sapan was detained in central Rome on Thursday after leaving the city's foreign press cluh where he had : given a news conference on his efforts to negotiate the release of two Italian tourists currently in the hands of Kurdish separatisits.

Rushdie hints Iran may be similing stance

LONDON (AFP) - British author Salman Rushdie, who has speot four years in hiding from Muslim fundameotalists, hinted Tuesday that he believed Iran could be shifting its stance on the "fatwa" or death threat against him. In an article in the Guardian newspaper, Mr. Rushdie rebnked the British press for its "kafkaes- -que" news values which he said starved terrorism's adversaries of publicity and called for increased media sopport, "It is possible that Iran is trying to find the language that will solve the problem, for the fatwa ... is essentially a matter of Iran's internal politics: Hove are they to do what the world demands and still manage to play to the home audience as well?" Mr. Rushdie, who condemned the press here for scant coverage of his recent visit to Prague, described " bow Speaker Nateq-Nouri of the Iranian Majlis had reversed his position, saying it was not Iran's policy to have the author killed.

Germany fress two detained Algerian activists

MUNICH, Germany (AFP) — A court here Monday released in from detention two Muslim fundamentalists wanted by the Algerian authorities over a fatal airport bombing. The court said r. extradition documents submitted by Algeria did not prove that Rabah Kebir and Oussama Madani had carried out the August 1992 attack on Algiers airport, in which oine people died and 123 were wounded. Mr. Madani, 23, son of Abassi Madani, the jailed leader of the outlawed Islamic Salvation Front (FIS), and Kebir, 36, FIS overseas spokesman, were arrested in June. However, the court has still to decide whether to grant an extradition request by the military-backed government. The pair, both seeking asylum in Germany, were sentenced to death in their absence io May for their alleged part in the Bomh attack.

JORDAN TELEVISION Tel: 773111-19

| | RAMME TWO |
|-------|--------------------------------|
| 18:00 | L'histoire Chevalier de Grienx |
| 19:00 | News in French |
| 19:15 | Ushugia |
| | News in Hebrew |
| | News in Arabic |
| 21:30 | Night Court |
| 21,10 | Documentary: "Notes Sinds" |
| 22:00 | Documentary: "Notre Siede" |
| 77.70 | Advanta |
| | Askenden |

| H: 51 | Fajr(Sunrise) Duha |
|--------------|--------------------|
| 06:10 | (Sunrise) Duha |
| 2:34 | Dhuhr |
| 16:07 | 'Asr |
| 18:57 | Maghreb |
| 20:16 | Maghreb |
| | |
| | |

PRAYER TIMES

CHURCHES

| St. Mary of Nazareth Church Swe Tel. 810740 | ٤θe |
|--|-----|
| Assemblies of God Church, 632785. | Tc |
| St. Joseph Church Tel. 624590. Church of the Annunciation | Te |
| 637440, De la Salle Church Tcl. 661757 | |

USEFUL TELEPHONE NUMBERS

| AMMAN: | | |
|-------------------|--------|-------|
| Dr. Jamil Tari | f | 79471 |
| Dr. Abbas Al | Hakim | 88544 |
| | Dabbas | |
| | ished | |
| | y | |
| Ferdows phan | пасу | 77833 |
| Al Asema pha | rmacy | 63705 |
| Neiroukh pha | ппасу | 62367 |
| Al Salam pha | macy | 63677 |
| Assort opsign | nacy | 64404 |
| Shooiseni oh | umuhcy | 62764 |
| Nairouih phar | macy | 67367 |
| Naiib sharma | cy | 94767 |
| ration briefilies | ty | 67766 |
| | | |
| | | |

Yesterday's high temperatures: Amman 27.7, Aqaba 36, Humidity readings: Amman 45 per cent, Aqaba 32

NIGHT DUTY

| Shmeisani pharmaey Nairoujh pharmaey Najib pharmaey | 637660 623672 847632 |
|---|----------------------------|
| IRBID: Dr. Fayez Al Qadi Al Quds pharmacy | 248743 (—) |
| ZARQA: Dr. Hisham Huasur | 087775 |

| 623541. |
|---------------------------------------|
| Amelican Church Tel. 630851, Tel. |
| 628543. |
| Armenian Catholic Church Tel. |
| 771331. |
| Armenian Orthodox Church Tel. |
| 775261. |
| St. Ephraim Church Tel. 771751. |
| Answen International Church Tel. |
| 652526. |
| Evangelical Lutheran Church Tel: |
| 824328. |
| The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter- |
| Day Salats Tcl. 823824, 654932 |
| Church of Nazarene Tcl.675691. |
| |
| |

WEATHER

ring at low altitudes. Winds will esterly moderate to active. In

| | Min./Max. temp. |
|------------|-----------------|
| | 15 / 27 |
| Deserts | 14/31 |
| Jordan Val | lcy 21 / 34 |
| | |

EMERGENCIES Food Control Centre 637111

be given by other Arab countries,

During their talks in Abu Dha-

| | Civil Desence Department 001111 |
|----|---|
| | Civil Defence Immediate |
| | Rescue 630341 |
| | Civil Defence Emergency 199 |
| | Rescue Police 192, 621111. 637777 |
| | Can Octobra |
| | Fire Brigade 891228 |
| | Blood Bank 775121 |
| | Highway Police 843402 |
| | Traffic Police |
| | Public Security Department 630321 |
| | Hotel Complaints 605800 |
| | Price Complaints 661176 |
| | Water and Com- |
| | Water and Sewerage |
| | Complaints |
| | Amman Municipality |
| | Complaints 787111 |
| | Complaints |
| | (directory assistance) 121 |
| | Overseas Calls 010230 |
| | Central Amman Telephone |
| | Central Amman Telephone |
| | Repairs 623101 Abdali Telephone Repairs 661101 |
| ٠: | Abdali Telephone Repairs 661101 |
| | Jordan Television 773111 |
| | Radin Jordan 774111 |
| | Water Authority 680100 |
| | Jordan Electricity Authority 815615 |
| | Electric Power |
| | |
| | Company |
| | AJ FIRSK INIDIMERION V6-33200 |
| | Queen Alia Intl. Airport 08-53200 |
| | |

| vii Deletice Departuscia 001111 |
|--|
| ivil Defence Immediate |
| Rescue 630341 |
| ivil Defence Emergency 199 |
| escue Police 192, 621111, 637777 |
| ire Brigade 891228 |
| lood Bank 775121 |
| ighway Police 843402 |
| raffic Police |
| ablic Security Department 630321 |
| otel Complaints 605800 |
| ioc Compianis |
| rice Complaints 661 176 |
| ater and Sewerage |
| Complainas |
| nunan Municipality |
| Complaints 787111 |
| cicphone Information (directory assistance) |
| (directory assistance) 121 |
| verseas Calls 010230 |
| entral Amman Telephone |
| Repairs 623101 |
| Repairs 623101 bdali Telephone Repairs 661101 |
| rdan Television |
| adin Jordan774111 |
| 4911 JULUAN |
| ater Authority680100 |
| ordan Electricity Authority 815615 |
| lectric Power |
| Company |
| I Filiate intermedian (ILS3701) |

| Detence Department 001111 |
|---|
| Defeace Immediate |
| scuc 630341 |
| Defence Emergency 199 |
| uc Police 197 621111 637777 |
| uc Police 192, 621111. 637777 Brigade 891228 |
| d Bank 775121 |
| |
| way Police843402 |
| ic Police 896390 |
| Security Department 630321 |
| ! Complaints 605800 |
| Complaints 661 176 |
| r and Sewerage |
| |
| emplainas |
| nan Municipality |
| mplaints 787111 |
| phone Information |
| rectory assistance) 121 |
| seas Calls |
| seas Calls |
| moire 672101 |
| pairs 623101 La Telephone Repairs 661101 |
| u relepione repairs colloi |
| n Television 773111 |
| n Jordan 774111 |
| r Authority 680100 an Electricity Authority 815615 |
| un Electricity Authority 815615 |
| ric Power |
| mpany 636381 |
| mpany 636381 light Information 08-53200 |

FOR THE TRAVELLER QUEEN ALIA

INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT This information is supplied by Royal Jordanian (RJ) information depart-ment at the Queen Alia International Airport Tel. (08)53200-5, where it should always be verified.

ARRIVALS Royal Jordanian (RJ) Flights

Dubai (RI)

| 89:00 | Abu Dhabi (F |
|-------|------------------------|
| 10:00 | Jeddah (R |
| 19:10 | Larnaca (F |
| | Doba, Bahrain (F |
| | London (R |
| | Frankfurt (F |
| 18:25 | İstanbul (R |
| 18:30 | New York, Amsterdam (P |
| 18:30 | Brussels, Paris (R |
| | Madrid, Geneva (F |
| 19:10 | Montreal, Toronto (R |
| 19:40 | Rome (8 |
| 29:49 | Rome (R |
| 02:40 | Riyadh (R |
| | |
| | • . |
| | |

JORDAN TIMES DAILY GUIDE AND CALENDAR Other Flights (Terminai 2)

| TOTAL CALL CALL | |
|--|--|
| 09:45 Dubai (EM) | |
| 11:30 Sanaa (IY) | |
| 13:20 | |
| | |
| 13:30 Sharjah, Doha (GF) | |
| 17:00 Karachi, Damascus (PI) | |
| 20:50 Beirul (ME) | |
| TALAS BCITII (ME) | |
| 21:45 Lamaca (CY) | |
| 21:45 | |
| The street of th | |
| | |
| DEPARTURES | |
| Bows lowlender (D. P. P | |
| Royal Jordanian (RJ) Flights | |
| (Terminal 1) | |
| (.e.man () | |
| | |
| 95:09 Modrid (D 1) | |

| 11:15 11:35 11:45 11:50 12:40 20:45 21:09 21:09 21:05 21:10 | Madrid Rome Rome Berlin, London Rome Rome Tunis, Casablanca Istanbu Aqaba, Cairo Dhahran Riyadh New Delhi Madrid | ਫ਼ਫ਼ਫ਼ਫ਼ਫ਼ਫ਼ਫ਼ਫ਼ਫ਼ਫ਼ |
|--|--|-----------------------------|
| 21:18 21:18 21:39 22:00 | Rivadh (| (R) (R) (R) |
| | | |

Other Flights (Terminal 2)

Beirul (ME)

Sanaa (1Y) Jeddah (SU)

| Cairo (MS) |
|--|
| HOSPITALS |
| AMMAN: |
| Hussein Medical Centre 813813/32 |
| Allie Materialy, J. Amer. Alebour. |
| AKIICI Maicrity I Amm 227441m |
| Jabal Amman Maternity 642362 |
| Malhas, J. Amman |
| Palestine, Shmeisanl 664171/4 |
| |
| University Hospital 669131 University Hospital 845845 Al-Musshir Hospital 667227.9 |
| Al-Muscher Hospital 845845 |
| The lebenia Abder |
| The Islamic, Abdali 666127/37 |
| Al-Abli, Abdall |
| Italian, Al-Muhajreen 777101/3 |
| Al-Bashir, J. Ashrafich 775111/26 |
| Army.§Marka 891611/15 |
| Oucen Alia Hospital 602240/50 |
| ************************************** |
| CANALAN: |
| Zarqa Govt. Hospital (09)983323 |
| CAIDA NAMMON MAGNEEM ANNANASA |
| ALLS: (09)986732 |
| Iba Sina Hospital |
| Drivers December 11 a. 1. |
| Princess Basma Hospital |
| Greek Catholic Hospital (02)272275 |
| LOT AL PURICE HOCKITAL GROSS STARS |

| AQAB. Princes | A: 15 Haya Hospital | 1 |
|------------------|------------------------|-----|
| 14:30 18:98 | | |
| | | ٠,٠ |

MARKET PRICES Upper:lower price in fils per kg.

| | Apple Banana Banana (Mukammar) Beans Cabbage | 400/S00 | |
|---|--|--------------|---------|
| | Banana | A90 | ٠. |
| | Banana (Mukammar) | 679 | |
| | Beans | 400 - 600 | ٠, |
| | Cabbage | 120 100 | |
| | Carrot | . 1701 100 | • |
| | Carrot | 300/234 | |
| | Cauliflower | . 280/ ZU | Carre 1 |
| | Cucumbers (large) | 160 / 1W | - |
| | Cucumbers (small) | 320 / 250 | |
| | eggplant | . 180 / 90 | |
| | rg | 100 / 200 | - |
| | Gartic | 800 / 600 | |
| | Grapes | 320/240 | |
| | Guava | 490 100 | |
| | Lemon | 360 190 | |
| | Marrow /Japan | 200:100 | |
| | Marrow (jarge) Marrow (small) | 200 - 200 | |
| | Martin bin | 330 / 40 | |
| | Mulukhia | . 120100 | |
| | Okra | Dunu | |
| | Onion (dry) | 210 / 100 | |
| | Pear | _ 4800A RYIO | |
| | repor (bot) | 200 / 140 | |
| | Pepper (sweet) Potato | 250 / 159 | |
| | Potato | . 350 280 | ٠. |
| • | Tomato | 1407 80 | |

Syria, Lebanon and Jordan agree to joint plan to promote tourism

AMMAN (Petra) - Jordan, Lebanon and Syria have agreed to launch an executive program-me aimed at marketing their tourist attractions abroad, according to Minister of Tourism Yanal

Hikmat Tuesday Speaking upon his return from Latakia, Syria where he attended 'a regional tourism seminar, the minister said be and his counter parts agreed to implement a joint plan for promoting tourism through publications, leaflets and other media materials featuring tourist attractions in the three

Mr. Hikmat said that the three countries had signed an agreement in 1974 to cooperate in promoting the tourism industry, and now they will begin an executive programme to implement

The three countries have

4

agreed to coordinate their efforts at international conference, organise joint tourism exhibitions in Arab and foreign capitals to inform the public about their folklore, cultural heritage, local foods and other aspects of life, said the

Marketing of tourist attractions in the three countries is to be done through the tourist and travel agencies, transport firms and national tourist office, he

Furthermore, the three countries have agreed to exchange school curricula dealing with tourism industry personnel training, hotel management and information exchange in tourism related fields, added Mr. Hikmat.

According to the minister, the three countries also agreed to facilitate the entry of tourist roups from Lebanon, Syria and Jordan and to set up technical committees to conduct studies for improving and promoting further future cooperation in tourism.

Mr. Hikmat said that the seminar was held in the framework of the 1974 agreement.

Latakia seminar by representatives of the private and public to their dedication. The large number of patients arriving in Jordan for treatment stands out as evidence of the Jordanian Surgeons' skills and high performance, said Dr. Malhas in an address at the opening of a pan-Arab conferenc on thoracic medicine and surgery. Deputising for Her Majesty Queen Noor, the bealth minister said that Jordanian surgeons work as a team and are determined to pursue the latest techniques in medicine and surgery. Fawzi Gharaibeh, President of University of Jordan, which is hosting the three-day meeting, said despite its limited resources and means, Jordan has been able to make vast strides in medicine in a relatively short time span. Dr. Abdullah Qudah, president of the Jordanian Cardiolog-

Ministry of Education is im-plemeoting a two-stage project designed to provide teachers with the skills necessary to educate the illiterate at adult education litera-

According to a senior ministry official Tuesday, the first stage of the project, which is financed by the Islamic Educational Scientific and Cultural Organisation (ISES-

AMMAN (Petra) — Health ist and Thoracic Surgeons Society Minister Abdul Rahim Malhas which organised the conference, Tuesday said Jordanian surgeons said Jordan has controlled infectious diseases, adopted primary health care services at the nationhave developed excellent reputation in Jordan and abroad thanks al level and achieved highstandard belath services.

Jordan's surgeons get a tribute at

Arab conference

Ministry completes eradication project

first stage of illiteracy

The present conference, the first of its kind in the Arab World, was organised at the re-commeodation of the Second Jordanian Medical Conference held in Amman in 1989, said Dr: Qudah.

He said the three-day 30session conference will review a wide range of topics including tuberculosis, lung cancer, mental diseases and smoking among

An exhibition of medical equipment and drugs provided by various local and foreign firms was opened on the side lines of the conference.

Dr. Oudah said 500 specialists from Jordan, the Arab states and other foreign countries are taking medicine and surgery (Petra photo)

Israel arrests four Iraqis who escaped police chase

By a Jordan Times Staff Reporter

AMMAN - Four Iraqis, who were arrested by Israeli authorities near the demarcation line between Jordan and the Jewish state, had escaped a police chase in the Jordanian desert, according to security

The sources said the four were riding one of two vans which were chased by police in the early hours of Friday. One of the vans was intercepted; the other was "lost" in the Wadi Araba region.

Three Iraqi nationals riding the intercepted vehicles, iden-tified as a large GMC van, were detained. The van was found carrying arms, suggest-ing that the group was involved in weapon smuggling, according to the source.
The main item in the arms haul was 14-millimetre guns. Iraq is known to produce simi-Reporting on the other four who were detained by the Israelis, the Jerusalem Post quoted a military source as crossed into Jordanian territory near a Jewish settlement to arrest the four, "who waved a white flag to attract their attention. "The four were dressed in civilian clothes and carried Iraqi (identification) cards. No equipment was found in their possession,' the Jerusalem Post

The report did not mention

Other Israeli reports said the four were believed to be Iraqis whose residency papers in Jordan had expired and did not want to go back to their country in the absence of visas to travel to any other destination.

According to the Jordanian

According to the Jordanian source, police had given chase to the two vehicles after they were observed behaving suspiciously. The source did not say when the arms found in the vehicle could have entered Jordan. "Investigations are continuing," the source said.
In the wake of the disarming of the bulk of the one-million strong Iraq's Popular Army after the Gulf war in 1991, light weapons possessed by the mili-tia become a favourite for nugglers into Jordan. Members of the Iraqi Popular Army were reportedly selling their light arms to smugglers to raise money to cope from the international sanctions against Iraq. The sanc-tions were imposed after the August 1990 Iraqi invasion of The flow of smuggled arms added to the weapons which were already in possession of

with the hardships resulting Jordanians who feared a spillover of the Gulf war into the Early this year, the govern-ment enforced strict regulations governing possession of arms and has been collecting all weapons except licensed personal arms from the public.

CO), has been completed and entailed preparing trainers.

The second stage, which is currently underway, aims at training the teachers themselves, according to Ahmad Sous, head of the ministry's Eradication of Illiteracy Department. Noting that Jordan woo the 1993 award from UNESCO (United Nations Educational, Scieotific and Cultural Organisation)

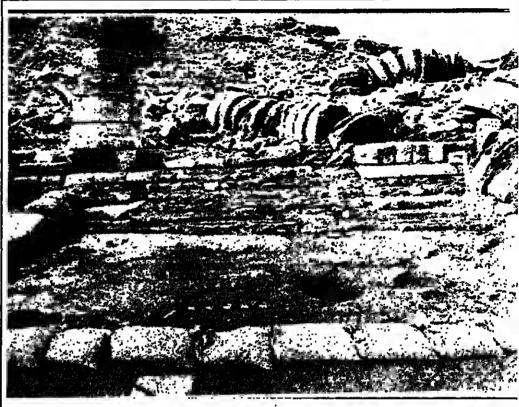

AMMAN (Petra) — By the year 2000, Jordan expects to eradicate government issued a law making education compulsory and free illiteracy in the Kingdom, and the for the first six years.

In 1964 compulsory education covered, the first nine years of primary education and in the 1987 National Education Conference, the government announced that compulsory education covers the first 10 years, Mr. Sous added.

Speaking on the eve of Jor-dan's observance of World Literacy Day, today (Wednesday), Mr. Sous said that plans are underway to expand adult educatioo and increase conrses inteoded to stamp out illiteracy in Jordan by the year 2000. He said that in 1961 illiteracy in Jordan stood at 67.6 per cent among those aged 15 years and above, and dropped to 15.5 per cent at the end of 1992.

The overall estimated rate of illiteracy of people of various ages is still around 20 per cent, but this is likely to drop eight per teracy goes back to 1952 when the added Mr. Sous.

RESULTS OF FIRST YEAR DIG: An archaeological team from Brown University in Rhode Island, 313 a.d. Afterwards the city of Petra was conquered U.S., working in cooperation with the Department of Antiquities, has concluded the first year of Empire and the temple was used as a church archaeological survey and excavation of the South- According to Dr. Tell, the Southern Temple repreeru Temple at Nabatean city of Petra, according to sents one of the major archaeological components of Department of Antiquities Director General Safwan the aucient city as well as one of the largest temple as the Great Temple, was built by the Nahateans in by Emperor Constantine of the Eastern Roman

WHAT'S GOING

The following listings are compiled from monthly bulletins and the daily Arabic press. Readers are advised to verify the listed time and place with the con-cerned institutions.

EXHIBITIONS

Art exhibition by Egyptian artist H. Bikar at the Balqa Art Gallery in Foheis.

the Alia Art Gallery.

* Plastic art exhibition by artists Mohammad Al 'Ameri and Ghassan Abu Laban at the Royal Cultural Centre.

New art gallery, "Darat Al Funum," of the Abdul Hamid Shoman Foundation. Prog-ramme includes the permanept exhibition and the "Chair" exhibition in Jabal

☆ Exhibition by Syrian artist Nadhir Isma'il at Baladna Art

Exhibition of paintings by Jordanian artist Bishara Naj-jar at Eshhelia Art Gallery, Amra Shopping Centre.

A Feature film entitled: "Letter to Brezhnev" at the British Council at 7:00 p.m.

DIALOGUE

A Dialogue with Moroccan poet, novelist, and politician Abdul Latif Al-Lu'bi at Abdul Hamid Shoman

Hurd urges end to rift

(Continued from page 1)

"We are in agreement to sup-port the Israeli and PLO peace initiative, and agreed that recent progress in the Middle East peace talks should be supported by all means," Mr. Hurd told reporters. Britain, he affirmed, "fully supports politically and financially, the Israeli and PLO peace initiative."

"All should contribute ... the EC, the GCC and others. And it is time for Arab states to reconcile. The Israeli-PLO agreement needs support. Arabs were divided on the Gulf war but the situation is different now."

HOME NEWS IN BRIEF

Regent congratulates Brazil

AMMAN (Petra) — His Royal Highness Crown Prince Hassan, the Regent, Tuesday sent a cable to the president of Brazil congratulating him on his country's independence day and wishing him continued good health and happiness and the people of Brazil further progress and prosperity

French envoy awarded by Royal Decree

AMMAN (Petra) — A Royal Decree was issued Tuesday awarding Dennis Banchard, the French ambassador to Jordan, the Jordanian Independence Medal of the First Order in recognition of his efforts to bolster Franco-Jordanian relations. The medal was presented to the ambassador who will end his tour of duty in Jordan this month by Minister of State For Foreign Affairs Talal Sataan Al Hassan during a lunch held in his honour at the Jordan Inter-Continental Hotel. The function was attended by Minister of Interior Salameh Hammad and senior officials from the Foreign Ministry, as well as several heads of diplomatic

Council accepts blind students to state universities

AMMAN (Petra) — Minister of Education and Higher Education Khaled Al Omari Tuesday said the Council of Higher Education decided in its session Monday to accept 11 blind students at the Jordanian state universities, upon the recommendation of Prince Ra'd Ben Zeid, the honorary president of the Friends of the Blind Society; The council also accepted the resignation of Nascreddin Al Assad, president of the Amman National School and the reprojectment of Fid Dahiyat as his replacement. The council appointment of Eid Dahiyat as his replacement. The council endorsed the appointments of Hassan Malkawi as dean of the Scientific Research Department, Raji Najib as dean of the Pharmacy Paculty and Abdul Majid Neeir as dean of the Pharmacy Paculty and Abdul Majid Neeir as dean of the Higher Students Department at the Jordan University of Science and Technology (JUST). The council also granted the University of Applied Sciences, and Al Zaitounah University general accreditation

Trade minister heads for Arab economic meeting

AMMAN (Petra) — Minister of Industry and Trade Bassam Al Saket today (Wednesday) leaves for Cairo to take part in the two-day meetings of the Arab Economic and Social Council, which will be held Thursday at the ministerial level.

Russian official to arrive for talks

AMMAN (Petra) — The director of the Department of Africaand Middle East at the Russian Foreign Ministry is expected to arrive here today (Wednesday) on a two-day visit to Jordan for talks with Prime Minister Abdul Salam Al Majali and the Minister of State for Foreign Affairs Talal Sataan Al Hassan on the latest developments of the Arab-Israeli peace talks and issues of mutual

Jordan participates in world conference on aifted children

AMMAN (Petra) — Director of the Jubilee School project of Noor Al Hussem Foundation Fathi Jarwan has represented Jordan in the International Conference on Gifted Children which has recently held in Toronto Sunday. Taking part in the conference were representatives of 52 countries. Dr. Jarwan presented a working paper on the role of intelligence tests in identifying talented children. Also participating in the conference was Alia Fadda of the Jubilee School. Ms. Fadda presented a working paper on the features distinguishing gifted children families from other families. She based her paper on a survey covering a sample of students from the 10th grade.

CVDB approves JD 500,000 in loans

AMMAN (Petra) — The Board of Directors of the Cities and Villages Development Bank (CVDB) has approved 20 loans worth ID 500,000. This brings to JD 7 million the sum granted by the bank as loans since the beginning of the year.

SSC may have to raise subscription for its efforts in educatioo, Mr.

AMMAN (Petra) — Director General of the Social Security Corporation (SSC) Mohammad Saleh Hourani Tnesday said the corporation might have to raise its subscription rates from 15 per cent to 18 per cent, to meet the SSC's future obligations to be-

Mr. Hourani said an actuarian report prepared by an expert British firm on the corporation's financial situation in the short, medium and long run (np to the year 2091, stressed the need for taking special measures to ensure the balance between the corporation's revenues and expenditures.

The report recommended that monthly subscription rates be raised to meet the corporation's future financial obligations. Mr. Hourani said the report dealt with 14 different assumptions based on expectations of and changes in population growth rates, fertility, birth and death rates, investments, changes of wage levels, and expected salary

Talking about the report, Mr. Hourani said it included a detailed analysis of the corpora-tion's financial situation during the period from 1987 to 1991.

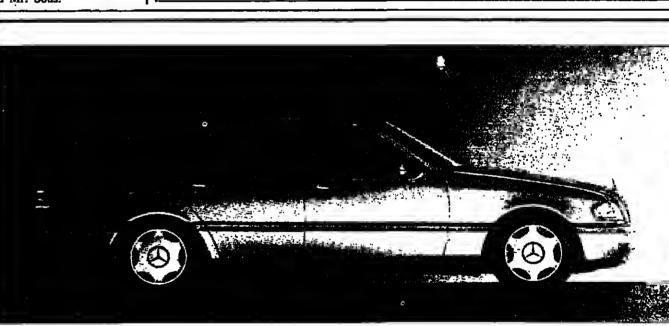

The report predicted a decrease in the fertility rate from its 1991 level of 5.6 per cent to 3.1 after 40 years.

This decrease, the report said, will lead to a decline in the population growth rates from the 1991 level of 3.3 to 1.1 per ceot by

Based on these predictions, the report estimated Jordan's population by the year 2091 at 24 milhon. The number of subscribers will also jump to 3.37 million, and the number of pensioners will be 1.7 million.

This means the subscriberpensioner ration will decrease from its 1991 level of 17.5 subscribers per pensioner to 3.8 subsribers per pensioner after 40 years and down to two subscribers for each pensioner in the 2091. according to the report.

Now you can see what Mercedes-Benz has been doing over the last few years The C 180

Now available in our showroom at (Al-Rageem area).

Mercedes-Benz

T. Gargour & Fils - Tel. 732410 "TRUST" Since 1928

Chairman of the Board of Directors: MAHMOUD AL KAYED

Director General:

MOHAMMAD AMAD

Editor-in-Chief:

GEORGE S. HAWATMEH

Editorial and advertising offices: Jordan Press Foundation, University Road, P.O. Box 6710, Amman, Jordan.

Telephones: 667171/6, 670141-4

Telex: 21497 ALRAI JO Facsimile: 661242

The Jordan Times is published daily except Fridays. Subscription and advertising rates are available from the Jordan Times advertising department.

Small sign of compromise

THE IDEA floated earlier this week by Yossi Beilin, the Israeli deputy foreign minister, that East Jerusalem be granted limited autonomy on par with the rest of the West Bank could be the beginning of a process that aims at finding an equitable solution to the thorny subject of the Holy City.

According to this proposal, Jerusalem would remain united on urban and administrative levels but the Jewish population would be tied politically to Israel and the Palestinians to the Palestinian "entity" in the West Bank and Gaza Strip.

As presently constituted, this formulation does not meet the requirements of U.N. Security Council Resolution 242 that applies to all the occupied Arab territories and calls for complete Israeli withdrawal from them including Arab Jerusalem.

That notwithstanding, the Beilin formula drew immediate negative reaction from Mayor Teddy Kollek, who had earlier rebuffed a proposal by Hanan Ashrawi on making Jerusalem a joint Arab-Israeli capital by saying that "there is no room for two capitals and two municipalities."

No doubt the idea of the Israeli deputy foreign minister on the future of the Holy City was not accidently floated. The Israeli government, under Yitzhak Rabin, must have known by now that peace in the Middle East could not be established without a just settlement of the issue of Jerusalem. As His Majesty King Hussein has repeatedly pointed out, the fate of the city must be determined collectively by the three monotheistic faiths in order to enjoy lasting effect. Maybe with this in mind, the negotiations on Jerusalem have been put off till a later stage beginning no later than the third year of Palestinian autonomy.

Clearly, there is no perfect solution to the future of the city that would satisfy completely and concurrently everybody concerned — Christians. Muslims or Jews. A compromise scheme needs to be articulated and developed that meets the bare minimum requirements of the three

Whether the joint capital formula presented by the Palestinian side or any other plan is the final choice of all the concerned parties, a considerable amount of ingenuity and good faith is called for in the implementation stage. The fact that the Rabin government through its deputy foreign minister is entertaining new thoughts on the subject may suggest that there is still room for successful negotiations on it. Beilin happens to be a close confidant of Foreign Minister Peres and the two are among the prime architects of the Oslo accord between the PLO and Israel. Obviously Israel is budging on the controversial issue, albeit not enough, and this development offers new possibilities for the quest for a final and permanent solution to the whole Arab-Israeli conflict.

ARABIC PRESS COMMENTARIES

SAWT AL SHAAB Arabic daily backed King Hussein's call for an urgent Arah summit meeting to convene and discuss the developments in the Middle East. This meeting is of paramount importance in view of the agreement reached recently by the Palestinians and the Israelis on autonomy rule and the Gaza-Jericho first option, said the daily. This summit meeting is also needed to give its hlessings to the Israeli-Syrian and Israeli-Jordanian agreements which are expected in the current Arab-Israeli peace talks in Washington, added the paper. What is required at the moment is a unified Arab stand and strategy with regard to the situation and the new realities in the Arah region in the wake of these agreements which constitute a turning point in the history of the Arab World, continued the paper. Yasser Arafal and many Arah leaders are in agreement with King Hussein's idea of a summit meeting to review all these issues and to chart strategies to safeguard the Arab Nation's security.

A COLUMNIST in Sawt Al Shash said that the private schools are exploiting students by forcing them to pay high prices for books which are provided by the government at nominal price. These private schools have been making great profit by selling the books to the students at a time when these same schools are raising the tuition fees at will, with total disregard of the ministry's regulation, said Nazih Qusus. Indeed, some students have reported that their schools had sold them the books at double the price they are charged by the bookshop and this is considered a rip off that our society should fight, he added. We suggest that the Ministry of ! ducation fixes price tags on each of the books it sells to the p ate schools so as to prevent their prices from being manipulated aid the writer. It is not possible for the Ministry of Education to end teams of inspectors and watch the sale of each school textbc : at the private schools in order to control the situation, he noted; therefore, the ministry can either resort to fixing price ta " or request that all the private schools students hay their boo directly from the ministry itself.

PLO cash crisis casts shadow over talks

By Clare Pedrick

ROME - As Israel and the Palestinians moved closer to what appeared to be a historic step forward in their negotiations last week, Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO) officials warned that a desperate cash crisis was threatening the future of the entire peace process. News of the accord for mutual recognition and limited self-rule for Palestinians in part of the occupied territories coincided with the anouncement that the Rome office of the PLO, one of the most important in Europe, will almost certainly bave to close due to lack of funds.

And as the new round of peace talks opened io Washington chief Palestinian negotiator Faisal Husseini declared that the Arah delegation had been cut back drastically because the PLO no longer had the mooey to pay for botel bills and airfares.

The economic crisis facing the PLO is the most serious in its 28-year bistory, say leading Palestinian officials. Once flush with money liberally supplied by its Arab supporters, the organisa-tion is on the verge of bankruptcy. The turnaround in the PLO's financial fortunes is largely the result of the Gulf war; PLO leader Yasser Arafat's decision to side with Iraq cost him dear. Almost overnight, the organisa-tion's Gulf state sponsors withdrew their financial support. Saudi Arahia, previously the PLO's most geoerous backer, halted its approximately $85 million a year contribution.

Further damage to the PLO coffers was caused by the expulsion of 400,000 Palestinians working in Kuwait, the biggest Palestinian community in the Arab World. Like all Palestinians working overseas, the Kuwaitbased community paid 5 per cent of its salary to the PLO, accounting for a total 10 per cent of the entire PLO hudget. "Since September 1990 (the month after the Iraqi invasion of Kuwait), the PLO has lost 85 per cent of what it had in 1989," said Nemer Hammad, PLO representative in Rome. "Oor income comes almost entirely from contributions, and our main income came from what the Arab states decided to give us at their summits. Now all that has stopped."

A series of ecocomy measures introduced to cushion the shortfall failed to stop the organisation sliding towards economic disas-ter. In spite of selling investments and cutting back on expenditure, the organisation faces financial ruin, say PLO officials. And that could spell serious trooble for the future of the peace negotiations, they warn. According to Mr. Husseini, the precarious financial situation "puts the entire peace process in danger."

Said Mr. Nemer Hammad: "It is very serious, because it is a real crisis that is creating a negative impact even on the peace process.' Aside from the airfares to the peace talks in Washington, the PLO is struggling to find the $65,000 still owed in hotel hills for the earlier round of talks in The U.S. capital. "If it gets to the stage where we have to cut the size of the delegation going to Washington, you can imagine how serious the situation has hecome," said Mr. Hammad. "But reducing the delegation poses grave problems. When you are taking part in very difficult and serious negotiations, you need secretaries and other back-ups. And even if we do cut the delegation, that still won't solve the problem of the hotel. They are still pressing for the bill to be Such practical considerations apart, the PLO's critical financial situation poses other dangers to the outcome of the peace talks. The crisis presents a serious threat to the already fragile position of the PLO leadership, say some analysts. And if not resolved quickly, it could prove to social security or pension con-

Yasser Arafat, already in a highly vulnerable position and strongly challenged from within the organisation

In recent weeks, the 64-year-old leader has come under increasing fire from critics within the PLO who accuse him of too authoritarian a line, of giving too many concessions to the Israelis

— and of being dictatorial in his management of PLO funds. Abdallah Hourani, PLO cultural attache and one of the most influential members in the organisation, recently accused Arafat of "selling out the Palestinian cause and bringing the PLO to the brink of financial disaster." Last weekend's emergency session of the executive committee the PLO governing body - in Tunis was called after six of the 18 members threatened to resign in protest at Mr. Arafat's alleged gh-handed leadership methods.

Ever the skilled tactician, Mr. Arafat appears to have quashed the rebellion, at least for the time being, rallying support for the peace accord, which would give Palestinians limited autonomy in the Gaza Strip and West Bank city of Jericho, with a promise of more to come. The peace agreeent with the Israelis bolds out hope for a solution to some of the PLO's financial problems too. Mr. Arafat's strategy appears to be based on the fervent hope that the PLO's moderate stand at the peace talks will be rewarded by the international community in the form of investment aid and, perhaps, renewed funding from the Arab World.

But reactivating the economy of the occupied territories, devastated by the conflict with Israel. will cost millions. The World Bank has estimated that $900 million will be needed in the next three years to kick-start the economy in the Gaza Strip alone. And the settlement with Israel calls for the Palestinians to take over responsibility for costly dayto-day services, such as the running of a local police force. Lurking in the background will be the ever-present threat of extremist groups, such as Hamas, bitterly opposed to any compromise with Israel. The poverty of the Gaza Strip and the West Bank makes a fertile hreeding ground for fundamentalist extremists. One of Mr. Arafat's biggest challeoges will be in producing concrete evidence to the 1.8 million Palestinians living in the occupied territories that hacking his peace settlement will put food on the table and produce jobs for the unemployed.

So far, says Rome PLO representative Nemer Hammad, the Palestinians of the occupied territories have had scant reward for what, as he points out, was de-scribed by the U.S. government as a "courageous decision" to take part in the peace talks which opened in Madrid in the fall of 1991. "We had expected that such a difficult but courageous decision by the PLO leadership would be rewarded by the U.S. and hy others, perhaps even financially, so that the Palestinian people would be encouraged into thinking that negotiations could lead to something better," be said. There were promises from the U.S., not just from the Bush administration, but from the highest levels of the new American administration," be added.

That movey bas failed to materialise, and in the occupied territories, things have gone from bad to worse. A decision in March by Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin to ban Palestinians living in the occupied territories from crossing over into Israel to work has left 130,000 Palestinians without jobs in an area where over 50 per cent of the population is already unemployed. The decisioo was made after a series of attacks on Israelis. "Most of the Palestinians worked on the black market, in the sense that they received no tributions," said Mr. Hammad. "Bot their earnings added up to a daily income of between $3 and $3.5 million, and that was creating a certain movement in the Palestinian market. Now they are unemployed and have no prospect of finding work."

As the talks have dragged on, says Mr. Hammad, many Palestinians in the occupied territories have lost heart and lost patience. "There is no doubt that there is less support among Palestinians now for the peace process than when it began," said the Rome

PLO representative. In his office in Rome's Parioli district, Nemer Hammad, who has been based in Italy for seven years, faces his own ordeal: Neither be nor his staff have been paid a salary for two months, the rent on the building is three months overdue. One of the two telephone lines has been cut off and the bank is putting on the pressure for repayment of a $36,000 overdraft. Luckily, we have an understanding landlord, but be can't wait much longer, said Mr. Hammad, his desk co-vered with a pile of bills and final notices! "This is not a tase of economic crisis: It's a' case of economic deadlock. The Rome impossible to continue like this. Even I personally cannot afford to go on. None of us here has received so much as a lira for the past two months."

Mr. Hammad breaks off to field a telephone call about 15 million lire ($10,000) owed by the PLO for insurance contributions for its Rome staff. He is given a new deadline of mid-September. Another call follows, once again on the thorny subject of debts and money. These days, Mr. Hammad seems to deal with little else; a continual round of humiliating requests for more time to pay, punctuated hy desperate appeals for contributions from the Italian friends of the PLO who have shown support in the

The closure of the Rome office will be a bitter blow for the PLO. It has long been considered one of the organisation's most impor-tant "embassies," partly because of its strategic geographical posi-tion, but also because of the special relationship between Italy and the Palestinians. Sympathetic to the Palestinian cause from the outset, the Italian government has proved to be the PLO's best friend in Europe. Italy is the occupied territories' second biggest European supporter in financial terms. Only the European Community makes a bigger con-

The Italian government offers an annual 220 university scholarships to Palestinian students. All over Italy, voluntary associations, city councils and trade unions collect funds for the Palestinians. More than 7,500 Italian families take part in a scheme which involves them "adopting" a child in the occupied territories, paying for his upkeep and some of his schooling with a monthly contribution of 100,000 lire ($66). 'All these mitiatives require administration and close contacts with our diplomats. They will be placed under threat if the Rome office closes," said Mr. Hammad.

Already, the PLO offices have been sbut down in Finland, Sweden, and Hungary. Most of the PLO offices have been closed in Africa, Latin America and in Asia. Around the world, residences and offices bought in the golden years as investments for the PLO have been sold off. The latest to go on the market is the residence of the London PLO representative, although the office will remain open for the time beiog.

At the PLO headquarters in Tunis, salaries have been reduced or not paid at all and there is talk of making a drastie cut in the mediately, then at least when the PLO transfers its headquarters to the occupied territories, a move which should take place within the year if the peace process goes ahead as planned. Once easily recognisable in Tunis and on the coastal resorts for their smart cars and well-cut clothes, today's PLO officials tend to ride in buses rather than in BMWs.

With investments cashed in around the world, and administration costs pared back to the bare minimum, PLO officials say they fear schools, hospitals and other social programmes in the occupied territories - which together account for about half the PLO expenditure — may be the next to go. "We have reached the point where our hospitals in the occupied territories are in a very, very serious situation and may have to be closed," said Mr. Hammad, "Our universities may have to be closed, for the first time not because of the Israelis imposing their closure, but because we do not have the means to keep theni open. Ninety per in cent of the professors' salaries have not been paid to them over the summer period." Appeals for help to foreign governments have so far fallen on deaf ears. The PLO has asked for loans, says Mr. Hammad, but has been turned down on the grounds that the Palestine Liberation Organisation is not a government. For the PLO, that is one of the most frustrating contraditions. Since it is not a state, the organisation cannot levy taxes. Yet it still has all the burdens. and more, of any normal govern-Indeed, while it was the Gulf war that brought things to a head, the PLO's first financial problems date back to 1988, when Jorda-man King Hussein decided to hand over the West Bank to Palestinian administration, a move that was welcomed on emotional grounds, but which posed considerable economie difficulties. "Suddenly, we were confronted by a situation where we had to finance everything that had previously been paid for by the Hashemite Kingdom schools, universities, municipal-ties," said Mr. Hammad. "With a population of 1.8 million in the occupied territories, we have the problem that we carry the responsibility of a government, but we cannot collect taxes. Yet in the peace talks, we must prove that we are a government, able to control our people."

If foreign belp is not forthcoming for the occupied territories, m the form of aid, loans or investment, the peace plan may prove to be short-lived, says the PLO. Morale is at an all-time low there. Even Israel is said to be concerned over the level of poverty and degradation. "Anyone with a minimum level of intelligence in Israel must be worried," said Mr. Hammad. "We are in two rooms in the same house and if there is fire in one room the other one will not be safe." The alternative, he says, will be "extremism and desperation, in an area where one of the main obstacles to the growth of the fundamentalist movement is the PLO." "I am talking about every kind of extremism," said the Rome PLO representative. "For me, personally, Hamas is not the most dangerous threat I can imagine. The most dangerous threat will be desperation - a situation where anyone will do anything, because they are so desperate." Mr. Hammad recently spoke to a 21-year-old Palestinian student, studying in Rome, who comes from the Gaza Strip. "I asked him what morale was like there," said the PLO official. "He said: 'Everyone of my age has only one desire. And that is to die.' I do not think there can be a worse situation than that" -

World News Link.

Can Arafat keep the lid on Gaza?

GAZA — Five years ago Gaza spawned the Palestinian uprising

Now Palestinian leaders who have struck a peace deal with the Jewish state wonder whether it will rise up against them.

The Gaza Strip, an explosive cocktail of refugees, poverty and oppression, is the one place in the Israeli-occupied territories where opposition to the accord could pit armed Palestinian against armed

The spectre of a civil war after an Israeli troop withdrawal from Gaza chills even hardened opposition guerrillas and activists the strip, whose 750,000 Palestinians are squeezed into wretched camps and towns stretching down to the Egyptian

They have stopped short of ning to harm PLO chief Yasser Arafat who has pushed through the agreement, despite opposition from within his own Fatch movement, the main wing of the Palestine Liberation Orga-

But they have all vowed to torpedo the unprecedented accord giving self-rule to Gaza and the West Bank town of Jericho ahead of the rest of the territories. They have also promised to press on with the armed

This could lead to clashes with the Palestinian police force Mr. Arafat will use to maintain order among Arabs and to prevent attacks on the redeployed Israeli soldiers and 4,000 Jewish settlers who will remain, at least initially, in Gaza. "Armed resistance, military action and all other forms of struggle will remain because we do not regard the agreement as ending the occupation," an activist of Hamas, the Islamic resistance movement, told Reuters.

"But even those who sign the greement will not be a target for Hamas ... Any faction using force against Arafat will be a loser," he said. 'The whole world will be watching us and nobody will Hamas is the strongest and militarily most active group in the strip. It receives funds from Lebanon. abroad, including Iran, according ... "We do not have the same kind ity sources. Hamas, fellow Muslim fundamentalist group Islamic Jihad, and dissident factions of the PLO, can between them muster about 100 armed guerrillas, the

Up to now they have been fighting the Israeli army and inlligence services which have had great success in keeping weapons from filtering into the territories. Although the agreement leaves Israel in overall charge of security some guerrillas believe the flow of guns could Samir, a member of Islamic lihad. He said his group had instructions from its Da based leader Fathi Shkaki to resist the accord but not to shed Palestinian blood.

But he acknowledged that fighting Israelis could bring his group into conflict with the Palestinians.

"I believe that the Islamic groups will escalate the fight against Israel ... and will not allow anybody to prevent them." Samir

Mr. Arafat and the Israelis realise that to head off such a clash Fateh will have to pump men and money into Gaza.

Faisal Al Husseini, Fatch's senior leader in the West Bank, said last week the police force would have to number up to 30,000 men, half from outside the territories. A handful of Arabs from the territories are already being trained in Jordan.

The core of the police, to be known as the Palestine central security force, will be drawn from the thousands of PLO former guerrillas and soldiers scattered throughout the Arab World in the Palestine Liberation Army, PLO sources say.

Their main task will be to enforce Fatch's rule and stop attacks which would bring a swift Israeli response. Regular police work would be done hy a resurrected local Arab police force which fell apart at the start of the intifada.

Israeli security sources said the Israelis were still studying bow the new policing would work. The army would keep open some strategic roads and continue to guard settlers.

Both the Israeli army chief and his deputy have said the agree-ment would make their fight against guerrillas more difficult. was not clear how Israelis would cooperate and share intelligence with Mr. Arafat's men.

"(But) If a Palestinian terrorist flees into an Arab town we would expect the Palestinian police to catch him," one security source

For the moment all sides are playing down the prospect of Gaza turning into a new to Palestinians and Israeli secur- of sectarian conflict here as they did in Lebanon," said Younis Al Jaru, who is identified with the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, a PLO faction opposed to the agreement.

> confused about how interim selfrule would change their lives. Popular support would depend on whether the agreement brought them food and jobs. Mr. Arafat knows this and hopes that Israel and U.S. pleas for funds from Europe and the Gulf Arab states will succeed. Israel can also help Mr. Arafat by

"To do things (Clinton) needs to convince the public he will do them responsibly."

Al From couldn't agree more.

people will once again be receptive to new government initia-tives," said Mr. From, president of the centrist Democratic Leadership Council, which has pushed many of the changes likely to be in the Clinton-Gore proposal.

"Right now, getting that sup-port is difficult because so many people view government as an obstacle to opportunity rather than a creator of it," Mr. From Paramount in the dehate, according to Mr. Clinton aides and advisers like From, is pulling the government in line with the reorganisation of American industry: cutting out wasteful middle management and regulation, providing incentives to workers with money-saving ideas, and making it easier for citizens to get also bring political gain.

A spring poll by White House pollster Stanley Greenberg, for example, found that government reform was Mr. Clinton's best hope of making inroads with

In the survey, 72 per cent of Perot voters said they would Perot voters.

But the hope is that reforms information and services.

Those of us who believe in activist government have a re-sponsibility to fix government so

He said most Gazans were still 4 speed np. casing restrictions on Gazans

"After the Israeli withdrawal it working in the Jewish state.

Selling activist government to a septical audience but especially for Democrats it is a very important sell," said Republican pollster Bill McInturf.

By John King The Associated Press

WASHINGTON — The best test for President Clinton's "reinventing government' initiative may be whether it revives Joy Morr's faith in Washington or sways Dennis Martina's vote.

After all, Mr. Clinton's proposal is designed not just to slash the federal bureaucracy, but also to sell the idea of activist government to a highly sceptical public.
At stake is the public reception down the road for many of Mr. Clinton's centrepiece ideas, from health care and welfare reform to an aggressive government role in joh retraining.

But there will be obstacles galore, not least among them en-trenched congressional and special-interest opposition to some proposals, as well as profound public doubt that any politician will truly deliver reforms

On the latter point, Ms. Morrand Mr. Martina are telling ex-Ms. Morr is a 27-year-old mortage company worker from the St. Louis suburbs who voted for Mr. Clinton in November. "I think he promises too much, like any politician," she said. "I don't really think he can do all he says be will.... Once they get to Washington they're all pretty much the same. Mr. Martina, a fisherman from the Florida Panhandle, cast a protest vote for Ross Perot last year because "it's time to run the government like a business and no politician knows how to do that. I don't trust any of them." Such attitudes - hardly unique

- await the review, led by Vice President Al Gore, that will recommend deep cuts in the federal work force and new government purchasing guidelines. It also will promise citizens such tangible results as faster tax returns and quicker answers to questions about government programmes.
"It's going to be a tough sell.

be much more likely to vote for someone who wanted to "radically change the way government does things - cut bureaucracy. make government more efficient, and give ordinary people better service and more choice." Reinventing government is the prerequisite for Clinton to even get the Perot voters to look at him." Mr. From said. "No single issue is more important to

By Pascal B. Karmy

The first thing which struck me on arrival in Beirut, a couple of months ago, while riding a taxi from Beirut airport, was the devastation which had befallen the Lebanese capital after more than fifteen years of internecine fighting between several factions of Lebanon. Indeed, I could hardly recognise some streets and districts of Beirut which used to be so familiar to me during my twelve years stay in Beirut, between 1964 and 1976.

Hundreds, if not thousands, of building are now mere rubble; others are distorted, or dilapidated, and should be hlown up as they are no longer safe for hving in, yet, others are pock-marked by bullets or missiles and are so ugly that they need complete renovation. The last fighting between General Aoun's army and Samir Geagea's Lebanese forces brought more havoc and destruction to many areas, especially in Qlei'at, and had a detrimental effect on the standing and morale of the Christians and more so on the Maronites. It breaks the heart to see the hotels once the pride of Beirnt - St. Georges, Phoenicia, Holiday-Inn, destroyed by the war. The old-time hectically busy commercial centre of Beirut, known as Al Bourge, is hardly recognisable because of the fallen or damaged buildings and the high growth, thick grass and weeds which cover it. Bab Idrees, Riad Solh square, the banks street and other areas in Beirut make one wonder how the people of Benut could destroy their own city with their own hands.

Hamra Street, which once re-sembled Oxford Street in London, has regained some of its "attractive features which distinguished it before 1975. It has not, however, managed to come back to the glory of its heydays of the 1960s. Cafes, luxury shops and bookshops are busy with clients. Money exchangers are numerous lu the western and eastern sections of Beirut.

The U.S. dollar is acceptable everywhere in Lebanon as if it were Lebanese state currency and in some places it is preferable to the Lebanese pound. The Beirut port is very active. There are no longer private ports controlled by different Lebanese sectarian par-... ties. One can see in the eastern part of Beirut and on the slopy: 1:11 In my opinions what Lebanon mountains near Jouneh new resilic utilities and services, such as water, electricity and telephones are not available all day. Water for washing is plenty, but not for !!. few hours a day or at night time. Owners of buildings or apartmeots have installed electric : generators and they are operated . when the state electricity does not fuoctioo. Telephooes do not function regularly. The Lebanese pound is still at . its lowest ehb. Inflation is very h high. The cost of living is high. A foreigner who stays in Beirut for some time wonders how the averdifficult economic circumstances. Apparently many are being financially helped by their relatives abroad; others live on medium-or long-term loans, waiting for better days, while others live from the proceeds of commercial dealings. Unemployment is estimated at 60 per cent.

Some impressions from a recent visit to Lebanon

Despite difficult economic conditions as far as the average man is concerned, one may be sur-prised to find that almost every-Lebanese owns a car, although it may be antiquated or dented. Many Lebanese still spend holidays in mountain resorts, or enjoy night life but that can be explained by the fact that they are very resourceful people.

The traffic in Beirut is very congested and many streets are bottlenecked. Beirut is a big garage, especially so in the winter season when schools and universities open and the mountain resorters come down to Beirut. To drive in Beirut nowadays, one has to be a dexterous driver to avoid collision or cause accidents. There are very few traffic policemen and traffic lights are nonexistent. I have been told that hundreds of young drivers do not hold driving licences and I myself witnessed some fathers giving their cars to their sons with no driving licences. I understand that this may happen in Amman, but 1 noticed that this practice is rather frequent in Beirut.

One of the acute problems facing the Lebanese government is the situation of thousands of displaced persons who occupy deserted empty buildings or apart-ments. Now the owners of those premises are asking the occupants be evicted. But on the other hand some of the premises of those displaced persons are either occupied by other displaced persons or have been destroyed during the war and they have no dwellings to live in. One of the solutions is to effect interchange of displaced persons from one area to another, but this may not be applicable in all cases. What is sentially required is the reconstruction of destroyed or damaged buildings or the construction of a complex of oew buildings in specific areas to house the displaced persons. In effect, private companies are now embarking upon such projects against pay-ment of a fair price, payable by installments. similar to the one applied for the recovery of Europe in the aftermath of World War II so as to rebuild and renovate the infrastructure of Beirut and its suburbs. the European Community, Japan and the U.S. and implemented and supervised by an international consortium in collaboration and coordination with the Lebanese government. Public security is prevailing and government prestige and author-ity are felt by the Lebanese and foreigners. This should encourage foreigners and the wealthy Lebanese living abroad to invest

Some causes of the Lebanese civil war

The observations on some aspects of the present state of Lebanon lead us to discuss the causes of the Lebanese civil war.

One cannot determine a single cause. Many factors and elements were involved in this war. Some are internal, others are external. In his latest new book "Lebanon, Fire and Embers; A History of the Lebanese Civil War," the author Dilip Hiro says that the real cause of the war was the determination of the Maronite dominated by its bigoted militants — to retain the political privileges granted them by the French during their mandate over Lebanon. According to Hiro, the major mistake of the Maronites, who had at the time the Syrians on their side, was to look to Israel as their protector, ignoring the fact that Israel and Syria are chronically hostile to each other; that alliance was simply too dangerous for Syria to accept. After all, Hiro claims that quite early in the civil war there were no less than 1,500 Israeli advisors in Marounistan. In his book "Le Dernier Quart due Siécle" by the French writer and journalist André Fontaine, published in 1976, he wrote (translated from French): "The well-known National Pact, whichdistributed the powers in Leba-non before the civil war, reflected the balance of powers before World War II. It was futile to pretend to maintain it as it was once this balance of forces had changed.... The National Pact was founded upon the numerical superiority of the Christian community in regard to that of the Mushims. This superiority has however ceased to exist for a long time. The social equilibrium was based in fact ou the alliance between the bourgeois class of the Maronites and Sunnis. This alliance became questionable."

The same author observes that: "In the face of the deterioration of the situation which should have opened the eyes of the Lebanese government, the latter has not seriously attempted to introduce structural reforms inasmuch as the government was deeply divided and at grips with a parliament in which every member represents a clan, a tribe, a needs is a sort of a Marshall plan, ..., lobby even a gang. For a long time business prosperity has concealed the acuteness of the confrontation but it has also contributed to the increase of the grudge of the destitute against the time there were precursory signs of the disaster.

The same author adds that: "... The intrigues of the great and small powers would not by itself be sufficient explanation for such a desperate and fierce confrontation. The latter is caused by communities which are afraid of collective annihilation, such as the Christians or the Palestinians of Lebanon."

In Kamal Jumblat's book "Pour le Liban", which was published after his assassination on March 16, 1977, Jumblat himself enumerates to the French journalist Philippe Lapousterle the causes of the Lebanese civil war; he mentions "refusal of political evolution was the potential material cause which had sparked off the Lebanese crisis — refusal to agree to democratic evolution of institutions is tantamount to refusal to live with others, it is refusal to make concessions or make compromise deals which are indispensable to social relations. Morally speaking, refusal by the Maronites to accept true and genuine evolution is somewhat refusal of God, it was refus-

Kamal Jumblat was that: "The wealth which has stormed Lebanon has created a monstrous society of economic and social injustice notwithstanding its quasi-American dynamism. Four per cent of the people own for themselves sixty per cent of the gross national income while the ninetysix per cent own the remaining forty per cent. It was really scan-An enormous income difference separates a simple worker or an agricultural labourer, who earns seven or 10 Lebanese pounds a day, from a financier or a husiness man who could pocket up to LL30,000 per day.

The fourth cause, according to Jumblat, is that people who were Another cause mentioned by new ideas in Lebanon such as Tens of centres of study were formed and young people were attracted by the glitter of new things. What had contributed to this intellectual thrust was the great number of students, who counted about 60,000 in the five universities, which is an enormous number in a city like Beirut. One would hear every day of revolution and youth idealism fulfilled the rest. "It was the fashion to aspire to the revolution. Thus the smell of revolt was in the air and everybody wants change.

Another cause of the 'deflagration' in Lebanon in 1975 according to Jumhlat was the accumulation, since 1967, of arms hy the Rummaneh, during which 27 valid for a long time. socialist, marxist and Maoist. Palestinians were massacred in a Palestinians were massacred in a bus, was the first spark of the Agreement of 1990, the powers Lehanese war.

war and the defeat in Golan, confrontations would, perhaps, not have happened. The Israelis had also had a hand in this matter, as their plan was to en-courage establishment of small sectarian states more or less independent: a Druze state, an Ala-Knrd state. The Israelis were the U.S. A very important dec-laration is attributed to Henry Kissinger: 'To please Syria and deflect its attention from the Golan, give it a part of Lehanon. In his book "The Question of Palestine". Professor Edward Said says that there were hints that Mr. Kissinger's ideas went as far as using the CIA to escalate the Lebanese war as long as that would consume the PLO.

In his book in Arabic "Between Disaster and Tragedy" published in 1979, Henry Abu Khater says that there were two aims of the Lebanese war: the first to crush the Palestinian resistance so as to force it to accept the worst settlement of the Palestine problem. But the crushing of the Palestinian resistance was not originally a Lebanese aim as the Palestinians did not pose a vital danger to Lebanon as they themselves refused reintegration in Lebanon. It was the Hebrew state which wanted to smash the Palestinian power. The second aim was to try to partition Lebanon, which was attributed to Mr. Kissinger as was done in Cyprus where he enabled the Turks to partition the island. However, Henry Abu Khater says that the Lebanese people cannot put all the hlame on external plans or conspiracies and absolve themselves from responsibility for, had the Lebanese reached together an understanding, they would have put an end to any foreign interfer-

The fatal mistake of the Christians of Lebanon, particularly that of the Maronite leaders, was their refusal to relinquish some of the concessions and privileges which they alone enjoyed.

According to the National Pact of 1943, forged by the then Lebanese leaders, the president of the republic should be a Maronite and had almost supreme power, which had sometimes been abused. The prime minister, almost no power or authority without the approval of the president. The parliament's speaker should be a Muslim Shifte, when the Christians formed the majority as the ratio of representation in Parliament between the Christians and Muslims was 6 to 5. As of the president had been re-However, Jumblat adds that duced. Now, in many areas of the events in Lebanon could not authority, he could not act alone. be dissociated from the Middle but in conjunction with the prime East context; without the 1967 minister or with the cabinet of ministers. Moreover, equal representation was introduced in parliament for the Muslims and In 1975, some of the Maronite leaders led a furious campaign against the Palestinians and put the hlame on them for the breakwite state, a Maronite state, a out of the war. They used to declare that it was not a civil war active players in the Lebanese but a war between the Lebanese war, together with their master, and the Palestinians. Subsequent events proved the contrary as the war between the Lehanese them-

> Moreover, there occured in Lebanon intermittent internicine warfare. Civil fightings hroke out between the Lebanese themselves in places where Palestinians either did not exist then or had no hand in it.

selves dragged on for fifteen

Professor Philip Hitti, author of the "History of the Arabs", states that: "Civil disturbances between Druze and Maronites, which under Turkish stimulation began in 1841, culminated in the massacre of 1860, a year which will remain infamous for all times in the annals of the land." Earlier Hitti states: "The masses among both Christians and Druze particularly Christians - were in a state of unrest, cherishing discontent towards their feudal aristoeracy. North Lebauese peasants, urged by their Maronite clergy, rose in 1858 against their local lords and planned to divide up their large estates among

In 1958 Lebanon witnessed a flareup of violence between the Lebanese themselves, in which the Palestinian refugees in Lebanon remained absolutely neutral. Kamal Jumhlat, moreover, says m his book 'Pour le Liban' that the Palestinian resistance was but one of the causes of the break-out of war in 1975 but had the Lebanese people not been prepared for this 'explosion', it would not have occurred. And there is no doubt that Israel and Mr. Kissinger had contributed to this war to weaken the resistance and distract world public opinion from its occupation of Arab terri-

The Lebanese should have long ago reached a concord, similar to that of the Taif Agreement, although some sections of the Lebanese public consider this agreement hiased and unbawould have saved the lives of a hundred thousand people, mostly civilians, saved thousands more maimed or handicapped and saved Beirut and the suburbs from destruction. Nevertheless, I believe that Lebanon will rise again and attain progress and prosperity with the help and participation of its well-known, ac-

Rubbles are removed by a buildozer to make place to new construction, a process the whole Lebanon is

(AFP photo)

After this rather political and philosophical explanation, Kamal Jumblat deals with the concrete causes of the war in Lebanon. He says: "The war in Lebanon also has social and economic causes. This country has fived for a long time on deceptive liberalism without limitation or law, without any restrictions or impediments. It hoarding and monopolising was the Lebanese Phoenician spirit. Everybody euriehes without cause by any means whatsoever." Then Kamal Jumhlat says that this unlawful enrichment had degenerated into general corruption. "Our great wealthy people connived with the emires, the sheikhs and the financial magnates of Kuwait, Saudi Arabia, of the Gulf or of other places."

stuffed with money did not pay taxes. They held a great political sway in parliament and in government and, in practice they would elect the president of the repub-

One should add to this general picture the fact that the great clerical feudalism remained untouchable. The church owns a tricts, such as in Kersouan, Jbeil and Batroun. It is said that 20 per cent of the agricultural land of Lebanon belongs to the clergy. The 'red monk', Father Lebret, who had studied the Lebanese social problems observed: "For every monk one must count one million Lebanese pounds of land

Another cause, according to Jumblat, is the appearance of Lehanese 'right'. This right, which was more sectarian than social, considered that after the defeat of the Arabs by Israel it had a unique opportunity to put into effect the ancient plan of a Maronite homeland by isolating Lebanon from its natural surroundings, that is the Arah World.

Camile Chamoun began organis-ing his "Noumours," the Tigers. The Phalanges also undertook to complete their armament. In 1968-1969 they were almost ready and in 1970-72 they counted 6,000 to 8,000 armed men. This extravagant bellicosity had inevitably prepared the way for an explosion which had centered on the Palestinians. On April 15, 1975, the bloody event of Ain-

Andre Fontaine says, the National Pact reflected in 1943 the balance of powers existing at that tive, diligent and highly educated time but it has been no longer people.

Human body and nature at the tip of the brush

By Najwa Kefaya Special to the Jordan Times

AMMAN — Among the exhibi-tions taking place in Amman this week are those of Mohammad Al Ameri, Ghassan Abu Laban and Nazir Ismail. The first two portray the body, specifically the female body, while the third focuses on the Syrian nature in an abstract style. Mohammad Al Ameri's work seems to be the most impressive of the three, and certainly one which women would very much identify with. Though in a symbolic way, he very successfully expresses his devotion to women while sympathising with their "oppressed" status in our society in particular. This will not seem very strange knowing that be is a suffer from," Ghassan said.

very strong supporter of women. Mr. Ameri is a member of the Women in the Jordanian Writers' Union. As a poet and a painter, he is also known for his feelings the society's look towards women, as "incomplete creatures", such as a woman figure with a missing part.

His work, is a unique selection of female symbols painted using a mixture of black, dark grey and brown pastel and oil colours. He uses some techniques such as knife strokes and collage in some of his paintings, and piles up layers of colours on top of each other then exposes the hidden colours and contrasts them with black. This gives it a sculpture like texture. "My dream is to be a sculptor one of these days" Mr. Ameri told the Jordan Times. Consistency in the figures and shapes within one painting gives a feeling of harmony and deep ex-pression. Mixing his figures with Nabatean, Phoenician and Aramaic calligraphy gives his work a distinctive style. Ghassan Abu Laban's work, exhibited in the same hall, in the Royal Cultural Centre, forms a contrast with Ameri's work, though both of them deal with the same theme, namely the woman's

The bright colours strike the wer's eye in Ghassan's work. His bodies are portrayed as heavy and bulky, in an abstract way. "To me these are not female bodies but situations of moments of oppression and defeat women

ART REVIEW

Nazir Ismail's exhibition on the other hand, at the Baladna Art Gallery, is a colourful, abstract Committee for the Defence of demonstration of the simple, peaceful countryside of his home-land, Syria. Using a combination as a defender of their rights. of acrylic, wax and pastel, parti-Some of his paintings represent cularly using acrylic over wax, gives a special texture to the oriental style shapes that Mr.

Ismail is trying to introduce the viewer to. The colourful, natural scenes, landscapes and still life and the interesting sight effects of the strange techniques are attractive in spite of the ambiguity of the shapes. The simple crossed strokes of his brush, form interesting faces. The first two exhibitions of the Jordanian artists will go on until September 13. The Syrian artist's exhibition will last till September

DUBAI (R) — Palestinians are ready to set up a self-rule authority four months after signing a peace deal with Israel, but the question re-mains where will the money come from to run it? Washington is trying to put together an emergency fund of $590 million for setup costs but has failed so far to obtain firm commitments from potential donors; diplomats said. The World Bank also has unveiled a $4.3 billion economic development plan for the West Bank and Gaza Strip covering the next eight to 10 years — an indication of the massive scale of the economic crisis in the occupied territor-

But rich Gulf Arab states, some still reeling from the enormous costs of the Gulf war, are balking at the massive amounts of money involved.

And the Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO), flush with funds through the 1970s and 1980s when some of its officials were derided as playboy revolutionaries for parading in luxury cars and designer clothing, is virtually bank-

Its coffers were drained after it lost its main source of income when it angered the wealthy Gulf Arab oil states over its sympathy with Iraq following Baghdad's 1990 invasion of Kuwait.

Paradoxically, these same Gulf states are being asked to hear the lion's share of the emergency funding and for the World Bank plan.

Palestinians, who say the World Bank plan underestimates their needs which they put at about $1.3 billion a year initially, say finance is a major problem that has yet to be overcome. They estimate total need over 10 years at about $11

"The Gulf states are being told that by pouring money into the Palestinians homeland, they would be investing in future security and stability .. that prosperity in the territories would remove a potential flashpoint for trouble that could spread to the rest of the

"Understandably, they are sceptical," he added. Palestinian sources said the United States was seeking $200 million from the Gulf states for the emergency fund and sub-stantial commitments for the longer-term World Bank plan. Gulf Cooperation Council foreign ministers, who ended a two-day meeting in Riyadh on Monday, welcomed the proposed PLO-Israel deal but made no public mention of the cash

Middle East," one diplomat

Gulf diplomats said this did not mean they would not pay. But any contribution was likely to be limited and come from individual states rather than from their GCC regional

They said Kuwait in particular remained deeply antagonis-tic to the PLO and its leader Yasser Arafat. Any aid was likely to be channeled to bodies such as the World Bank or independent Arah or Palestinian institutions rather than directly to the PLO, they added.

The diplomats said the United States had made clear it would not carry the full burden of bankrolling the peace pro-

Washington was putting heavy pressure on its partners in the G-7 group of wealthy industrialised nations, especially Japan and the European Community, to take oo meaningful commitments.

"They have promised to help but have yet to spell it out in dollars and cents," one diplomat said

The Gulf states have also argued that their financial reserves have been seriously depleted by the Gulf war, which cost Saudi Arabia and Kuwait alone some $120 billion much of it paid to U.S. and other Western allies such as Britain.

They also say that over the years they have contributed much more than their fair share of world economic aid. In 1992 Saudi Arabia paid $1.1 billion in development assistance. The United Arab Emirates paid $735 million in grants, according to figures of the Arab Monetary Fund. It said that whereas Saudi aid, for example, was equiva-lent to 1.4-7.6 per cent a year of its gross domestic product (GDP) in the past 20 years, the proportion for industrialised states was less than 0.3 per cent since 1970. Gulf states paid direct subsidies to the PLO before the Gulf war. They also collected taxes for the PLO from a mil-lion Palestinians who used to work in the region.

Saudi Arabia paid $850 million directly to the PLO in the 10 years to 1989 and was pumping $6 million a month direct to the PLO until August 1990. In addition, a body which collected taxes from Palestinians and various other donations was sending regularly about $1.5 million a month to the PLO.

The direct subsidies dried up

PLO ready, but who will pay for self-rule? after the Gulf war but the Saudis allowed the taxes to be transferred to the PLO. Other Gulf states continue to block such payments although the five per cent income tax continued to be collected. Palestinian sources say they are owed about $100 million, mainly from Knwait which used to be home to some 450,000 Palestinians before the Gulf war. The vast majority have been forced to leave the emirate since.

AL-ZAMIL

AIR CONDITIONERS

The only air conditioners that proved their high quality all over the Middle East area. provided with:

★ Warranty for one year

* After sale maintenance

All types & sizes are available at: Mechanical Engineers - Abdul Rahim Taha Tel. 611996, fax 624689, Tix. 21680 ARTCO & MEC Trading Corp. Tei. 642722

Orfali Art Gallery

Announces the opening of an art exhibition

Thursday, Sept. 9, 1993, at 6:00 p.m.

The gallery opens daily, except for Friday, from 10 a.m. - 1 p.m. — 4 - 10 p.m. Umm Uthaina, Kufa St. 46, behind Umm Uthaina Pharmacv

FOR ALL INTERESTED

Guitar playing training: the classic and contemporary styles — according to your wish. Studying for any grade. Don't miss it if you don't want to lag behind time. Call between 8 & 10 p.m. -(e) Tei. 659059

ARABIC FOR SPEAKERS OF OTHER LANGUAGES

The Language Centre at the University of Jordan announces that the Intensive Course in Modern Standard Arabic for Speakers of Other Langauges will commence on September 18, and will last for 16 weeks.

The programme is intensive and classes meet in the moming for 20 hourse per week, Saturday. Wednesday.

Those interested please call at the Language Centre for registration during the week prior to the beginning of the course.

The state of the s

Signs of discount rate cut grow

Japan's prime minister declares economic emergency

ter Morihiro Hosokawa Tuesday declared a "state of emergency for the Japanese economy amid growing signs of a discount rate cut by the Bank of Japan to head off a possible double-dip reces-

Mr. Hosokawa's reported remarks, made at the annual meeting of Japanese life insurance companies, came only hours after the release of a monthly report by the Economic Planning Agency (EPA) which said the economy was at a standstill.

"Moves toward recovery are seen to be stagnating," the report said, painting an even bleaker picture of the economy than the last report in August.

Bank of Japan Governor Yasushi Mieno was meanwhile quoted as saying that there were "no signs of an economic recovery" given the continued slugishness in personal consumption and capital investment.

The central bank of governor's comments were made at the same meeting as Mr. Hosokawa and were taken to mean that his outlook was now worse than last week when he said the risk of a downturn was increasing.

The downbeat assessment of the economy Tuesday came a day after the Johnan Credit Association announced a reduction in its prime lending rate from 4.25 per cent to 3.75 per cent from next

Such announcements by Johnan have frequently preceded past cuts in the Bank of Japan's official discount rate, currently at a record low of 2.5 per cent. Moreover, Jananese media have been reporting since the weekend that the bank is poised to lower the key rate by half a percentage point, probaly next week.

The ammunition justifying such a move is expected to emerge Friday when the Bank of Japan releases its quarterly survey of economic enterprises. The latest survey conducted in August is almost certain to show a further deterioration in husiness confidence from May when it slipped to an 18-year low.

"The economy is on the verge of falling back," Mr. Hosokawa was quoted as saying Tuesday, noting that the course of the economy had become "unpredictable" because of the yen's recent appreciations and Japan's coolest summer for four decades. "We would like to compile promptly various measures to respond to the current state of emergency and carry them out," the prime minister said.

Finance Minister Hiroshisa Fuji earlier ruled out the possibility of a "double-dip" recession. There are certainly bad economie indicators but there are also good ones," he told a news conference after a cahinet meeting.

EPA Director-General Manae Kubota, who submitted her agency's monthly report to the meeting, said the country's economic downturn was at a "more austere" stage than before and might be heading for a prolonged slowdown.

The report said output and inventory conditions were severe while personal consumption had been depressed by weak demand for summer clothing and airconditioners and corporate confidence eroded by the stronger

Asked about a possible discount rate cut, Mr. Fuji reiterated remarks made last week that while a reduction would have a postiive psychological effect, it was not likely to have much of an impact on reviving capital invest-

International Trade and Industry Minister Hisoshi Kumagai indicated otherwise, however. "It's time to make a cautious decision," he said.

Mr. Rosokawa meanwhile denied a report Tuesday that he had decided to propose a sup-plementary budget to parliament to revive the economy in addition to a 13.2 trillion yen ($127 hillion) package approved in April.

"We don't know anything at all yet," the prime minister told reporters. "It would take about two weeks to consider. It must be considered very cautiously."

The Yomiuri Shimbun quoted government sources as saying that the extra hudget of several trillion yeu would include a boost for public housing and an increase in loans to home huyers and small and medium-sized en-

But Ms. Kubota, the EPA chief, gave some credence to the report, saying that the seven-party evalition government should focus ou measures which would stimulate housing demand. This kind of stimulus measures is most effective," she said.

Mr. Fujü, the finance minister.

said a package of deregulatory measures now being prepared by the government to allow consumers to benefit from the stronger yen was likely to be ready in about two weeks. But there are no concrete plans for fiscal or monetary measures at this stage, he said.

Industry sources said the Japan Automobile Manufacturers' Association urged Mr. Josokawa Tuesday to adopt an additional package of pump-priming measures as soon as possible.

after notching up a group loss of have to say mat from today's 1.6 billion marks ($990.6 million) But he added that developa definite need for us to improve

> On the first press day of the fair, which opens officially Sept. 9, sportscar maker Porsche A.G. reported a 30 per cent decline in sales in the year to July 31, 1993.

Finland unveils austerity budget, predicts higher unemployment, more taxes centre-right coalition government Tuesday inveiled a draft austerity budget for 1994, predicting higher unemployment and more

The budget, which represents a decrease of 2.5 per cent in real terms compared with this year's budget, totals 188 billion markaa (about $32.4 billion), and the government is predicting a modest one per cent growth in gross domestic product (GDP) for 1993

after a 2.5 per cent drop this year. The estimate is based on the sumption that wage settlement will not raise labour costs in private sector next year. In public sector the wages will drop.

After a decade of stable economic growth in the 1980's, the Finnish economy is going through its most serious crisis since independeuce in 1917.

Finland's total output has dropped 15 per cent in three years time, and in June more than

White House Tuesday recommended a wide array of cuts, consolidations and changes in the federal bureaucracy that it said would save $108 billion by cen-

The streamlined government would have 252,000 fewer jobs, with thousands of federal employees phased out through attrition, buyouts, early retirement and retraining for private sector

Reducing the civilian, non-postal work force by 12 per cent over the next five years would bring the federal payroll below two million employees for the first time since 1967.

The report from the so-called

National Performance Review,

which has six months in the making, said its proposals would "reduce waste, eliminate unneeded bureaucracy, improve services to taxpayers and create a leaner but more productive government."

A colourful, breezily written, 168-page report, "From red tape to results: Creating a government that works better and costs less," recommended cutting wasteful and duplicative programmes, in-

Ten per cent of the Agriculture

Department's 12,000 field offices

/ regional offices at the De-field staff by 1,500. Estimated savings: $167 million.

Five of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers' 11 field offices, esti-mated savings: $68 million.

The recommendations embrace old or ongoing studies by the departments and agencies-themselves. The report did not HELSINKI (AFP) - Finland's 500,000 people of the five million population were without work. Next year nnemployment. which only three years ago was 3.4 per cent, is expected to continue to rise, reaching 19 per cent > next year. Unemployment is set to remain high for several years hut should start falling during 1994, the government said.

"The main priority of the government is to reduce the high level of unemployment. This must be achieved by increasing private sector production and employment, as the public sector is not in a position to increase employment," the government said.

In its hudget proposal, the government said that wage costs of the national public sector will be reduced by 6.5 per cent, central government transfers to local authorities are reduced substantially, and unemployment benefits are being curtailed.

plan to overhaul government apparently leaving it up to agency and department heads to determine which offices would be shut

As expected, the White House said law enforcement functions of the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) should be merged into the FBI, saving $187 million over five years.

The White House wants to merge the law enforcement arm of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms (ATF) with the FBI and combine ATF's regulatory and revenue functions with the Internal Revenue Service.

But the report says the idea can wait until after the FBI-DEA merger is complete. The ATF currently is in the Treasury De-

The report did not say how many of the 252,000 targeted positions actually are filled by employees now, or how much would be saved by cutting the workers. It also did not say precisely how many of the 800 recommendations needed congres-interview with the Associated half" of the recommendations re-

House hopes to get from its plan to "reinvent government" would come from programme cuts and system changes. But higher fees small part of the equation.

and fewer tax breaks are also a

The National Performance Review Report said $108 billion would be saved by the end of

The first real savings — $12.6 billion — would come in fiscal year 1995, which begins Oct. 1, 1991. But according to the report, the figure includes $500 million in savings that many come from the Most of the savings the White quire an OK from Congress.

Vice President Al Gore in an

Monday, said "lewer than sional approvat.

fiscal year 1999.

White House announces

WASHINGTON (AP) - The include specific closings,

Russia agrees to share rouble with five former republics five former Soviet republics Tuesday agreed to use the rouble as their common currency and announced plans to sign a new economic union treaty in the near

Today, we have in fact laid the foundation for an economic union," Russian Prime Minister Viktor Chernomyrdin stated after signing the currency accord with bank and government officials from Armenia, Belarus, Kazakh-stan, Tajikistan and Uzbekistan, ITAR-TASS reported.

The rouble accord came six weeks after Russia withdrew pre-1993 banknotes from circulation and invalidated billions of old Soviet rouble still in use in several former republics in a bid to tighten its control over the currency.

The agreement "on practical measures to set up a new type of rouhle zone" called for using the rouble as the sole means of payment on the territory of the six fiscal year that hegins next

The savings get better each year after that: $18.8 billion in 1996. $21.9 billion in 1997, $21.7

billiou in 1998, and $30 billion in fiscal year 1999, according to the report.

The report calls for:
Streamlining the bureaucracy to do more with less, "eliminating unnecessary layers of management and nonesseutial staff,

Marking changes in individual gencies: $36.1 billion.

Changing the way government buys items: $22.5 billion.

government systems such as com-

Simplifying paperwork and re-ducing administrative work: $3.3

The benefits of reducing the work force by 252,000 positions are apparently split between the first two of those categories. The discussion of worker reductions singles out - in broad terms - supervisors, beadquarters staff, personnel specialists, budget analysts, procurement specialists,

Not all of the $108 billion comes from cutbacks. An appendix to the report says $500 million would be raised by repealing the tax credit for adding wine or flavouring to liquour. Another

$15 million would be raised by eliminating a tax credit for alco-

National Performance Review

team who spoke on condition of anonymity said the Treasury Department singled out the tax hreaks because administering them took a lot of paperwork.

"We could do away with all of and got money along the way,' the official said.

put everybody on even keel

An official on Mr. Gore's hol dealers.

accountants and auditors.

Consolidating and modernising

$10.1 billion saved.

puters: $5,1 billion.

month.

countries and for coordinating adding that the heads of state of budget, credit, interest rate and customs policies.

Under the terms of the accord, the Russian Central Bank became the sole centre for currency emission for the six countries.

Russian Central Bank Governor Viktor Gerashehenko however warned that the new rouble zone would have to be enforced with harmonised legislation, adding that a "long and difficult process" lay ahead for the members of the new rouble alliance, Interfax reported.

"Government officials who are hoping to quickly solve their eco-nomic problems are sadly mis-'takeu,'' Mr. Gerasheheuko

In a joint statement carried by the news agency, representatives from the six countries said they were "aware of the objective need to safeguard their common economic space and of the high degree of mutual economie dependence" between the former Soviet republics.

"A concrete step has been made towards deepening the economie integration of the six states," the statement said, the countries would meet in the near future to sign the comonic

Russia, Belarus and Ukraine two months ago also announced plans to set up a new econom union within the framework of the Commonwealth of Independent States (CIS) and Moscow stated that Central Asian republies would have to choose between the proposed Slav. dominated union or an alliance with Muslim countries to the south. Kazakhstan, Tajikistan and Uzbekistan had announced plans to join a customs union under the anspices of the Organisation for Economic Cooperation set by Turkey, Iran and Pakistan in Armenia meanwhile has backed off from its plans to introduce its own currency as its economy continues to be rocked by the five-year undeclared war against Azerbaijan over the enclave of Nagorno-Karabakh.

Russia has repeatedly accused former Soviet republics of fuelling inflation by issuing soft credits

Sudan sells needy cut-price food

KHARTOUM (R) — The Sudanese government has said it had provided 582 million pounds ($3.5 million) worth of flour. cooking oil, tea, soap and other basic supplies to needy workers.

Bashir Abdul Salaam, secretary of a government committee on aid for the needy, told the newspaper Al Ingaz Al Watam the commodities were sold at "reasonable" prices at places of nork. Skyrocketting prices have brought widespread misery in Sudan a Military ruler Omar Hassan Al Bashir ordered special measures in July to help the poor. Mr. Abdul Salaam gave no details of how the workplace food sales were carried out but said his committee was taking a survey before establishing a new system for distribution of essential commodities:

HOROSCOPE

FORECAST FOR WEDNESDAY SEPTEMBER 8, 1993

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This morning finds you eager to make some sudden and dramatic changes or to indicate irritability with coworkers which would be unwise. Instead be inventive and circumvent the problem."

ARIES: (March 21 to April 19) You have to adopt a new attitude if you are to get out from under an tonight you see clearly a new path-

TAURUS: (April 20 to May 20) A change in better understanding va-rious friends and companions is present during the daytime while tonight finds you in tune with enjoyments you like.

GEMUNI: (May 21 to June 21) Get outsiders of influence and family members to better understand one another in a forthright fashion then you can get into organised tasks for the future.

MOON CHILDREN: (June 22 to July 21) Financial interests could wisely occupy your attention dur-ing business hours but consult with bigwigs, tonight you can have a happy time with your mafe.

LEO: (July 22 to August 21) You have a good friend who can explain to and show you how to be more productive today while tonight consider ways to extend your re-

VIRGO: (August 22 to September 22) Whatever you have in mind where and agreement with an influential person is concerned re-

THE Daily Crossword by Frank R. Jackson

By Thomas S. Pierson, Astrologer, Carroll Righter Foundation quires you pay more attention to his views, tonight you can enjoy a public figure.

LIBRA: (September 23 to October 22) A confidential chat with a person of importance during the day shows you the way to do tasks better, then lonight do what will improve relations with associates.

ber 21) Although property and financial affairs are important to-day, it is also a particularly vital time to make arrangements for future recreations with close com-

SAGITTARIUS: (November 22 to December 21) You are highly personal in your reactions to persons and conditions today hut also handle worldly interests, tonight invite guests into your home.

CAPRICORN: (December 22 to January 20) Think about what you can best do to put new ideas into effect in your everyday routine: with the aid of a bigwig, tonight go out and enjoy a hobby.

AQUARIUS: (January 21 to Febru ary 19) A compassionate per will show how to be most helpfu! a person who looks to you for aid while tohight you can find ways to PISCES: (February 20 to March 20) You need to be in the world of outside activity to get best results of todays aspects and to get a long time friend to lend you a hand with a public matter.

German carmakers gloomy at start of motor show

FRANKFURT (R) — German carmakers opened Frankfurt international motor show Tuesday with a series of gloomy predictions and worries that no end is in sight to the global recession on

Most car experts say that, as the recession has tightened its grip on the whole European industry, there is unlikely to be any clear recovery until autumn 1994 at the carliest. Ferdinand Piech, the chief executive of European market leader Volkswagen A.G. (V.W.) made elear that his company's earnings were going to be hit by the first fall in sales figures that V.W. has experienced for 11

He told a news conference: "Despite a glimmer of hope in the German national marketplace, unfortunately we realise that the recession is far from over

THE BETTER HALF.

"I've always wanted to be your knight in shining armor, but all I can afford is aluminum foil."

JUMBLE THAT SCRAMBLED WORD GAME

by Henri Arnold

WHAT THE BORED

ERCUSSION PLAYER

WORK WAS,

Now arrange the circled letters to form the surprise answer, as sug-gested by the above cartoon.

THOUGHT HIS

in the first half of 1993.

ments in several of V.W.'s overseas markets, Including North America and Asia-Pacific, were giving cause for concern. V.W. company sources say that problems at V.W's Spanish subsidiary Seat in particular could prevent that company from making a profit at the group level this Adam Opel, the German subsidiry of General Motor Corp.

(G.M.) of the United States, reflected the generally hleak out-Opel, at the centre of a major row with V.W. over industrial

By Glasbergen

GLASBERGEN

in the foreign automobile mar-ket."

Mr. Piech was ahle to amnounce that V.W. had made a modifier for both Inhia decided a specific for both very difficult to stay in the black during the upcoming months of this year. In this respect there is our cost situation," be said.

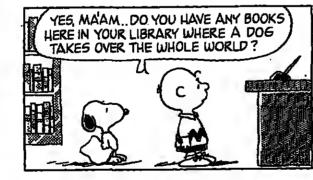

Its Chairman Wendelin

profit for both July and August man David Herman added: "I perspective it appears it will be > nationwide. Estimated savings through the 1999 fiscal year: $1.7 partment of Housing and Urban Development, plus a promise to "pare down" its system of 80 field offices and cut its 10,000-person

Wiedeking also repeated a forecast made at the start of 1993 Porsche would make a loss of less than 240 million marks ($148.6 million) for the whole 1992/1993 business year.

Peanuts

Andy Capp

Mutt'n'Jeff

Impatience 10 Show a difference 14 Pace 15 Of the ear 16 Rose's love 17 Pot of gold : 20 Farm tool 20 Family 1001 manufacturer 21 Mental attitude 22 Barrley product 25 Born 26 Old Franch coin 29 Coronet 31 Manufacturer 31 Marriage rite 36 Years: Lat. 38 Monastic tit fence straddler 15 Wals, to statum producer 44 Sallor 45 Singer James 46 Mountain range 47 Fall bloomer 49 Layer 50 — Diego 52 Loot 54 Omament of ribbon 58 Clocked 62 Certain point of 65 Before: pref. 66 Between: pret. 67 NC college

68 Upbeat economic DOWN
1 Matured
2 Bowling alley
3 Right-hand ma
4 Tempest
5 Cheshire, e.g.
6 Exclamation of 39 Termagant 41 Renter 42 Makes lace

Yesterday's Puzzle Solved: GRAGE CAMP AMAS
AARUM LEEB YELA
EVALUMARIE EUIT
SEILE EDU MAMANE USER DISSUES PASSES SYSTEM
ELMER GALEA WOE
ELMER GALEA WOE
EEN DATAB ARTICLE
LMPOTES PRIC haven
9 Aircraft
10 Movers' movers
11 French deric 12 Disorder out of 13 Archer's wood 18 Big deed 19 imagine 23 Criminal toser 24 Tapioca source 26 Brazilian dance 27 Bulb 27 Bulb 30 Floats 32 Traditional 33 Molar 34 Marble 35 Fc . "on 37 Out of action

48 Pro — 51 Open courts 53 Ocnator 54 Gambling to 55 Aware of 56 Pipe section 57 Selamonto 60 Jacket type 61 Unit of force 63 --- whizi

RUMON

HUBYS

TUMONI

GEULED

Print answer here:

Jumbles: ADMIT HITCH GEYSER NATURE

What the horse thought this wife looked like as she prepared for bed-A NIGHT-MARE

100 and 1

5-27

· - - 5×2

edv

.....

3 (4)

10.00

4

A 75

7.7

ΩŢ.

D7/09/1993 JORDAN MATTOWN BANK CAIRO AMBAN BANK HIODLE EAST INVESTMENT BANK IMPOSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT BANK JOHNSH ISLANIC HANK DETON HANK FOR SAVING & INVESTIGE BUSINESS SANK A THABBLESHE & LINVINCE BYRE SCHOOL INVESTMENT TO STATE THE PRILADELPHIA INVESTMENT BANK. PRILADELPHIA INVESTMENT BANK. JORDAN INSCHANCE

$.900
40.000
40.000
2.900
1.950
4.800
1.950
4.800
1.780
1.780
1.450
1.450
1.100
2.150
2.150
0.550
4.070
0.550
4.070
0.550
4.750
0.550
1.750
0.550
1.750
0.550
1.750
0.550
1.750
0.550
1.750
0.550
1.750
0.550
1.750
0.550
1.750
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550
0.550 5.850, 40.000
1.970
4.000
3.951
4.000
3.951
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200
4.200 5.800
40.000
1.970
3.920
2.890
4.290
4.290
4.290
4.290
4.290
4.700
2.100
2.170
1.960
4.490
1.960
4.700
2.170
1.960
4.700
2.170
1.960
4.700
2.170
1.960
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760
3.760 THE SURGAN CONTROL NAMES
JOHNAY PORTHUGHEN REFTHARY
THE IMPOSTRICAL CONSENTIAL AGRICULTURAL
THE SURGAN WORSTED HILLE
ARMS PREPROCEUTICAL HARDFACTURING ARAB EFFEETHERT & THERM ARAB ALOHIBIUM INDUSTRY ARAB PARTERION INDUSTRY
ARABA PARTE CONVENTING & TRADISO RATIONAL FYELL INDUSTRY
1STERMEDIATE PERFORMINGAL INDUSTRIES
UNIVERSAL CHEMICAL INDUSTRIES
JORDAN INDUSTRIES & MATCH/JIMED
JORDAN PERCALT COMPEREY LEVERSE PRECAUT CONCRETE IND L CABLE & WIRE HANDS

TOTAL

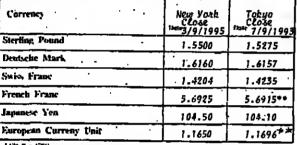

MODERN INDUSTRIES

NO. OF TRADED EMARES IN PARALLEL MARKET TRADED VOLUME IN THE PARALLEL MARKET

Financial Markets

Jordan Times Cairo Amman Bank

U.S. Dollar in International Market

horogens Docating or Most was, 45MT

| Eurocurrency Interest Ra | SOE 4 | | Date: 7/ | 111993 |
|--------------------------|-------|--------|-------------|--------|
| Currency | I MTH | 3 MTHS | 6 MTHS | 12 MTH |
| U.S. Dollar 🤼 . | 3.12 | 3.06 | 3.78 | 5.37 |
| Sterling Pound | 5.87 | 5.68 | 5 75 | 5.62 |
| Deutscire Mark | 6.68 | 6.43 | 6.25 | 5.87 |
| Swige Franc | 4.75 | 4.63 | 4.50 | 4.25 |
| French Franc | 7.68 | -7.31 | 6.62 | 6.17 |
| Japanese Yeu | 2.90 | 2.65 | 2.62 | 2.62 |
| European Currency Unit | 8.13 | 7-88 | 7.44 . | 6.75 |

| recious N | letals | | | Date: 7/9 | /1993 |
|-----------|--------|-------|--------|-----------|-------|
| Metal | USD/Oz | JD/Gm | Metal | USD/Oz | JD/Gm |
| Gold | 363.05 | 7.20 | Silver | 4.53 | 0.100 |

| | Date: 7/9/1995 | | |
|----------------|----------------|----------|--|
| Currency | Bid | Offer | |
| U.S. Dollar | 0.6880 | 0.6900 | |
| Sterling Pound | 1.0514 | 1 - 0567 | |
| Deutsche Mark | 0.4261 | 0.4282 | |
| Suks Franc | 0.4845 | 0.4869 | |
| French Franc | 0_1212 | 0.7218 | |
| Japanese Yen | 0.6602 | 0.6635 | |
| Dutch Guilder | 0.3795 | 0.3814 | |
| Swedish Krona | C-0869 | 0.0875 | |
| Italiza Lira | 0.0440 | 0.0442 | |
| Belgian Franc | 0.01935 | 0.01945 | |

| Fer 105 | | | | |
|------------------|--|----------------|----------|--|
| Other Currencies | | Date: 7/9/1993 | | |
| Currency | - 1 | Pid . | Offer | |
| Behraini Dinar | | 1.7950 | 1.8250 | |
| Lebanese Lira | .  | 0.059545 | 0.040475 | |
| Sandi Riyal | | 0.1750 | 0.1850 | |
| Kuwaiti Dinar | | 2.2600 | 2.3400 | |
| Qateri Riyal | | 0.1855 | 0.1875 | |
| Egyptian Pound | | 0.2000 | 0.2300 | |
| Orumi Riyal | | 1.7500 | 1.8000 | |
| (IAE Dirham | | 0.1855 | 0.1875 | |
| Greek Druckma | | 0.2875 | 0.3285 . | |
| Cypriot Pound | | 1.3575 | 1.3985 | |
| | | | | |

LONDON EXCHANGE RATES

LONDON (R) — Following are the buying and selling rates for leading world currencies and gold against the dollar at midsession on the London Foreign Exchange and bullion markets Tuesday.

U.S. $1.00 costs 1.3228/38 1,6185/95 1.8150/60 1.4243/53 34.90/05 5.6900/00 1565.0/7.0 103.70/80 7.9320/52

Canadian dollar Deutschemarks Dutch guilders Swiss francs Belgian francs French francs Italian lire Japanese yen Swedish crowns

7.0500/00 Danish crowns 6.6580/78 One sterling $363,00/363,40 One onnce of gold

Jordan moves to update financial, economic laws

By Samir Shafiq Special to the Jordan Times

AMMAN — Finance Minister Sami Gammo told a gathering of businessmen Monday night that the departments of customs, income tax and lands and survey were reviewing legislations and regulations in order to modernise work procedures and, at the same time, simplify dealings with the public.

He told the group of about 300 personalities from both the private and public sectors that financial reforms/started Monday as new administrative regulations were issued "freeing the free zones from all administrative restrictions, routine and interference by various authorities."

The minister said that the new regulations "lay down the clear basis as to how to deal with an investor and how to handle the entry and exit of goods, whether in transit or to the local consumpary of Abu Dbabi's main investment arm bas boosted its capital

as part of a plan to expand

The capital increase was ($30 million) in 1992.

tion." The new regulations also cover the entry of raw materials and other necessary inputs in addition to miscellaneous requirements needed by investors in order to turn the free zones into attractive investment sites, the minister added.

Reforms in the area of customs were ootlined by Mr. Gammo to be first, a government adoption of the international system of classification and description of goods starting the beginning of next year. "The system does not affect the tariff structure as it is only a harmonised international system approved by the Brussels-based Customs Corporation Council and used by 135 countries," explained Mohammad Al Jamal, director general of the Depart-ment of Customs). Secondly, Mr. Gammo said.

measures bave been taken to simplify work procedures at ail from its majority shareholder,

Abu Dhabi Investment Authority

(ADIA) which handles the Abu

Dhabi government's internation-

Bankers said ADIC's capital

ABU DHABI (R) - A subsidi- and by converting part of a loan achieved through a share offering was raised to 250 million dirhams

Abu Dhabi investment company increases capital computerisation of all customs

The final customs reform, customs law to make amendments that would include expandthe establishment of free zones, giving additional privileges to and differentiating between "smuggling" and "violating."

Mr. Gammo said instructions had also been given to open technical centres for the Land and Survey Department in all the governorates in order to avoid forcing people to come to Amman for every small transactioo.

Instructions bave also been given for land registry departments facing work pressure to ($68 million) io Juoe by issuing more than 1.3 million new shares.

all of them snapped op by ADIA.

National Bank of Abu Dhabi is

The first annual installment of $25 million was paid in July 1992.

Only

The Best

Many furnished and unfurnished villas apartments for rent.

Abdoun

Real

also a shareholder in ADIC.

customs centres and to upgrade the level of services through the operations and delegation of authorities to the heads of the cen-

which is currently being made, involves rewriting the existing ing decentralisation, encouraging temporary entry" beneficiaries remain opeo until 4 p.m. to enable citizens to conclude their deals, Mr. Gammo said. He said that, in cooperation with the Mioistry of Justice, laws pertaining to lands were under review for amendments and modernisation.

Sami Gammo

Another study is currently ex-

ADIC plans to boost capital further in 1994 and 1995 by converting the remaining $50 million the company's annual report due for release this week.

amining the income tax law to make amendments to it "with the aim of widening the base of taxation, lowering tax levels and simplifying collection procedures." Mr. Gammo rejected claims that the current income tax, or any modified one, negatively affected investment in the Kingdom. He stressed that investment decisions were not based on the tax level but, rather, on the returns on investments.

The minister affirmed that the link between tax exemptions and investment was extremely weak and that investors weigh primarily the overall climate and that the decisive decision is specifically built on the returns factor.

On the proposed sales tax, Mr. Gammo saw indirect taxes were the most just in developing countries, and that the sales tax will be introduced shortly.

"It (sales tax) is Jordan's destiny to implement the tax," he

He elaborated that an International Monetary Fund (IMF) team arrived in Jordan Sunday at the request of the government to explain to the concerned personnel the benefits of the sales tax and the steps that should be taken to implement it.

The minister noted that the IMF had all the necessary knowledge and experience about the sales tax, baving supervised its application in over 85 countries.

Mr. Gammo described the sales tax as fair as it affects the largest base of taxpayers and is to be collected on the basis of consumption.

Answering a question about businesses suffering from the overzealous inspection on ships sailing to Aqaba, Mr. Gammo said that a U.N. committee to look into compensation for damages from the sanctions on Iraq was due to arrive Tuesday in Amman.

"We made all the necessary arrangements to ensure that the committee meets all concerned government and private sector institutions in order to get the full information about Jordan's losses resulting from the sanctions on Iraq," he said.

Mr. Gammo confirmed report carried by the Jordan Times last month that Jordan bad secured a 60 per cent reduction on its foreign commercial debt.

He said that an agreement reached with 80 banks to reschedule the $895 million of commercial debt would be signed next month.

Under the terms of the agreement, the commercial debt volume was reduced by no less than 60 per cent and the payment of interest would be about $41 million to be paid annually over 30 years instead of $81 million had the agreement not been reached.

The minister said the Paris Club bas agreed to extend the rescheduling of loans from June 30, 93 to Feb. 28, 1994. Based on this extension. $253 million of installments and interest will be reschedoled to no less than 15 vears with a seven-year grace period.

The gathering was the 9th organised by the Jordanian Businessmen Associatioo.

DANZA5

INTERNATIONAL DOOR TO DOOR REMOVALS

GERMAN DRIVERS - AIR - RIDDEN REMOVAL TRUCKS

YOUR REGULAR LINK TO AND FROM EUROPE

SPECIALISTS FOR DIPLOMATIC REMOVALS

FOR DETAILED INFORMATION PLEASE CONTACT

EASTERN SERVICES

OFFICIAL DANZAS AGENT IN JORDAN

TEL: 621 775 TLX: 23023 FAX: 656 270 PEACE BUILDING - JABAL LWEIBDEH

. AMMAN - JORDAN

IN THE NEAR EAST

Bankers said the Abu Dhabi al investments. Bankers said ADIC's capital Investment Comapny (ADIC) raised paid-up capital to 341.8 million dirhams ($93 million) this ADIC's 1992 balance sheet was "With its oew capital structure was boosted further to 341.8 mildistributed to banks after an exin place, ADIC intends to inlion dirhams in July by converting crease investment and merchant traordioary meeting earlier this into share capital 25 per cent of a $100 million subordinated loan banking activities," a seoior year from I10.3 million dirhams year approving the capital res-ADIA granted ADIC in 1982. banker told Reuters. tructuring. It will be published in

THE PROFESSIONALS

ALWAYS CHOOSE

THE RELIABLE

PACKING, AIR FREIGHT FORWARDING, DOOR-to DOOR SERVICES AND DELIVERIES, CUSTOMS CLEARANCE, TICKETS AND, RESERVATIONS.

AMIN KAWAR & SONS P.O.BOX 7806

Daily Lunch

Set Menu

Parole

RESTAURANT

Shmeison! Tel 660250

Tel: 824677

Chinese, Thai, Phillipino, Indonisian &

World wide programmes VIA satelilte

Five branches all over the world and now one

Malaysian specialities

Live Band "6" nights a week

In Amman.

STUDIO HAIG Professional Quality in I Hour Service.
Develop your colour film at our shop and get:-

· JUMBO photo size 30% larger · Free enlargement 20 x 30 cm

Skmeisani - Opp. Grindlays Bank. Phone: 604042 Swefich tel: 823891 -

CHEN'S

CHINESE

RESTAURANT

Mecca Street, Yarmouk Engineers' Housing

Estate, near Kilo

Supermarket

Mongolian Barbeque for Lunch Friday only

Tel: 818214

Come and laste our specialities

Open daily 12:00 - 3:30

6:30 - Midnight

RESTAURANT & GARDEN

Friday SP.M Midnight

653482

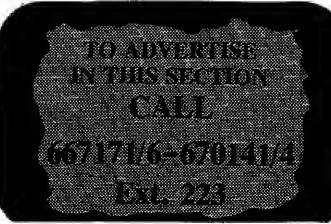

CHINA HOUSE Restaurant

2nd circle - Jabal Amman.

pektail - Piano Bar Opening Soon The First Class Hotel in Amman that has a Kitchenette in every room... "Satellite T.V. Reception"

Amman - Tel. 668193

P.O.Box 9403 - Fax 602434

Telex 23888 DAROTL JO

Ideai Residence For

Expatriates and Businessmen

SZECHWAN GARDENS

La Coquette DAROTEL French Cuisine حاراوتيل Lunch & Dinner

7 days a week Tel. 680093/4 Fax. 823864 Shmeisani-Near Babish Amman-Jordan

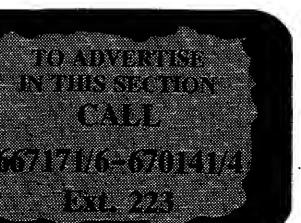

p.m.

7:00 — Midnight

Tel. 638968

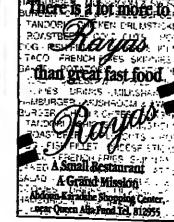

Tel. 630571 Fax. 630572

Open Daily

Norwegian crowns

IS NOW OPEN. TEL. 654205

Kashmer Restaurant FIRST CLASS INDIAN THE SUMMER TERRACE RESTAURANT Special Executive Luncheons Take away service available Open Daily 12.30~3.30 pm

7,30-11,30 pm Iter the Philadelphia Hotel Towards 3rd circle Tel.659519 659520

Eussia says Turkish troops f red on guards in Armenia troops in Armenia reported Tuesday they came under fire from Turkish soldiers on the other side of the border despite mounting diplomatic activity to defuse tensions in the Caucasus.

Azerbaijan's acting president, Geidar Aliyev, meanwhile held a second day of talks with Russian officials in Moscow focussing on the conflict with Armenia over Nagorno-Karabakh and Russian sistance in resolving it, ITAR-TASS said.

A spokesman for the Russian Border Guards told AFP that Turkish troops had fired late Monday on Border Post 14 in the Octemberian region west of

No injuries were reported and the Russian Guards did not return fire, but a Border Guard official in Yerevan quoted by ITAR-TASS said the Gnards Headquarters had filed an official protest over the incident.

It was the second time in as many days that Russian Border Guards reported shots being fired into Armenian territory from the wher side of the border, where Turkey has massed at least four infantry battalions. The Guards official quoted by ITAR-TASS also denounced the construction of new fortifications on the Turkish side of the border and movement by Turkish armoured vehicles and patrols in

Turkish Prime Minister Tansu

Delegates at 23-party talks did

(TEC) Monday, allowing time for series of closed-door meetings.

negotiator Roelf Meyer told jourmatters" had to be finalised. But breaking non-racial election.

saying 80 per cent of members

Government also does not agree with the ANC's demand that the TEC bas the final say over whether President F.W. De

Klerk can declare emergency rule, according to a report Tues-until Friday to finalise agreements to be presented for approval to a special sitting of the starting in Cape Town on Sept.

draft bills for independent media,

election and broadcasting commissions as part of the package designed to pave the way for the to negotiations, Inkatha Freedom

Party (IFP) leader Mangosuthu

Buthelezi confirmed Tuesday that he would meet with President De Klerk on Sept. 16. Mr. Buthelezi pulled the IFP protest against the setting of April.

Pope condemns Soviet

In what could provide a boost reached soon.

majority.

Day newspaper.

April poll.

nalists that a "few outstanding forward.

ANC, Pretoria differ

JOHANNESBURG (A — April 27 as the election date, and Strong differences between the has said he would not support any African National Congress agreements negotiators reached (ANC) and the government rave in the IFP's absence.

emerged over a vital draft den o- Mr. De Klerk has expressed cracy bill, but negotiators were hope that the summit between

Tuesday hopeful of reaching a him and Mr. Buthelezi will bring not debate the draft bill on the been ambive ont about the meet-the ANC and the government to his return from Britain on Tues-resolve their differences at a day about his expectations for the Minister and chief government process forward. We are all grop-

he said consensus should be police reported finding ten bodies parties a role in government and hringing to at least 78 the number to level the playing field ahead of the scheduled April 27 ground-

The TEC aims to give major township east of Johannesburg

The ANC and the government township and has again become disagree over the percentage sup- the focus of violence, with the ten port needed in the TEC to pass corpses found Tuesday adding to decisions, with the government the 26 victims found since Friday.

must support a decision, while the townships of Tokoza, Kalle-the ANC favours a 66 per cent "csloorus and Daveyton in day in Johannesburg's Business ported 38 deaths since Friday,

Democracy negotiators have townships near Cape Town.

white-dominated parliament were shot dead by Ciskei home-out of negotiations on July 2 in resumption of democracy talks in attempt to snuff out religion

They have already agreed on radio reported.

Constitutional Development "Nothing more than to take the over democracy bill

Transitional Executive Council ing's prospects.

Ciller, due in Moscow Wednes-day to discuss border tensions in the Caucasus, told the Istanbul newspaper Hurriyet this week she would ask parliament for a declaration of war if Armenia attacked the Azerbaijani enclave of Nakhichevan along the Turkish

Iranian Foreign Minister Ali Akbar Valayati, quoted by the Iranian News Agency (IRNA), Monday, also asserted that Tehran will not remain silent to the Armenian aggression" in Azerbaijani territory.

Iran has also concentrated troops along its northern border with Azerbaijan and has agreed to set up some 50,000 tents in southern Azerbaijan for refugees fleeing the fighting in the sonthwest of the country.

On Thursday, bowever, Mos-cow was to host an unofficial meeting of the so-called "Minsk group" of the Conference on Security and Cooperation in Europe (CSCE) to discuss the conflict around Nagorno-Karabakh.

The session was expected to be attended by representatives from Karabakh who were to sit down for the first time for formal negotiations with representatives of Azerbaijan.

The meeting also marks Russia's return to centre stage in mediating the Karabakh inflict and coincided with admiss. is by Mr. Aliyev that Azerbaijaı, was considering joining the Comn. vn-

the Zulu-based IFP back into the process, but Mr. Buthelezi has Asked at a media briefing upon summit, Mr. Buthelezi replied:

ing for a way to take the process

Meanwhile, South Africa

early Juesday in Tohoza black

Janua assurg t eastern

Over 500 people were killed in

......... Vestoorus and Daveyton in July and August, mainly in clashes between supporters of the African National Congress and Natal province, scene of eight years of bitter conflict between

ANC and IFP supporters, re-while four people were killed in

In a separate development, a wreath was laid Tuesday on the site where 28 ANC marchers land soldiers during a protest march on Sept. 7 last year, state

The 28 protestors were killed and hundreds more injured as they reached the border between

South Africa and the nominally

Three weeks after the slayings,

the ANC and the government reached a record of understanding that paved the way for the independent black homelan

ing a March on the Ciskei.

Bisho as part of the ANC'

Inkatha Freedom Party.

doing and will be doing every-thing possible to settle the Kara-hakh conflict by peaceful conflic hy peaceful Velavati.

wealth of Independent States wide moral and financial support to its ethnic kin in Nagorno-Karabakh. But Yerevan says it is Membership in the CIS would not involved in the conflict directpermit Azerbaijan to sign on to a > Tehran bas not reacted officially to reports by the Turkish government last week that Iranian troops on the Azeri border had been reinforced.

The Russian Foreign Ministry Tnesday expressed concern over Iran having sent troops into Azer-

A Foreign Ministry spokesman said "we cannot support such action from Iran, whatever the motive." Gregory Karassin said these incursions would lead to "an escalation in the conflict" and increased the "risks of internationalisation" of the conflict between Azerbaijan and the Armenians over the enclave of Nagorno-Karabakh.

The ministry a' o said it "disagreed" with : : "Nagorno-Karabakh Self-D. :nce Force's" offensive deep in . Azerbaijani territory towards ae Armenian

Iran is to set up camps just inside Azerbaijani territory for around 200,000 refugees who fled Armenian attacks last month in sonthwestern Azerbaijan, the head of the Iranian Red Crescent said Monday.

Iran sent security forces along the Arax River on its border with Azerbaijan officially to contain Azeri refugees and to guard two Armenia has been rendering dams under construction.

Former first lady Imeida Marcos (right) accome Marcos Jr. (left) and Imee Manotoc (centre) sing the Philippine national anthem before the flag

draped coffin of the late strongman Ferdin Marcos upon arrial at Lacag City Airport Tues-day (AFP photo)

Marcos' body arrives in Philippines

LAOAG, Philippines (R) - Imelda Marcos slumped in tears over the flag-draped coffin of her husband Ferdinand Marcos Tuesday after the body of the disgraced former president was brought home to a delirions welcome from diebard supporters. Mumbling behind her black veil, the 64-year-old former first lady rested her head on the coffin as it arrived in Lacag Plaza to lie in state. She smoothed the flag with her hand before heing belped away by her tearful daughter Imee.

But despite the bysteria of the most fervent loyalists with their hats, T-shirts and umbrellas printed with "I love FM", the crowds were only a fraction of what organisers had been expect-

Elaborate plans had been made for up to one million people, but fewer than 20,000 were at Laoag Airport in Marcos' northern stronghold to welcome him home and to accompany his coffin mounted on a borse-drawn carriage into the city.

Imelda Marcos refused to answer any questions about the low turnout, saying only: "Thank God, he's home."

As rain began to fall over Lacag the remaining crowds meted away, leaving the Marcos family, friends and political allies to stand vigil over the body.

Ilocos Norte Governor Rodolorganising the funeral, said: "A lot of people will be coming in after today. We expect people to be coming as the days go on."

The low numbers did not detract from the fervour of the lovalists who travelled from Manila 400 kilometres away. The arrival of the body on a stage built in front of the Ilocos Norte provincial capitol was the culmination of an emotional day of homecoming ceremonies for the man hailed as a god by some and as a tyrant who plundered his nation by others. Marcos is accused of trampling buman rights and, with his associates, looting up to $10 billion during his 20-year rule. He was ousted by a "people power" re-volt in 1986 and died in exile in Hawaii in 1989.

But his loyalist supporters refuse to accept the charges against

"He deserves more than be's getting, I am hoping that history will be kind to him in the end," said one of his closest associates

Eduardo "Danding" Cojuangeo. Missing was current President Fidel Ramos, who refused to attend the funeral of his distant cousin and a man be once served as national police chief.

Instead he sent his sister Senator Leticia Ramos Shahani with a message of sympathy and recon-

Mr. Ramos banned a Manila Juneral for Mr. Marcos, citing the danger that his return to the capital could incite trouble between loyalists and anti-Marcos

As the plane arrived from an overnight stop in Gnam, through security men and surged towards the runway.

As they surrounded the plane, defying efforts of police to keep them back, Imelda Marcos broke into tears..

"Our sighs and sobs are endless because of your passing away... your love and care have ceased when your life we could not redeem," a priestess chanted in funeral rites that covered the spectrum of Christian, Muslim and tribal beliefs.

Marcos' widow, wearing a tra-ditional black Philippine dress bke her two daughters, stepped forward as 12 retired generals in full dress uniform carried the casket of the former president from the plane.

Among the mourners were loyalists from the Alpha Omega cult which believe Marcos is a

Our God is Ferdinand Marcos, he is the highest father. The holy spirit will announce today that be is the highest God," said white-robbed Francisca Salindong as she waited for her hero to Marcos is to be temporarily interred in a mansoleum in his hometown Batac Friday until Mr. Ramos allows a Manila funeral.

If his remains stay in good conditions after three days of lying in state in the tropical heat, he will be put on display in a glass

Family embalmer Frank injections of preservatives, he could keep the body preserved thousands of loyalists broke for up to 10 years at least.

ern Sikkim state as disputed.

India says Peking occupies about 33,000 square kilometres in the Aksai Chin region of the northern Jammu and Kashmir

Chinese Foreign Ministry spokesman Wu Jianmin cited a at the morning summit and quoted Premier Li as saying very harmonions" atmosphere positive progress" was made in

Mr. Wu quoted Mr. Rao as saying: "It can be said that now relations between India and China are mature" and that minor differences had not been allowed politics, economics and trade dur-

Britain says 6-year-old beef is safe and the second second ***

LONDON (R) - Britain has refused to withdraw six-year-old beef, released from European Community stocks, from sale to the public. Food Minister Nicolas Soames said the beef was now dangerous and it was impossible for humans to contact "mad cow" disease. Bovine Spongiform Encephalopathy (BSE), from the meat. The public can have every confidence in the really important thing ... this is high quality meat, stored under the strictest European and government controls," he said. News of the aged mean caused a furore in Britain where newspapers and consumer groups demanded assurances that the beef, unsold since 1987, was safe. Mr. Soames added that butchers should warm consumers not to refreeze the meat but said there was no reason why it should be labelled as being six years old. In Brussles, the European Commission said there were no restrictions on the use of the meat. "It's usually destined for further processing or export," a spokesman for the European Community's executive said.

Ostrich drops in for breakast and gets eaten

NAIROBI (R) — An ostrich gatecrashed breakfast at a bush cafe in eastern Kenya, sending diners fleeing. "Later, local residents killed it and distributed its meat among themselves," the daily Nation said in a report from Makueni.

Britons seek sex help from U.S. therapist

LONDON (R) — U.S. sex therapist Dr. Rnth Westheimer said she was besieged by Britons seeking sex advice and could have helped to save the marriage of Prince Charles and his estranged wife Princess Diana. The diminutive sex guru and television star who was spotted while touring Buckingham Palace Sunday said she could have given the royal couple who separated last year some advice, "If they had come to me for counselling I would have been able to help," she said. "People should ask for advice before things reach boiling point." Tourists at the palace bombarded the 65-year-old German-born sex expert with questions about their sexual problems. "I had always beent old British people were reserved but I didn't find this at all." she said. "The only difference was they were more polite. An American would come to me and say 'I can't get an orgasm', a British person would ask for my autograph first."

Woman jailed for playing music too loudly

LONDON (R) — A British woman was sentenced to a week in jail Monday for harassing her neighbours by playing ber favourite pop record too loudly. Heien Stephens, 20, of Cleveland in northern England denied the charge and collapsed in tears when the country court passed the sentence. The court was told that Ms. Stephens repeatedly played the Whitney Houston song I Will Always Love You so loudly that it penetrated a double brick wall, insulation and several wardrobes and shook her neighbour's floorboards.

Owner hot under collar after dead parrot defrosts

LONDON (R) — A Briton is claiming compensation after Polly the parrot, laid to rest in a freezer to await the taxidermist, defrosted during a power cut. Car dealer Bob Jones placed Polly among the fish fingers as he wanted to preserve his precious pet for posterity, the Sun newspaper reported Tuesday. "Then I came home and found we had no electricity," Jones sold the Sun.
"It was a really hot day and there was a horrible smell. I realised it was Polly." Workmen had severed electricity cables near Jones' home in Berkshire, southern England. Now he is claiming £1,000 ($1,500) on his household insurance for Polly, who was killed in a fight with the family's Alsatian

British lead the field in drinking German beer

WIESBADEN, Germany (AFP) - British beer drinkers drank the most German beer outside Germany last year, well ahead of their nearest rivals, the Italians, the National Statistical Office announced here Tuesday, Britain imported 139.1 million litres of German beer, worth 165.9 million marks ($104 million). Italy's share was 102.4 million hares, woth 153.6 million marks, foilowed by 101.3 million litres to the United States £157.7 million collective security treaty brokered by Russia in May 1992

NEWS IN BRIEF

which would permit Baku to request Russian military assistance.

other troops were already present in Armenia as a result of Yerevan's membership in the treaty.

President Boris Yeltsin at the Kremlin Monday and said after-wards that Russia "cannot remain indifferent to the conflict between Azerbaijan and Armenia."

envoy to Armenia Tuesday to discuss the security of its frontiers and the possibility of a large influx of Azeri refugees.

try said in a statement that agreement on the envoy's visit was reached during a telephone conversation Monday between Mr.

Velayati and his Armenian coun-

The statement did not name

the envoy but said he would be a personal representative of Mr.

The Armenian statement quoted Mr. Papazyan as saying that "Armenia was doing, is terpart Vahan Papazyan.

The Armenian Foreign Minis-

Iran was expected to send an

Mr. Aliyev met with Russian

Russian Border Guards and

TOKYO (R) - Japan's Socialist Party chief, also a state minister in the coalition government, will step aside as chairman to prevent his party from splitting up, a party official said Tuesday. The chief government spokesman immediately stepped in to calm jitters. saying the departure of Socialist leader Sadao Yamahana — one of eight coalition leaders — would have little effect on the future of the one-month-old government. "This is not going to greatly affect (the government)," Masayoshi Takemura toid a news conference. "Personnel changes among the different parties are of no concern to the coalition government," he said.

Japan Socialist chief to step aside

Gorbachev opens security conference

MOSCOW (AFP) - Mikhail Gorbachev Tuesday opened an international conference on global security which one analyst described as a bid by the former Soviet president to get back into world politics. The conference was jointly organised by the Gorbachev Foundation, the Gorbachev Fund in the United States and the Rajiv Gandhi Foundation. Alexander Konovaloc, in charge of research at the Russian Institute on the United States and Canada, said the conference was "an attempt by Gorbachev to get back onto the world political stage as a figure still capable of initiating ideas of planetary importance." In his opening speech, Mr. Gorbachev raised such global issues as ecology, the Third V'or'! and the growing economic imbalance between the North 4.12 50. th. Political analysts said Mr. Gorbachev was hoping to capitalise on the current crisis on the Russian political scene; wracked by scandals, to make a comeback. He has been noticeably absent on the political scene since the end of 1991.

Thatcher takes jab at Major

BANGKOK (AFP) - Former British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher took a jab Tuesday at her successor, John Major, suggesting his leadership was weak. Lady Thatcher, in a speech to Bangkok-based businessmen, drew laughter when she pointed out hat she had shown, when in office, that democracy and "strong leadership, are not mutually exclusive." You must never think that democracy cannot give rise to strong leadership. After all, it did in Singapore and it did in Britain," she said, adding after a slight panse: "In my time." "And it did in Malaysia too," continued the 67-year-old Thatcher, who stepped down in late 1990 when she lost out in a leadership struggle after cabinet colleagues warned her that her Conservative Party would not win an election if she remained in power. In the same address Lady Thatcher accused the European Community of protectionism and said it risked losing its status as a major economic power amid impressive growth in the Asia-Pacific region, which she asscribed "the economic pivot of the future."

Major's government hits bottom

GLASGOW, Scotland (R) - Prime Minister John Major's Conservative Party has slumped into fourth place in a new survey of Scottish voters, with only 15 per cent support. The embarrassing two per cent drop over last month's System Three poll puts the ruling party one percentage point behind the opposition Liberal Democrats. It is the party's worst showing for three years and the first time they have been placed at the bottom since 1986. The opposition Labour Party, the dominant party in Scotland, remained steady on 45 per cent and the Scottish National Party (SNP) held their 24 per cent share. Political analysts attribute the slump to voter concern over the impending imposition of value tax (VAT) on domestic fuel supplies and worry about possible higher charges for water. Opposition parties claim VAT on fuel will hit families in Scotland barder than those elsewhere as they spend a higher proportion of the income on beating.

'Cuba changing to adapt to world'

HAVANA (R) — Cuban Foreign Minister Roberto Robaina, shrugging off foreign criticism of his country's one-party socialist system, said Monday Cuba was changing to adapt itself to a changed world. "We're not as bad as we're portrayed to be, nor as good as we would like to be," Mr. Robaina told a meeting in Havana of foreign and Cuban non-government organisations (NGOs). "The world has changed and Cuba, without abandoning the principles that have sustained it in the last three decades, is changing to adapt itself to the current times," he added. Mr. Robaina and other younger members of President Fidel Castro's government have been waging a compaign in recent months to try to improve the image abroad of the communist-ruled Caribbean

Kanemaru trial continues

TOKYO (AFP) — The trial of Shin Kanemaru, Japan's fallen political kingpin accused of massive tax evasion, continued here Tuesday with bis defence counsel reiterating that millions of dollars in concealed wealth were not for personal use. At the first hearing on July 22, Kanemaru, 78, pleaded not guilty to evading taxes on concealed income of 1.85 billion yen ($17.7 million) earned between 1987 and 1989. Prosecutors allege that Mr. Kanemaru kept political donations for personal gain, buying debentures and gold bars and stashing them in his office and home. His lawyers reiterated at Tuesday's second hearing that the money was for political purposes, including the creation of a new political party.

China, India sign troop-trimming pact

PEKING (R) - China and India agreed Tuesday to cut troops along their long Himalayan frontier in a landmark pact aiming "to maintain peace and tranquillity' between two Asian giants that fought a border war in 1962. The pact was one of four signed in the presence of Chinese Prime Minister Li Peng and his visiting Indian counterpart, P.V. Nara-simha Rao, diplomats from both countries said.

"The two countries bave agreed to undertake a series of confidence-building measures, including the reduction of military forces deployed along the India-China border," a joint statement issued by the Indian embassy said.

'Pending a boundary settle-ment, India and China have agreed to respect and observe the line of actual control (LAC)," it

Both sides agreed to open a new border crossing between India and Tibet, cooperate on environmental protection and exchange television and radio prog-

The border pact which aims to reduce tensions is by far the most significant breakthrough but does not resolve the land dispute kept tescering since the bitter 1962. China also regards India's north-

The current frontier, known by its abbreviation LAC, is not recognised by either side as a border out has been the size of a military stand-off between Chinese and India troops for three decades.

"This landmark agreement lays down the framework for maintaining peace and tranquility along the LAC, the joint statement said.

"India and China have agreed to keep their military forces in areas along the (border) in con-'mutual and equal security'," depth and timing" of troop reduc-tions along the 4,056 kilometres border would be "worked out through mutual consultation." Indian opposition leaders have given Mr. Rao a rare unanimous mandate to resolve the border dispute, but warned that they were wary about India being left vulnerable after troop reductions

China claims some 90,000

ing talks that lasted 2½ hours.
"The Chinese side is satisfied and happy with these achieve-ments," Mr. Wu said, adding that formity with the principle of they would "surely instill new The statement said "the extent, vitality into Sino-Indian relations.

because of China's swiftness at redeploying soldiers.

to hinder improved ties.

Mr. Wu said the Chinese leader made a strong trade push, lamenting that bilateral trade was only $340 million in 1992. This is incommensurate with the vast potential of trade relasquare kilometres in India's northeastern Arunachal Pradesh.

tions between the two countries." Mr. Li told Mr. Rao.

TOKYO (Agencies) - Potential demands for compensation Japan faces from victims of World War II in the Asia-Pacific total 19.3 trillion yen ($184 billion), the Mainichi Shimbun said Tuesday. The figure is mainly based on $180 billion (18.5 trillion yen) that some members of the Chinese parliament have calculated as damages for war mas-

Many other victims from South Korea, Hong Kong, Taiwan, Malaysia, Indonesia, the Philippines and Australia are considering asking Japan to make up for their suffering.

Some have already launched lawsuits in Tokyo, demanding that the government pay up to 15 billion ven to victims including former sex slaves to Japanese soldiers and South Korean men who were conscripted into the Japanese army. Prime Minister Morihiro Hoso-

kawa last month offered the most far-reaching apology ever as a Japanese premier for the country's war atrocities when he came to power, speaking a spate of demands for compensation. Meanwhile Dr. Ken Yuasa says

$184b war compensation sought from Japan even shot prisoners in order to demonstrate bow to remove hulsacres and forced labour, the

> After the surgery practice, the doctors killed their "patients," strangling one with a belt when he survived the injection of anesthetic into a vein, Dr. Yuasa said.

> For decades after its surrender in 1945, Japan insisted there was no proof its military had conducted biological experiments, enslaved foreign women in brothels and made forced labourers of Chinese and Koreans. In recent years, however, wit> nesses and participants have come forward in growing numbers. Their testimony and documentary evidence are embarrassing Japan into retracting denials about its atrocities goaded by conscience and con- apology.

he used healthy Chinese for praccern that the true history of the tice surgery during World War II, war might die with its survivors. removed parts of their brains and Dr. Yuasa, interviewed at his Tokyo clinic, said his group killed four prisoners in the stomach so they could remove the bullets, and extracted brain matter to provide samples to Japanese pharmaceutical companies, Dr. Yuasa said.

As a Japanese army doctor. Yuasa tested the effectiveness of anesthetics on two healthy farmers and practiced a tracheotomy. His colleagues cut their arms, legs and intestines into pieces and then stitched them back together again.

Hundres of other military doctors and nurses conducted similar experiments in Shanoi province alone, he said.

14 Chinese after using them for surgical practice and experiments at a military hospital in Shanxi province, central China, between February 1942 and August 1945.

He and his colleagues also shot

The latest disclosures about atrocities began in 1991, with the discovery by a Japanese historian of military documents showing the wartime imperial army forced Korean women to serve as sexual slaves for frontline soldiers.

The exposures forced the government to reverse longstanding claims it was not involved in the brothels. In August, it released a report on how women were during the war.

Like Dr. Yuasa, 76, most are forced and tricked into becoming sex slaves, and issued an official forced and tricked into becoming well in life

SIAULIAI, Lithuania (R) — Siberia or to Kolyma, condemned Pope John Paul, speaking at the site of a poignant symbol of Lithuania's resistance to Soviet foot of the hill. domination, Tuesday condemned totalitarianism's attempt to snuff out religion. The 73-year-old Polish Pontiff, on his first visit to a country in what used to be the Soviet Union, spoke in front of a mound of earth known as the "Hill of Crosses" near the northern town of Sianliai. During the decades of Soviet communism, authorities repeatedly tried and failed to destroy the hill.

"Innocents were condemned. At that time in your homeland a terrible system marked by totalitarian violence raged, a system which trampled down and humiliated man," he said.

to death," the Pope said at a mass for some 50,000 people at the More than 36,000 Lithuanians

- nationalists, resistance leaders and members of the intelligentsia and the Roman Catholic Church - were deported after Soviet dictator Josef Stalin annexed their country in 1940. Many perished in places such as Kolyma in the Soviet Far East. a bleak and notorious outpost of the gulag. Although the tradition of placing crosses on the hill dated back to the 15th century and more were added in the 19th century to protest against Russian tsarist rule, it became famous during Soviet rule - particularly the 1960s and 1970s. "We come bere - to the Local Communist officials tried mountain of crosses --- to rememrepeatedly to eliminate the crosber all the sons and daughters of ses, pulling down thousands at a your land, as well as those senttime. But Lithuanians responded enced, those sent to prison, to each time by putting more in their oncentration camps, deported to place.

5 1/2 hd

is said

28

5 03 . W.

25 AP 25

34.2

T- 25.

- C. 767

Sec. 12.75

Deg: -27

gagort

cast and ·facking.

eek sei

.

2.5 2.

i. 2

: = x

ari ter

: --- 2...

4 272

Tr. #22

fitte.

- 22 2

· erend

. 12 -

1 mg

lec 3

15.C

100

شد : د د د د د د د

17.32

jer:

515

الماريخ مناجع مناود تا د

1 U.S.

 50

easily defeated newcomers Abu Nusair 78-15, the first half ending 40-11.

The teams next play on Sept. 14 with Al Orthodoxi clashing with Al Jazireh and Al Ahli

NEWS IN BRIEF

Danes take their own food for Albania tie

hip. The first half ended 39-13.

In another match, titleholders Al Orthodoxi

COPENHAGEN (R) — Denmark's national team took off Tuesday for a vital World Cup soccer qualifier against Albania with a secret weapon stowed away in the cargo compartment - 1,100 kilos of Danish food. "The food packages contain meat, fish and salad among other things. We've brought all the food for all the meals, even the cake for our evening coffee," soccer federation spokesman Lars Berendt said. Danish coach Richard Moeller Nielsen said: The food of the south holds different bacteria from Danish food ... we're not taking ay risks. The situation awaiting us is like night and day compared with what we are used to." Denmark, who need a win against bottom-placed Albania to stay on course for a place in the 1994 finals, fear primitive conditions in the country and coach Moeller Nielsen decided to prepare at home and leave for Tirana as late as possible.

Rainey may be paralysed

CESENA, Italy (R) - World 500cc motorcycle champion Wayne Rainey may be left paralysed following his crash in the Italian Grand Prix, one of his doctors said Tuesday. "The risk exists that he may be paralysed for life, although it is still too eary to say," Dr. Sandro Bucci at the Bufalini Hospital in Cesena told Reuters. "The damage he suffered is undoubtedly very severe," Bucci said. He added that the 32-year-old Californian was breathing better, had passed a quiet night and was conscious. Rainey, seeking his fourth straight world title, slid off the Santamonica Circuit after leading for the first third of the race in dry, sunny conditions. He landed heavily on gravel. His condition was critical, with injuries to the back and chest and suspected fractures of one or more vertebrae. Rainey later underwent a minor operation to drain blood from his lungs. Sunday's accident means the world crown will go to another American; Suzuki rider kevin

Goalkeeper dies on eve of match

BUDAPEST (R) — Hungary's popular goal-keeper Gabor Zsiboras died in a bospital Tuesday, lending a sombre backdrop to his country's World Cup soccer qualifier against Russia Wednesday. Zsiboras, 35; had been in a coma since last Wednesday when he collapsed with a brain clot before a practice match involving the national team. He never regained consciousness. Zsiboras played 361 league matches in Hungary for Ferencearos and MTK and was capped four times for his country. Raba Eto goalkeeper Zoltan Vegh is expected to step in for him in Wednesday's match.

Holland banned for St. Leger

LONDON (AFP) — Promising jockey Darryll Holland was ruled out of Saturday's English St. Leger when he was banned for eight days and fined £200 Monday. The suspension, which begins Thursday, was imposed for whip offences August 27 and 28, while the fine was for leaving the racecourse before the all-clear signal bad been given. The former British champion apprentice, who was cleared of a third offence on August 31, has now been banned for misuse of the whip at least seven times. Holland has adopted an American style of riding used by Cash Asmussen, crouching low down in the saddle. But new regulations introduced on July 5 outlawing the use of the whip above shoulder height have resulted in him becoming a more frequent offender and he was the first to be found guilty of breaking the new guidelines.

Quintero out until next year

BRUSSELS (R) — World eight jump champion Iopannet Quintero of Cuba will be sidelined for at least half a year after her achilles tendon snapped during last Friday's Brussels Grand Prix athletics meeting. "She'll be in plaster for at least two months and won't be able to run properly for six months," Renno Roelandt, chief doctor of the Belgian Athletics Federation, told Reuters Monday. Quintero, 22, underwent surgery in Brussels' Erasmus Hospital Saturday after the tendon was torn during an attempt to clear 1.95 metres at the meeting Friday evening.

France seek to ensure place in World Cup finals

HELSINKI (R) - France will not underestimate underdogs Finland in Wednesday's European Group Six World Cup qualifier in Tampere where a French victory will virtually ensure a place in the 1994 finals. France and Sweden ech have 11 points after seven games, two ahead of third-place Bulgaria. Finland, with only three points after seven games, are pinning their hopes on a lightly reshuffled team after the 3-0 defeat against Austria last month.

Athletes receive death warning over hormone injecting growth hormone.

Vienna University Professor

Herwig Freisch told the Today newspaper that some of the hormone, which is extracted in Russia from corpses' pituitary glands, is contaminated with impurities linked with the deadly brain illness, Creuzfeld-Jakob Disease.

Professor Frisch pointed out that CJD, which can lay dormant in the body for up to 20 years, is so powerful that one infected gland among 30,000 will con-taminate the whole lot.

"The athletes are running a terrible risk," said the professor, who uncovered the link with CJD during a study of athletes' muscle strength with co-researcher Ro-

"The material they're using is being drawn from corpses in Russia and our tests in the laboratory show it to be extremely impure. "One injection contaminated with CJD would be enough for the disease to make its appearance in the body of the athlete within the next 15 to 20 years, possibly sooner," he told Today. "We found it difficult to persuade the athletes to take us seriously, as some we spoke to thought we were just trying to scare them.

"It's something that needs to be investigated by sports authorities without further delay. Athletes must realise what it is they're injecting themselves with.

LONDON (AFP) — Athletes man Deyussig and has inter-. A single injection would be were warned Monday that they viewed "dozens" of athletes ab- enough to kill them 20 years from

> Co-incidentally the Fourth permanent, World Conference on Anti-Doping in Sport began Monday and the princess royal warned in her opening speech that drug abuse in sport would

"There will always be some who think they can break the rules and get away with it," the British Observing Association area. British Olympie Association president told 200 delegates from 60

"But there is no pride in winning medals or titles by cheating and not through natural ability

"Using drugs is the very antith esis of fair play and because it is hidden, it is that much more

"Athletes, particularly young athletes, need support from officials, coaches, doctors and even parents to withstand these pressures. I hope this conference can supply that assurance."

na's gold medals at the World Championships in Stuttgart were not fuelled by drugs, professor Weng Quingzhang, a member of their Olympic anti-doping committee, told the con-

Western coaches at last month's championships were amazed at the improvement in the times of the Chinese women who struck gold in the 1500, 3,000 and 10,000 metres and hinted that they must have taken illegal sub-

But professor Weng stressed that China adhered to International Olympic Committee and International Amateur Athletic Federation regulations.

U.S. Open

Sukova ousts Navratilova; Chang advances

NEW TORK (AFP) — Four-time champion Martina Navrati-lova tumbled out of the fourth round of the U.S. Open tennis championships Monday, while the men's seeds advanced as expected to the quarter-finals. Czech 12th seed Helena Suko-

va ousted Navratilova 7-5, 6-4, posting only her fifth win against the Czech-born American in 30

Meanwhile the men's quarterfinals fell pat, with second-seeded Pete Sampras and number seven Michael Chang with straight set wins.

Sampras beat miseeded Swede Thomas Enqvist 6-4, 6-4, 7-6 (7/4), while Chang defeated Wayne Ferreira 6-4, 6-3, 6-4. Russian Alexander Volkov. the 14th seed, moved ahead with a 6-2, 7-6 (7/2), 6-1 win over American Chuck Adams.

While three of the men's singles favonrites are American, Sampras, Chang and world number one Jim Courier, Navratilova's exit means there are no women left to carry the U.S. flag.

"There wasn't any luck for me today." Navratilova said. "She made the shots she should have made. 1 made some of the shots I should make, but not others." She said Sukova's serve-andvolley style always gave her trou-

"If yu're a little bit off against a baseliner, you can work your way through the point. With her, there are no rallies," Navratilova

She also said her own shots were slightly off. "Balls just weren't falling," she said. "I felt like I was playing golf. They were just not going in by inches. Navratilova said she knew by 3-3 in the first set that she was in "I had break points every game and didn't break once. I should have been up 4-2 at worst, maybe 5-1." Sukova said consistency gave her the victory. "She felt a lot of pressure on her own serve because I was able to return her first and second serve," she said. "I think that is your adrenalin from." tough for her to do — deal with that return the whole match." In the quarters, Sukova will meet unseeded Bulgarian Kater-ma Maleeva, who beat her 10thseeded younger sister Magdalena seeded Natalia Zvereva com- French Open. pleted the women's quarter-final roster. Sanchez Vicario beat 14th-seeded Frenchwoman Nathalie Tauziat 6-4, 6-3, and Zvereva defeated late entry Maria Jose Gaidano of Argentina 6-0, 6-2. The very first men's quarterfinal match-up, Sampras-Chang, is intriguing, since they have been playing each other since they were children.

Change burst onto the international scene first, with a victory in the 1989 French Open when he Sampras won the U.S. Open the following year, becoming the youngest to claim the title. This year Sampras added the Wimbledon title to his cache, and briefly claimed the world number one ranking.

He said he felt a little sluggish against Enqvist, who upset Andre Agassi in the first round, and it showed in the third set.

FOR RENT

In the most beautiful areas of western Amman — furnished and unfurnished -- flats and villas.

Abu Sharar Centre for International Services. Tel.: 646914

Natalia Zvereva

Ferreira saved one match point with a fierce return, but Chang converted the next match poin with a volley that Ferreira could barely reach.

Chang said the victory was harder than it looked. "I was very lucky in the first couple of sets, because Wayne had quite a few break points and didn't convert any of them," he

Chang also thought Ferreira was feeling the effects of three five-set matches in the first three

After that, Chang said, "It's tough to find something to draw Austrian Thomas Muster, the 12th sed, reached the U.S. Open quarter-finals for the first time in five appearances with a 6-2, 7-5, 6-7 (5/7), 6-2 victorly over unseeded American Brad Gilbert It was Muster's second Grand Second-seeded Spaniard Slam win over Gilbert this year, Arantxa Sanchez Vicario and un- after a third-round vicotry at the school grades.

> Gilbert, 32, looked weary as the night match drew to a close, but Muster was full of energy. "Once you're up two sets to love, it keeps you going," be said.

unpaid. Full options. Stick shift.

Separate central heating, telephone.

Location: Sweifieh.

Muster will meet Volkov in the cuarter-finais.

U.S. OPEN NOTEBOOK

* It started with a hug, and ended with a hug. In between, Katerina Maleeva maintained her teonis mastery over younger sister Magdalena with a victory she said doesn't mean anything to me."

The 21-year-old, the only one of the three Maleeva sisters not seeded in the U.S. Open, recorded a 6-2, 6-3 victory that put her in the quarterfinals against Helena

"Obviously it was very difficult for both of us to play against each other, and I guess it is difficult for the people to understand that because they think that there is money involved, and they just cannot understand what we mean to each other," said Katerina, now 4-0 against Maggie.

"There is no sibling rivalry between us," Maggie added. maybe I wish I had won and played the quarterfinals on centre court. But I am equally happy that my sister is going to be

NEED A TUTOR??

Tutor is available to teach various subjects to all

Call 816222, after 2:00 p.m.

FOR SALE.

Volvo, 740 GLE, 1988 model, in excellent condition, duty

For more information, please call tel. 679498, P.S. Car has a warning system

FURNISHED SUPER DELUXE APARTMENT

FOR RENT

★ Located at: Wadi Sagra - nearby the Palestinian Embassy.

★ Consists of: 3 bedrooms (one master), 3 bathrooms, L-shaped

FURNISHED APARTMENT FOR RENT

Consisting of three bedrooms, three salons, three bathrooms, super deluxe furniture, ground floor.

Tel.: 698720

Call from 9:00 a.m. - 6:00 p.m. - Tel.: 671748.

ward, they langed again, and talked about how tough it is to forget for a couple hours that it's your sister on the other side of the "We just try to be enemies on the court," said Maggie, the No. 10-seed. "But otherwise, everything is normal."

The oldest sister, No. 11 Manncin Malecva-Fragniere, plays for a quarterfinal spot against Kimiko Date. Since they are in opposite haives of the draw, the only way there could be another Maleeva-Maleeva meeting this year is if play for the championship. Last year, Manuela beat Mag-sie in the quarterfinals. * Star search: It's not quiet the roval box at Wimbledon, but the ent's box at the National mis Centre has its own cachet. Politicians, actors and other Celebrities go there to be seen.

The designated idol Monday was a biggie: Movie star Tom Cruise, who was accompanied by his wife, actress Nicole Kidman. Other celebs on the ground for our Day included former baskethall great Wilt Chamberlain.

★ Old ballboys: Mike Cabezon is an emergency room doctor in Philadelphia. Vince Casale is a computer programmer at a Man-hattan Investment Bank. And Dom Scaglione is a financial con-

For two weeks each summer, their paths converge at the sun

watch. No afternoons sipping champague or munching on brie-on-croissant sandwiches for these dichard fans.

No. They are ballboys. To most tesnis fans, ballboys are those cute little kids scamper-on court before the match. Afterchaging down that errent ball. like junior military recruits. Bu: look closely at the open, and you'll see that some of these "kids" are actually grown men — or women in their 20s, 30s or even older. Is there any logical reason why a young banker, lawyer or dectowould devote hard-earned vacation time to following a young drat around the court, collecting his sweaty towels? All for the princely sum of $1.25 an bour?

"It's the best seat in the house," Cabezon, 30, said.
"Best place to be," Cabae, also

"Absolutely," Scaglione, 24, zerced.

Cabezon, a doctor at Presbyterian Medical Centre in Philadelphia, hås been doing bailboy duty at the Open for eight years. He did it all through medical school, scheduling his crueling rotations around the Open.

"I'll do it until 1 can't rea anymore," be said. This year, there are about 170 ballboys and 50-60 ballgirls, and at least half are over 18. Les:

year, there was a 52-year-old ball-The older ones are needed, taps said, because of strict U.S. labour laws. For instance, anyone 15 or younger must stop working by 7 p.m. But the Open has night matches that often stretch into the early morning. For Carolyn Hein, a sales representative at Chase Manhattan Bank, being a ballgirl is a labour of love in more ways than one. Her husband, Jim McGee, also is a ballboy. The couple got married Aug. 11, took a quick honeymoon in Jamaica, and got back in time for the Open.

"It's great," Hein, 25; said. "You're right in the middle of the game. Right next to the players."

CUT THIS SLIP AND KEEP AT HOME

For repair and maintenance of:

Full automatic washing machines, Dish washers.

Fridges and freezers.

Central heating,

Please Call: Yessayan and Nassar for Maintenance, Eng. George. Tel.: Office: 683796, resd.: 845920

D.I.G. ITALIAN LADIES OF AMMAN

Invites you to enjoy the demonstration of "."IKEBANA"

by Mrs. Kabariti at the Philadelphia International Hotel on Sept. 8th at 5:00 p.m.

FURNISHED SEMI-VILLA FOR RENT

Of an area of 240 square metres. Consists of 4 bedrooms (including one mester), L-shaped spacious salon, 3 bathrooms, central heating, Independent garage, a garden of 300 square metres. With telephone Location: Gardens Street beside Doctors Housing Estate. Tel.: 695996 - 697266

OFFICES FOR RENT

Location 7th Circle, Commercial Centre. Easy access to airport.

For details call 814059

Used German-made Freezers and Refrigerators For Sale .

Available for sale are used, German-made, freezers and refrigerators (Imported and directly from Germany), of different sizes ranging from 6 feet to 16 feet.

If interested, please call tel. 628181 from 10:00 a.m. 8:30 p.m.

NEW FURNISHED APARTMENT

One bedroom, one salon, kitchen, bathroom, garage (alone), with central heating.

Call tel. No. 630860 from 9:00- 14:00 & 4:00 - 20:00

FOR RENT

Furnished Apartments in Shmeisami • Three bedrooms, living, reception, dining rooms, two bathrooms, kitchen and balconies.

• Two bedrooms, living-dining room, kitchen and bath, large terraces. Annual rent. Independent central heating and telephones.

Tel.: 667862, 693443

Location: Shmeisani near Darotel,

GOREN BRIDGE

WITH OMAR SHARIF & TANNAH HIRSCH

Both vulnerable. South deals. NORTH • K 10 6 ♥ Void
♦ 9 7 5 4 AKQJ952 EAST WEST #J743 #5 ♥KQ105 ♥AJ984 ♥K106 ♥QJ32

SOUTH

♣ A 10 The bidding: South West North East 2 Pass 2 Pass Pass Pass Pass

AQ982

4863

Opening lead: King of
There are safety plays that depend only on distribution. Others are determined by a holding in the key suit. This hand illustrates the point. South did not like the idea of choosing so weak a suit for a rebid, but there was no attractive alternative. The spade suit was not good enough to be bid again in this sequence, and the prime values made the holding unsuited to two no trump. The final contract was Declarer ruffed the king of hearts in dimmy, cashed the king of spades and continued with the ten. When East showed out on the second spade, the contract was beyond salvation. West ruffed the third round of chibs and declarer had to lose three tricks in the red suits, in addition to the trump trick the de-fenders had in the bank.

PREPARE FOR THE WORST

The fact that the North-South hands contained all the high trumps, except for the jack, makes a safety play feasible. After ruffing the heart, declarer should lead the ten of spades from dummy at trick two and run it! West can win and revert to hearts, but declarer is in command.

clarer comes to hand with the ace of diamonds and draws trumps. Now the clubs can be run-making six-Switch the nine and seven of spades and the safety play won't work. When the board ruffs the heart continuation with the king, West's nine of spades is promoted to a trick and the defense prevails.

The table ruffs with the king, de-

A furnished apartment with 2 bedrooms, a dining room, a living room, 2 bathrooms, a garden, an independent entrance, a telephone. air condition, and central heating.

FOR RENT

For more info. call 674935/770683

FOR RENT

A fully furnished, 3-bedroom/2 storey villa, with nice landscaped garden, off Mecca Road, behind Bahrain Embassy.

interested, please call No. (827910) Eng. Mazen

Tel.: 677420 T CONCORD 0 CONCORD 1 MY GIRL D CONCORD 2 LAST ACTION HERO Y SHOWS: 12:30, 3:15, 6, 8:15, 10:15

· Tel.: 699238 PLAZA

Adel Imam

Wad Sayyed Al Shaghal play (Arabic)

Shows: 12:30, 3:30, 6:00, 8:30

Cinema

Tel.: 634144 PHILADELPHIA

Demi Moore - In INDECENT PROPOSAL

Shows: 12:30, 3:30; 6:15, 8:30, 10:30

Robert Redford

Tel.: 675571 Nabil Al Mashiel Thantre

presents a play entitled:

A popular political comedy Actors: Abeer Issa, Daoud Jalajel, Hassan Al Shaer, Fuad Shomali In addition to other comedians Every night at 8:15 Tickets are sold all day

Nabil & Hisham's Tel.: 625155 ahlan Theatre

Returns to you Thursday Aug. 26 in the play:

> Arab Summit Conference

Return of exiles starts tomorrow

Combined agency despatches

TEL AVIV - Almost half the 400 Palestinians expelled to South Lebanon by Israel last year will start to return Thursday, Israeli Health Minister Chaim Ramon said Tuesday. "The return of the deportees will begin at the end of the week, or to be precise, on Thursday," Mr. Ramon said in a press conference in Occupied Jerusalem.

Israel will hring back 189 of the men this week and the remainder of the 396 by the end of the year. Earlier, the expellees' spokes-man, Abdul Aziz Rantisi of the Islamie Resistance Movement (Hamas), said he had been informed by the International Committee of the Red Cross receive a list of the 189 oames They would be repatriated starting the next day, after nine months at their Marj Al Zohour camp to South Lebanon, be said. Mr. Ramon said the return "will have no effect on the peace

(ICRC) in Israel that he would

Most of them aiready had ermission to return in February but refused to do so," be said, referring to an initial vow by the exiles that they would return together or not at all. "A large proportion (of the returnees) will go to prison because they are strongly suspected of taking part in terrorist activities," he said.

The remaining exiles will be allowed back in December. Security sources said Israeli soldiers set up four large tents to receive the returnees at the Zemrava checkpoiot three kilometres south of the exiles' camp. The troops cleaned up rooms in

CAIRO (AP) — President Hosni Mubarak, who has said he will go to Israel only after significant progress is made towards Middle East peace, refused Tuesday to commit himself to a visit.

Mr. Mubarak has met with senior Israeli officials both io

Egypt and abroad but has oever

His predecessor, Anwar Sadat, paved the way for peace with a trip to occupied Jerusalem in 1977 that culminated two years later in the first and only peace treaty between an Arab state and the "cold peace" with Egypt and Cairo's unwillingness to allow normal friendly relations between them. So with a historie

Palestinian-Israeli peace accord about to be signed, Mr. Muharak was asked when he will visit the

"This issue needs no comment.

There is peace between us and Israel. When the time comes, we will visit Israel," Mr. Mubarak said at a joint press conference with Yasser Arafat, the Palestine

Liberation Organisation (PLO)

The last Arab-Israeli summit was in July 1992, when Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin came to

For years, Israel has criticised

Mubarak refuses to commit himself to pay visit to Israel buildings at the crossing, closed since December, and cleared bushes from the road.

Nineteen exiles — out of the 415 banished by Israel last December — were evacuated by helicopter to Israel organised by Dr. Omar Farwana, head of their medical team, said Israel refused to allow the ICRC to supervise the new group to re-turn. He said the exiles did not know who was supposed to give them the list of names.

"Israel refused to allow the Red Cross to he the link ... and refused to allow returning deportees be transported by the Red Cross regardless of whether they were sick or not," be added.

The exiles say they were forced to agree to an Israeli offer to take them back in stages because many had fallen ill and their stay io Lebanon had failed to stop Middle East peace talks.

Most of the 396 exiles belong to Hamas. The minority are mem-bers of the Islamic Jihad Movemeot in Palestice.

Israel expelled them Dec. 17 io retaliation for the slaying of six Israeli troopers in the occupied Gaza Strip and the West Bank

Their return begins as Israel and the Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO) are on the verge of mutual recognition and signiog a historfie deal for Palestinian autonomy starting in the Gaza Strip, a Hamas hotbed, and the West Bank city of Jericho.

Both Hamas and the Islamic

Jihad are fierce opponents of the Middle East peace process.

Dr. Rantisi urged the seven men from Jericho among the exiles oot to resort to violence after their repatriation.

first summit in six years, since theo-Prime Minister Shimoo

Peres came for a 1986 meeting in Alexandria on the Mediterranean

Mr. Mubarak repeated at the Rabin summit what be had said periodically since 1986: That he would not visit Israel unless his trip would contribute to significant progress in solving the Arab-

Mr. Arafat indicated Tuesday that the first idea of the "Gaza-

Israeli conflict.

Israeli Police Minister Moshe Shahai (second right) stands on the King Hussein bridge over the Jordan river. Mr. Shahai also visited Israeli police and settlers in Jericho and he was the first Israeli

PLO official rejects Israeli claim it would retain control of bridges

Accord stipulates joint checkpoints under the supervision of an international force

By P. V. Vivekanand Jordan Times Staff Repoter

AMMAN - A senior Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO) official Tuesday rejected Israeli assertions that the Jewish state would continue to exercise sole control over the bridges across the River Jordan onder the Israeli-Palestinian autonomy

Uoder the autonomy deal, an international force would be deployed to super-vise joint Palestinian-Israeli-Jordanian control of the King Hussein and Prince Moham-mad bridges," said the offi-

"This is one of the many points in the agreement and we have Israeli concurrence on that," added the official. who spoke on condition of anonymity.

"There are going to be joint committees which will handle various aspects of the eement. Israeli officials are catering to their constituents by sending messages of limited Palestinian control in varions fields under the

Jordanian officials declined comment oo the issue, with some of them saying they were not aware of the fine points of the agreement.

The PLO official said a "token" U.N. force would be deployed in the Gaza Strip and West Bank town of Jericho first" accord, now waiting accord," said the official. to be signed, was born at last The official was commentyear's meeting.

"The idea to link Gaza with ing on a statement by Israeli Police Minister Moshe Shah-Jericho was discussed for the first al that the Israeli occupation time in Ismailia," be told Egypauthorities would not relintian editors. His comments were quish control of the bridges distributed by the Middle East during the five-year Palesti-News Agency.

"The Israelis were talking abnian antonomy period. "The bridges will be under ont getting rid of Gaza," Mr. Arafat said. "I asked President the control of the Israeli defence forces," Mr. Shahal Mubarak to intervene and have was quoted as saying. "There is no doubt about it."

them withdraw from Gaza, and Jericho together, so that the Palestinian lands are not di-Mr. Arafat flew in Monday from Damascus, where be re-ceived no better than a lukewarm welcome to the peace agreement Government sources in Cairo said Mr. Mubarak is expecting a Jericho immediately after the expected Israeli withdrawal (or redeployment as the Israelis call it) from the two

"This force will be responsible for matters related to joiot Israeli-Arab control wherever applicable in the autonomous area," said the official. "These include the entry and exit points, where the force would supervise joint control of security inspections." According to the official, it is envisaged that "joint control checkpoints" will be set up at the crossing points and "Israel will not have a veto over who could come and who could go out."

The "joint control checkpoints" will involve Egypt, Israel and the Palestinians io the Gaza Strip and Jordan, Israel and the Palestinians in Jericho, the official said.

The official also said a corridor would be set up between Jericho and the Gaza Strip. In additioo, the Palestinian self-rule authority will also upgrade a military airstrip in Jericho to an airport.

Control of the bridges is a key issue in what Jordanian officials have described in the kingdom's security concerns that the so-called Gaza-Jericho first plan could lead to an Israeli-engioeered Palestinian influx to the East Bank. . .

The scenario, according to this line of thinking, involves the possibility of Israel expelling whoever it sees as "undesirable" to Jericho from other parts of the occupied West Bank. These peo-ple would be compelled to cross to the East Bank because of limited living condi-

"Once they cross to the East Bank, it is easy for Israel to deny them reentry to the West Bank if it (the Jewish state) is in sole control of the hridges," a senior official noted last week.

What does that mean except a de facto expulsion of Palestioians to the East

But Prime Minister Abdul Salam Al Majali said last week that the Israel-PLO accord "would oot hurt Jor-

"On the contrary, it will provide an opportunity for Palestinian refugees sioce 1967" to return to their bomeland, be said in an in-

"We will not hesitate to close the bridges (across the River Jordan) to prevent e Palestinian exodus into Jordan (should that ever happen)," he said.

These opinions and views Majesty King Husseio extended unequivocal endorsement for the Israel-PLO agreement, which be said went beyond all published accounts.

The King, in a press conference where be weclomed the plan as the beginning of a process which would bopefully lead to a comprehensive settlement of the Arab-Israeli conflict, said Jordan did not bave any plan to close the

Commeots in the local press, based on the "security fears" of a Palestinian influx, the King said, were the reflection of a free press in democratic Jordan and do not reflect government think-

There is "no plan to close the bridges and I hope there will be no reason in the future to do so," the King said.

U.S. Rangers raid Aideed stronghold

Combined agency dispatches

MOGADISHU - Two U.S. Army Rangers were slightly wounded Tuesday in a pre-dawn airborne assault on a suspected command and control centre of fugitive warlord Mohammad Farah Aideed.

About 50 of the elite soldiers stormed a dozen buildings within a walled compound the size of a a wated compound the size of a city block, engaging in several brief exchanges of gunfire with armed Somali guards. Two Somalis escaped after being wounded and 17 others were captured and detained for questioning, said Captain Tim McDavitt, a spokesman for the U.N.-led multinational force in

The wounded soldiers were not identified, but Capt. MeDavitt said one was treated and released from a military hospital and the other was expected tobe released later in the day. Capt. McDavitt and other officials would oot say whether General Aideed was believed to be in the compound at the time of the raid, but acknowledged that no high officials of the warlord's faction were among the de-

Troops have been trying to hunt down Geo. Aideed since June, when his fighters killed 24 Pakistani soldiers in an ambush. On Sunday, seven Nigerian sol-diers were killed in an amhush blamed on Gen. Aideed's forces. In Nigeria, the government on Tuesday rejected calls from human rights groups to withdraw its troops from the U.N. contingent.
"It is part of the sacrifice that Nigeria has always made for the peace of the world," said military spokesman Fred Shijuka, adding that four officers were leaving immediately for Somalia to investigate the deaths.

Tuesday's raid underlined how a barefoot army of unruly Somali

(Continued from page 1)
held up by problems including bow to get around articles in the PLO Charter that call for an armed struggle against Israel.

Recognition would be followed

In an interview with the Cairo daily Al Ahram, Mr. Arafat was asked if he were ready to scrap

the offending clauses in the PLO

"It's not io my capacity. It's in the capacity of the PNC (Pales-tine National Conocil)," he

Foreign ministers of the GCC

(Continued from page 1) .

But signs have been growing in recent days that the administratioo was increasing its involvement in the Israeli-Palestinian track. One indication was Mr.

Clinton's offer to host the signing of the agreement at the White

Mr. Clinton also sent letters on Mooday at a meeting in Riyadb backed the antonomy answered.

by the signing of an agreement for Palestinian self-rule in Gaza gunmen is taunting the bigh-tech military might of the 28-nation force of 25,000 men deployed Michael Jackson arrives in Japan against them. It followed a similar attack last week in which the Rangers mis-takenly assaulted a U.N. compound and arrested foreign U.N. workers for interrogation.

The latest operation began under cover of darkness at 2.30 a.m. (2330 GMT) as the halfruined city of Mogadishu slept. The Somali National Alliance, Gen. Aideed's political wing, said: "Five unarmed civilians were killed. 14 wounded, 18 people kidnapped, a lot of people were tortured and molested badly and there was destruction of substantial properties."

Italians delay pullout

Italy agreed Monday to delay its pullout from Mogadishu after the death of seveo Nigerian troops, an incident that shar-pened Rome's rift with Washington over peacekeeping efforts in

The last few hundred troops part of a 2,400-member Italian contingent, were to be out of Mogadishu by Tuesday but will now stay indefinitely as a result of a U.N. request, an army spokes-man said oo condition of anony-

Defence Minister Fabio Fabbri rejected charges his troops failed to help the Nigerians, members of a more-feared contingent who were attacked as they prepared to replace the Italians.
Italy also replaced its comman der in Somalia oo Monday afternoon, saying it was a normal rotation. But the move followed calls by U.N. and U.S. officials that General Bruno Loi be removed for opposing a U.S.-led get-tough policy.

Gen. Carmioe Fiore, who assumed command, has praised Gen. Loi's work.

accord, paying the way for crucial financial backing.

The United States bas proposed a $590-million fund for the Israeli-occupied territories, a marked plan in which the GCC.

marshal plan, in which the GCC

a neutral role in Arab disputes, notably when it maintained diplomatic ties with Cairo after the 1979 Egyptian-Israeli peace treaty, when other Arab states se-

Mr. Arafat was not expected to visit other GCC members after

Oman but would brief Suitan

Qaboos on the "Gaza-Jericho first" deal and ask him to mediate and giving his personal commit-ment to the breakthrough agree-

The president said he hoped in could be a catalyst for comprehensive peace agreements by

Syria, Jordan and Lebanon with

Syriao Foreign Minister Farouk Al Sharaa said Monday

there had been "no progress" at the peace talks beteen Israel and people" working for the corpora-

"We try to ease the practicabil-

Israel in 1993.

an end to the currect rift.

A Gulf-based PLO envoy said

Muscat has always tried to play would pay $100 million.

vered relations.

Arafat seeks to heal Gulf rift

Delegates await Israel-PLO accord

11-year-old escapes after bus stop abduction battled to hold back about 200

shricking fans as Michael Jackson arrived in Japan Tuesday on the final leg of his ill-starred Danger-ous Asian concert tour. Despite the bad publicity surrounding child abuse allegations which has dogged him on previous stops in Thailand, Singapore and Taiwan, Jackson's Japanese fans made clear that, for them, their idol could do no wrong. A handful of teenaged girls in the crowd outside Fukuoka Airport in western Japan wept hysterically as the pop superstar walked to a waiting bus, clad in his trademark black fedora, dark glasses and a black and red jacket with a Peter Pan emblem on the back. Jackson, who is to give two sell-out con-certs at the gigantic Fukuoka Dome Friday and Saturday, ich town almost as fast as he entered

it. The bus he boarded headed off on the 21/2-hour trip to Nagasaki, where he was to visit a Dutch theme park which commemorates early Dutch trading links with feudal Japan.

NEW SALEM, Pa. (AP) - An 11-year-old girl was abducted from a school bus stop at knifepoint and tied op in woods until she wriggled out of ropes and ran to freedom, police and relatives said. Cassie Pennington made it to a bouse and called her parents, state police said. She was last seen Friday when she left home in driving rain to walk to the bas stop. She never boarded the bas. Family members said they didn't realise she was missing until school let out in the afternoon. Over the weekend, about 100 volunteers huoted along roads and through woods and aban-doned buildings for signs of the girl. A reward fund was set up. Police released few details of the abduction, but relatives of the girl said she told them a man drove up to the bus stop and forced her into the car with a knife. He drove several miles and left ber tied up in woods, said a grandmother, Ruth Penningtoo. No

Lithuanian president hospitalised

VILNIUS (AFP) — Lithuanian Presideot Algirdas Brazauskas was bospitalised after suffering from gall bladder problems, officials announced. Mr. Brazauskas, 60, entered bospital Sunday morning for several hours and returned late Sunday for further medical tests, his press depart-ment said Monday. It was not immediately known how long Mr. Brazauskas would stay in hospital. Because of his health problems the president had been unable to attend an open-air mass read by visiting Pope John Paul II in Vilnius' Vingis Park Sunday.

Japan centenarians number 4.802

TOKYO (AFP) — The number of Japanese centenarians increased by 650 in the past year to a record 4,802, of whom 80.4 per cent or 3,859 were women, the Health and Welfare Ministry said Tuesday. The oldest was Tane Ikai, a 114-year-old woman who lives in the central Japanese city of Nagoya, followed by 113-year-old Hide Ohira from western Japan's Wakayama prefecture. Of the 20 oldest, aged 108 or more, only one—a 108-year-old Genkan Tonaki from Okinawa was a man. The oumber of centenarians has surged 31.4 fold since the survey began in 1963 and tripled in the last decade. The survey covered those who were expected to be 100 or older on Sept. 30, and released ahead of the Respect For the Aged Day, a national holiday on Sept. 15.

$46m pledged for muscular dystrophy telethon

LAS VEGAS, Nevada (AFP) -A record $46 million in pledges was collected for research to fight muscular dystrophy in the 28th annual telethon hosted by comedian Jerry Lewis. The 211/2-hour Labour Day Telethon that ended Monday included appearances by stars including country music singer Garth Brooks, pianist and singer Ray Charles, actress Lynn Redgrave and singer Wayne Newton. In addition to the $46 million, $36.8 million was pledged by corporate sponsors, telethon officials said. Lewis, 67, has helped raise more than $1.3 billion for the Muscular Dystrophy Association for Research on Neuromuscular diseases, said he was stung by criticism that he was playing on pity for the handicap-

Friday to Arab leaders urging them to support the accord visit from Mr. Assad soon to see Mr. Mnbarak in the Suez Canal city of Ismailia. It was the discuss the proposal. If you want a new telephone line, don't wait for TCC to provide it

Telephone corporation says supply cannot meet demand until $300m project is finished in 1997 By Kathrine Rath Special to the Jordan Times AMMAN — Turino Flat. o. Tel, JD2 million concern, was planned to open in November 1992 io Sweifieh, but has not. Al Ittihad fast growing Jordanian bank, has been mahle to open its new branch in Wasfi Tal street, even though it has been ready to do that for several onths now.

The newly licensed daily. "Akher Khabar" (the latest news), with officer near the Sport City Interchange, is roaring to get its firt editiion out, but cannot. These three enterprises are all faced with essentially the same problem: The lack of telephone lines. They are just an example of many more concerns suffering from the shortage of telephone lines in Amman. A construction project consisting of a hotel, restaurant and e-store, Turino will cater for tourists and businessmen alike. The management wishes to provide the guests with a high-quality service, including telecommunication facilities. It estimated that 15 telephone lines would be needed for a smooth operation of managing director, Raja F. Halazon, said.

Contact with the Telecommunicatioo Corporation (TCC) was first made ebout two years ago, Mr. Halazon told the Jordan Times in a recent interview. But in accordance with the rules, application for telephone lines can only be submitted when construction of the building is completed. In November 1992, the date originally set for the inauguration of Turino, the management sublines to the TCC and was given a slot on the long list of applicants. According to the director general of the TCC, Ahmad S. Nawawi, there is currently 5,000 applicants in west Amman alone here the shortage of lines is hardest felt, and approximately 160,000 in the whole country. In February/March 1993, the Turino management, encouraged by the government's declared policy of promoting tourism and tourist-oriented projects, sent a letter to the Prime Ministry informing it of the case and asking for help concerning its problems of telecommunication, the owner

The Prime Ministry forwarded the letter to the TCC with its own comments stating its objective of encouraging touristic projects in Jordan and indicating that it would appreciate a solution to Turino's telephone erisis. Although Mr. Halazon was hoping for at least an upgrading in the waiting list, nothing came out of the Prime Ministry's interven-

In times of shortages like these, the TCC accords priorities to certain establishments in accordance with the telecommunications act, Mr. Nawawi told the Jordan Times. The act comprises 23 categories. Tourist complexes rank as number 15 on the list after the Royal Palace, different government and local govern-ment agencies. United Nations mitted its request for telephone offices, embassies, hospitals, schools and news agencies. After submitting its written application, Turino, according to Mr. Halazon, "has never re-ceived anything in writing back from the TCC." It has been given several oral promises, though, one of which was for an overhead or open cable line as a temporary solution.

. Such cables can be seen stretched between buildings in several places in Amman, but due to problems related to repair and maintenance, the use of open cables has been restricted lately. Mr. Nawawi said. Consequently, Turino was back to square one.

Wasfi Tal Street, which is better known as Gardens Street, a fastly-developing commercial centre, is hard hit by the telephone crisis, and many new establishments have suffered delays because of this.

Al Ittihad Bank's new branch has been ready since last March, but the opening has had to be postponed as no phone lines have yet been made available to it. The last promise made to the management, according to a spokesman for the bank, is that it will be given half the number of lines it applied for by the end of this

Although the telecommunications act accords newspapers priority in times of shortage, "Akher Khabar," which needs at least ten telephone lines to operate, has been given only one, the publisher told the Jordan Times. There is actually a way to get upgraded oo the waiting list: If you are able and willing to pay three times the normal fee of JD140 per line. A Wadi Seer businessman paid JD500 for his telephone connection after having waited for two years. "As far as I know, I am the only one who has obtained a bne here (during this period)," be

According to Mr. Nawawi, numbers allocated to people on the priority list cannot in any case exceed 25 per cent of the available lines.

The Turino management has lately been given a promise for one line, Mr. Halazon told the Jordan Times that be "was so desperate" to secure telecommunication facilities for his establishment, and said he was "very thankful for the one line offered even though it does not provide a satisfactory solution to his prob-

Mr. Halazon also said that the TCC has tried to be helpful at times but that it seems that the corporation, like many other government agencies, is struggling with a heavy organisational structure and is suffering from exceessive "red tape" and, possibly, mismanagement.

The telephone crisis in Amman is not a completely new phenomenon. According to Mr. Nawawi, there has been a shortage of phone line for the past five years. The last expansion project undertaken by the TCC was completed in 1985, Mr.

Nawawi said. Due to lack of funds, however, nothing has been done since then to deal with the increasing shortage.

According to Mr. Nawawi, the TCC's annual revenues total JD115 million, with net profits of around JD70 million. With this, the TCC collects the second largest revenue for the treasury after the Customs Department. But, like all government agen-cies, the TCC is controlled by the Ministry of Finance, and its funds are allocated in the state budget.

The government recently agreed to finance a five-year programme which will provide Jordan with 250,000 new lines by 1997. The project, the cost of which is estimated at $300 million, will be put out on tender by the end of this year. Even though it is an open tender, Mr. Nawawi expected that the bid would be won by an international firm.

A small expansion project. which will be completed by the end of this year, will, according to Mr. Nawawi, provide west Amman with 5,000 new lines and ease the crisis in areas like Abdoon, Tla'a Al Ali, and

On problems related to TCC's organisational performance and procedures, Mr. Nawawi said that any existing weaknesses in the organisation were due to "the laws and restrictions, not the

He was referring to the laws and regulations that govern the TCC activities and organisation as well as its relationship to the ity concerning the services to the public," he said, adding that there was a need for a "relaxation in the law." He did not elaborate. In a bid to improve the national economy, Prime Minister Abdul Salam Al Majali has, on several occasions, expressed his govern-ment's intention to facilitate the operation and development of private businesses. The prime minister has also called for the decentralisation of public admimistration and has said that the government is planning to update the laws and regulations of the official departments. At a recent meeting with a group of husinessmen representing the commercial sector in Jordan, the prime minister assured them the the government is in the process of "raising the efficiency of the public administration ser-The services provided by the TCC are crucial to anyone who wants to conduct business, and if the government wants to encourage the private sector by improving official performances, the TCC seems like a good place to start," a businessman said.